LANDON TELLS HOW G. O. P. MAY GO TO VICTORY

Governor of Kansas Hits Experiments.

The Election

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—In a speech which is expected to be regarded as a preliminary bid for the Republican nomination for President, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas tonight condemned experiments in the industrial and governmental structure of the country. He addressed the Ohio Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting here.

Although his visit was described as non-political and he declined to discuss national politics, his speech was an exposition of the business theories and political philosophy on which the Republicans plan to base their appeal to the country next year.

Landon called for a "pay as you go" policy of government financing, advocated a leadership that would keep the country out of the "jitters" by rejecting unsound proposals, and declared that the country needs "sound common sense administration" in place of "more laws, more programs, more experimentation."

Warns Against Fascism.

He warned against Fascist innovations, citing countries "where civil liberties have been yielded in return for economic security without gaining economic security."

Landon, discussing Kansas' financial affairs, denied the recent charge of Harry L. Hopkins that Kansas "has never contributed a thin dime toward unemployment relief." He said Kansas ranked fifteenth among the states in the percentage of non-federal funds used for relief in the last two years.

Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio gave the welcoming address. Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey spoke on the constitution.

Essential Services Kept.

Landon's speech was marked by the dispassionate manner in which he discussed problems and his complete absence of flag waving.

Saying that in Kansas frills have been cut out but essential services maintained, he said:

"We all admit that our modern industrial state is complicated and far from the simple structure of our founding fathers. But does the fact that we have changed and grown make it wise to abandon out of hand the course which the wisdom of our forefathers charted for us? Not out of theories, but out of stern and bitter realities of economics and statesmanship.

"If the wind rips the roof off a house out in our country we don't tear down the walls also and abandon the whole structure. We put on a better roof, strengthening the parts we have discovered to be weak.

"Similarly we must not abandon what remains of our American institutions. Rather let us replace what is destroyed, rebuild what is torn away and in so doing strengthen our structure in every way that experience can suggest.

Pleads for Experience.

"This is common sense, horse sense, as we say in Kansas. Let us put experience, that greatest teacher of all, back in our governmental faculty."

The governor said that "Kansas has the record of complying promptly with every request of the national relief administrator and in coöperating fully in every way.

"We did not believe in putting relief in politics," he said. "We continued the relief administrator appointed by my Democratic predecessor, and he is on the job today."

He said that in 1933 and 1934 county and local governments of Kansas provided 30.6 per cent of the relief funds, while 27 other states were contributing less than 25 per cent of their own relief moneys.

Recalling that Kansas has been

Billy Sunday, Noted Evangelist, Dies

The Rev. William A. [Billy] Sunday, picturesque evangelist of the "sawdust trail," died of a heart attack last night in the home of his wife's brother, William J. Thompson, a florist at 1427 Morse avenue. He would have been 73 years old on Nov. 19.

Mr. Sunday had been in ill health since February of 1933, but had remained more or less active until Tuesday night, when he went to bed complaining of "pains."

The evangelist's wife, Mrs. Helen [Ma] Sunday, was with him at the end. She immediately telephoned their two sons, William A. Jr. and Paul T. Sunday, in Los Angeles.

Funeral Plans Await Sons.

The sons left for Chicago by plane. On their arrival this morning the funeral arrangements will be made. Two other children, Mrs. Helen P. Haines of Sturgis, Mich., and George Marquis Sunday of Lake Forest, died two years ago.

Mr. Sunday and his wife left their summer camp at Winona Lake, Ind., a week ago. On Oct. 27 Mr. Sunday preached his last sermon. It was in a Methodist church at Mishawaka, Ind. Mrs. Sunday said that 30 or 40 converts came up to the altar that Sunday night.

"Tonight I took Billy his dinner and even got him some special ice cream," Mrs. Sunday said. "He seemed all right. But suddenly at 8 o'clock he said, 'O, I feel so dizzy.' Then he died. I'm glad it came like that because Billy always used to pray, 'O Lord, when I have to go, please make it quick.'"

Born in Iowa in 1862.

William Ashley Sunday was born at Ames, Ia., Nov. 19, 1862, and after being graduated from high school at Nevada, Ia., studied at Northwestern university.

When he left the university he went first into professional baseball. In 1882 he was playing with a team at Marshalltown, Ia., when Adrian [Cap] Anson signed him as an outfielder for the old Chicago White Stockings of the National league.

Sunday's first major league season was in 1883. He played until the end of the season in 1890, first with the White Stockings and later with the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia National league clubs. He was noted as a speedy base runner but a comparatively weak hitter. His high record of stolen bases was 96 in 116 games, during 1890.

Converted Here in 1886.

Sunday was still playing ball for Chicago when one night in 1886 he dropped into the Pacific Garden mission at Van Buren and Federal streets. It was then that he experienced conversion.

In 1891 he was appointed a Y. M. C. A. secretary here and continued in that position until 1893, when he became assistant to Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, an evangelist. After three years of this Sunday launched into evangelism on his own account.

He was ordained a Presbyterian minister by the Chicago presbytery in 1903, but instead of taking a pulpit he continued his work as an evangelist. In 1912 he received the degree of doctor of divinity from Westminster college.

Apostle of Sawdust Trail.

It was not that Sunday presented anything new to his audiences, but it was the manner in which he delivered his sermons that made him take like wildfire wherever he appeared.

This flair for the spectacular it was that inspired his listeners to hit his far famed "sawdust trail."

He concentrated his heavy fire on "rum and the devil." He had an engaging stage way with him in the opening of his sermons. Then a dynamic and almost pyrotechnic outburst with voice and arms, pantherlike jumping about the stage and gestures that were hyperdramatic would sweep his hearers down the sawdust to his altar of conviction.

With his peculiar and compelling

ASTRONOMER FINDS 'WINDOW' AND PEEKS THROUGH MILKY WAY

Harvard, Mass., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Discovery of a "window" in the milky way through which the telescope of Harvard university's Oak Ridge observatory has found its way to unexplored realms beyond was announced tonight by Prof. Harlow Shapley, observatory director.

The opening, in the vicinity of the constellation Sagittarius, was described as a one degree square through which light from stars beyond the milky way is discernible.

Prof. Shapley described it as one of the most important "windows" of its kind and said there are only a few others, smaller, farther down the galaxy.

The discovery shattered the common belief, he said, that the milky way is entirely shrouded by interstellar dust, gases, and other substances.

Here Is One of Life's Real Key Problems

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Eligibility of football players usually is a topic reserved for sports pages. But the eligibility of one R. F. [Ted] Key is crowding news off the trunk lines of all the press associations. No one discusses election results in California. Nobody talks about the latest Hollywood sensation. All any one can argue about these days is the identity of the erstwhile U. C. L. A. star full back, R. F. [Ted] Key.

Tonight the arguments centered on whether Ted has scars on his shoulders. One report says he has.

It is not certain. In fact, nothing is certain just now about Full Back Key except that he is a sort of behemoth at smashing a line. He is Mystery with a capital M, and four days of pother by folks all over southern California and southwestern Texas still leave him about as well understood as the Man in the Iron Mask.

The Dean Is Befuddled.

Full Back R. F. [Ted] Key was not permitted to play with his team last Saturday because some one suggested he wasn't R. F. [Ted] Key at all, but Clois [Shorty] Key. R. F. and Clois are brothers, but Clois has already played out his term as a footballer with the Texas School of Mines at El Paso, and the U. C. L. A. authorities have held it would be unsportsmanlike for him to play some more here as a ringer.

Dean Earl J. Miller of the university, who was sent to Amarillo, Tex., the home of the Key clan, reported today he is getting a lot of information, about half of it indicating that R. F. [Ted] Key is R. F. [Ted] Key, and the other half indicating that he is one or two other fellows.

More Keys than a Jailer.

"No," said R. F. Key.

"Then there are two R. F. Keys," suggested the professor.

"At least," replied R. F. [Salesman] Key.

Next the dean interviewed Earl [Ox] Key, who used to play football for Southern Methodist university. Earl [Ox] said the R. F. [Ted] who was shattering lines for U. C. L. A. was in truth his brother, R. F. [Ted], and "eligible to play on anybody's team."

"The R. F. Key living in Amarillo is not Ted Key at all," said Earl [Ox]. "He is not a son of J. D. Key, but a son of R. I. Key, who is my uncle. R. F. Key, therefore, is my cousin. J. D. Key is my father and the father of the Ted at U. C. L. A."

"There are some other brothers," he added. "There's Clois, and Roy, and Otis. We all play football or have played it."

Off to Panhandle.

Dean Miller proceeded to Panhandle, Tex. He asked the superintendent of schools there about the credits which R. F. [Ted] presented when he entered U. C. L. A.

"He never went to this school," said the superintendent.

Over at Vernon, Tex., Mrs. Catherine Chapman, a high school teacher, looked at a picture of the line smashing U. C. L. A. full back.

"That's not R. F. [Ted]," she declared. "That's Clois [Shorty] Key. I know them both."

"Ah, me," said Dean Miller, softly.

Two Texas Tech players added their opinion that Full Back Key is Clois [Shorty].

Key! Key! Where's Key?

At Amarillo some high school teachers suggested the scar test. They said that Clois [Shorty] was stabbed in a street affray before he left there. It was their theory that if R. F. [Ted] has a stab scar then he is certainly Clois [Shorty].

That's where the student body got the idea it would be well to look at Full Back Key's back. They tried to do it, but the effort was a failure.

Full Back Key has disappeared.

KATHARINE HEPBURN'S MANAGER REMARKS HE'S HER HUSBAND

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A chance remark tonight by Leland Hayward, manager of Katharine Hepburn, lent credence to persistent reports he and the angular screen star have put their relations on a matrimonial as well as business basis.

Miss Hepburn, who has denied several times she is remarried, made a forced landing at the airport here in a plane piloted by her manager. The two were alone.

Hayward, irritated by the questions of field attachés, refused to answer, saying he was "not a celebrity or a screen star but only her husband."

After repairing the ship Hayward and the film actress, who secluded herself in a nearby house, took off for New York. Miss Hepburn was divorced from her former husband, Ludlow Smith, in 1934.

Gunmen Rob Congressman in Handbook

State and Madison streets, the "world's busiest corner," was thrown into an uproar late yesterday by the capture of a shotgun bandit, one of three men who had held up 25 patrons of a handbook in the Saratoga hotel, 27 South Dearborn street.

A few minutes after the robber was seized by several trafic policemen fifteen frightened men pushed their way through the throng of spectators and pointed out the prisoner as one of the holdup gang. They had pursued the robbers as the latter fled down a stairway of the hotel from the handbook in room 340.

Congressman Among Victims.

One of the fifteen was Congressman Thomas J. O'Brien, 4858 Washington boulevard, a Democrat who represents the 6th Illinois district. The congressman, witnesses said, appeared so nervous and shaken from his experience that for a few minutes he could not speak. Finally he pointed a finger at the prisoner and said:

"That's the man. That's the man all right. He had a shotgun. He robbed me."

"What robbery? What's it all about?" asked Trafic Policeman John Mahoney, who weighs 200 pounds. He had thrown his bulk on top of the robber as the latter stumbled and fell in front of a Madison street entrance of the Boston store.

Another white faced man pushed his way up to the policeman and whispered in his ear:

Prisoner Doesn't Believe It.

"It's a bum rap," muttered the prisoner, who identified himself as John Furlan, 27 years old, 3950 Ohio street. "I was just walking along the street and fell when this cop landed on top of my head."

Hugh J. Wells, 46 East Superior street, a taxi driver, identified Furlan, however, as one of the three men who after the robbery jumped into his cab in front of the McVicker's theater, 25 West Madison street, and threatened him with revolvers. Wells leaped out of the cab and so did his passengers. Trafic Policemen John J. Stanton and Patrick J. McDonald fired a round of shots at two of the robbers as they disappeared in an alley.

At the Saratoga hotel investigators met a wall of silence when they sought to learn details of the robbery from employés. Maurice Ebert, the hotel manager, said nothing was wrong. Room 340 is rented by the day to Jack Cohen, he said.

Handbook Run by Singer.

It was learned, however, that the handbook is run by Rudolph Singer, a loop gambler. Three years ago two robbers held up Singer's handbook in room 436 of the hotel, but were caught by policemen and later were sentenced to prison.

Complaints listing the amounts of losses in yesterday's robbery were signed at the detective bureau by the following: Singer, $300; Al Bald, 3424 West 12th place, $10; Burns, who gave 1244 Independence boulevard as his address, $20, and George Brown, 1136 North Francisco avenue, $40. The man who gave the name of Brown is said to be Max Hirsch, another loop bookmaker. All these complainants refused to discuss the robbery.

From other sources it was learned that 25 men were in room 340 when the holdup occurred. The robbers compelled all the occupants of the room, including Congressman O'Brien, to lie on the floor and then systematically went through the pockets of each victim. One man—it was said to have been Hirsch—was struck on the head when he objected.

O'Brien Believed Heavy Loser.

Although there was no report to the police on Congressman O'Brien's loss, it was learned that the congressman, who owns two race horses, usually carries an amount of cash ranging from $1,000 to $1,500.

Singer is a widely known gambler in the loop. Since the city administration began its campaign against handbooks several months ago he has been operating under cover, it was said. Before that his gambling place was more pretentious.

Capt. George O'Connor of the Central police district declared he had no knowledge that a handbook was operating in the hotel. He said he would make an investigation.

2 WHO SET FIRE WHERE 10 DIED ESCAPE CHAIR

Chief Plotters Get Lightest Penalty.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

A jury in the Criminal court of Judge Joseph B. David last evening found Frank Vitale, 54 years old, and Joseph Di Chiari, 36 years old, guilty of causing the incendiary fire in which 10 persons lost their lives on Sept. 29. The jury fixed the punishment of the two at 99 years and 1 day each in the penitentiary.

The jurors thus saved the lives of the two prisoners. Judge David previously had refused to do this, declaring that if they pleaded guilty before him he would inflict the death penalty, something which he had never done on a plea of guilty.

Leaders Get Light Punishment.

The jury's verdict means that the two men actually responsible for the fatal fire which swept a three story tenement building at 558 Taylor street will receive a lighter punishment than the court had previously inflicted on Joseph Vitale, a minor figure in the arson plot. The latter pleaded guilty Tuesday and received a sentence of 199 years.

Defense Attorney Harry Weiner had begged throughout the trial to to be allowed to save his clients from the electric chair by permitting them to plead guilty. Judge David and the prosecution rejected these offers, asserting the death penalty was the only one which would suffice "in such a terrible crime."

Parole in 33 Years.

The penalty inflicted by the jury will make it possible under the present parole system for the men to be released in approximately 33 years. Joseph Vitale, the least responsible for the crime, can never live long enough to become eligible for parole.

Frank Vitale, according to the evidence, owned a grocery on the ground floor of the Taylor street building and plotted the fire to collect $3,000 insurance. Di Chiari is the man who actually touched off the fire, which was fed by 15 gallons of gasoline. The store was drenched with the fuel.

The blaze was set at 11 o'clock at night when the tenants—including many children—were in bed.

Joseph Vitale's only part in the crime was to act as go-between for his uncle in employing Di Chiari.

Amazing Court Spectacle.

A spectacle rarely seen in an American courtroom attended the sudden windup of the case at the morning session. The defendants, who admitted their guilt in the face of the overwhelming evidence against them, sought to take refuge in a personal plea to the jury—their constitutional right—but here they were blocked by the rigid rule of court procedure. They could allude to nothing that had not been brought out in evidence, and since testimony had been cut short there was almost nothing they could say.

After receiving the case the jury debated 3 hours and 20 minutes before deciding on its verdict. Loud talk could be heard from inside the jury room. It was thought for a time that the jury might be deadlocked over the penalty. Then, without warning, the jurors suddenly announced the verdict and the two defendants were brought into the courtroom.

Di Chiari Sick with Fear.

Di Chiari, a small man with mussed up black hair, had a sickly look on his face while he waited to hear his fate. Vitale, a much larger man with graying black hair, also seemed nervous, but did not show his fear so much as did his younger companion. It was five minutes before the verdict was read. The state asked that the jury be polled, an unusual thing. The jurors all stood by their verdict. It was indicated that the state had some information that at least one juror was coerced into signing the verdicts.

Vitale was asked by the judge if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced. His face lighted up as he was allowed to get from his chair and stand before the judge. He bowed low to the judge and said:

"I got to say thank you and thank the jury."

"Don't Thank Me!"

"Don't thank me," growled the judge as he imposed sentence, adding that the prisoners must spend one day each year in solitary confinement. Di Chiari stood mute when his turn came. Attorney Weiner asked permission to thank the jury, which had answered his plea for the lives of his clients.

"I don't allow juries in my court to be thanked," snapped Judge David.

Attorney Weiner announced he did not want to make a new trial motion. The question of the other nine murder indictments was then taken up. First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley, who came to court to assist Prosecutors John Boyle and Alexander Napoli, answered ready for trial.

"I will plead to all indictments if I can get the same consideration," said Attorney Weiner.

"The court feels that these men cannot be tried again," said Judge David. "This is the kind of a case where it is all one transaction, and I believe the court is compelled to rule that way. Once the men are convicted, I believe the law is such that it ends the case so far as all indictments are concerned."

Jury Finding Must Stand.

"The court has nothing to do with what the jury has found. That is their business. If the jury had inflicted the death penalty in this case the court would have promptly enforced it. The jury, however, in its wisdom, found otherwise. The court does not sympathize with these defendants. I have already stated I would have sentenced them to death."

Prosecutor Crowley, not to be outdone by the judge's loud talking, shouted he did not believe the "court was compelled to rule that way." He said each case was a separate crime. The judge replied if a petition is filed before him setting up "former conviction" he will pass on it in a way to forever end all the remaining indictments.

Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach was ordered to collaborate with Attorney Weiner in drawing up a petition. Prosecutor Crowley asked for time to look up law on the question and asked the judge if he had any Supreme court citations to support his position.

State to Fight Ruling.

"The court does not keep citations at his finger tips," said the judge. "But the court knows it is ordinary common sense."

"It is just as much ordinary common sense that they are ten separate cases," snapped Crowley, as the judge continued the other nine cases until Tuesday for legal authority.

In the meantime, the two defendants bowed low to everybody as they smilingly made their exits from the courtroom, protected from an angry crowd by practically all the bailiffs in the building. Mrs. Theresa Cappola, the brave mother who threw one of her babies out of a second story window, then jumped, while her husband and other four children were burning to death, led the incensed Italians who denounced the verdict.

"Death in the electric chair was the only punishment for those fiends," she said brokenly.

EX-CONVICT GETS SELF SHOT SO HE CAN FILE A SUIT!

The suspicions aroused Tuesday night when Lieut. Louis Klatzko recognized Dominick Zullo, 22 years old, 3226 Polk street, as an ex-convict, resulted yesterday in the discovery of an unusual plot to defraud the Yellow Cab company.

Zullo was shot in the right leg when he resisted the attempt of a gunman to rob him as he stopped in front of his home in the cab of Jack Raffe, 2107 South Avers avenue. Raffe took him to a hospital and notified the Fillmore police. Recalling Zullo's record, Lieut. Klatzko assigned Detectives George Armbuster and Fred Wright to investigate.

Zullo confessed to them that he and Albert Gambino, 23 years old, 1211 South 58th court, Cicero, planned to stage a robbery in which Gambino would shoot Zullo who would sue the cab company for damages, paying Gambino $150 in addition to his loot from the cab driver. Gambino was arrested last night.

Zullo was arrested in June, 1933, when he was named by Mrs. Bessie Opas as one of four men she hired to kill her husband, Marion, automobile sales agency owner. Mrs. Opas was tried and found guilty and was sentenced to a prison term, but Zullo was acquitted.

MORGENTHAU'S NIECE ARRESTED IN PICKET LINE

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Miss Josephina Wertheim, niece of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, was arrested in Brooklyn today while participating in a mass picket line of striking clerks of May's department store.

She is the daughter of Maurice Wertheim, senior partner of the international banking firm of Wertheim & Co. and a founder of the Theater guild.

Arrested with her were six other women, including four members of the League of Women Shoppers, of which Miss Wertheim is a director, and two striking clerks. All were charged with disorderly conduct.

The league's officials recently called on the management and, after a discussion of the dismissal and subsequent strike, decided to support the strikers.

SOCIETY DONORS JOIN FIERY ART SHOW DISPUTE

'Atrocious!' Seems to Be Majority Idea.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

A stir of protest among art patrons and others against the current forty-sixth annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture at the Chicago Art institute gained momentum yesterday.

Society women who are donors to the institute joined in the fray. Institute trustees, while defending the hanging of the paintings, attacked their subject matter, and Director Robert B. Harshe said tersely that he would say nothing at all. He added that he could not be expected to read the minds of the members of the jury who chose the paintings.

"Morals have nothing to do with it, but the paintings are trash," said Mrs. Frank G. Logan, 1150 Lake Shore drive, for years one of the chief patrons of art and struggling artists in Chicago. "I am incensed. After a visit to a museum one should have a glow, should be uplifted. But a sane person leaves this exhibit feeling the art world has the jitters or delirium tremens."

Calls Prize Canvas "Atrocious."

Mrs. Logan declared the painting which had won the Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan medal and $500, "Thanksgiving," by Doris Lee, "was atrocious." When she and Mr. Logan established a fund to provide prizes for worthy artists, to be selected by the institute, they trusted in the trustees' good judgment, she said.

"Next year I hope they have a jury of women.

"Last year, a painting, 'Pink House,' which won our prize, was on the bias. This year the 'Thanksgiving' is not four-square. It's out of focus.

"I defy any one to find more than six or eight normal pictures in the whole show," said Mrs. Logan.

Miss Kate S. Buckingham, member of an old Chicago family, and a donor to the institute, declared:

"I haven't seen the institute show and I don't want to. I don't intend to go, as from what I've heard it's so dreadful that I'd be too disgusted ever to go back to the institute. One newspaper said it was obscene and indecent, and of course that would draw the public."

One Patron Withdraws Legacy.

Mrs. Scott Durand of Crab Tree farm, Lake Bluff, declared that "the exhibition should be closed to the public," and that she had added a codicil to her will "receding my legacy of a large amount to be paid the Art institute upon my death, as long as the trustees have no better sense of true art."

Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson, one of the leading art patrons in Chicago, defended the exhibition. "Persons are judging it who have no right to judge it, until they have studied it," she declared.

"We don't have to like everything. That is not necessary, and if we say, without trying to understand what the artist wanted to show us, 'I don't like it,' we show our ignorance."

Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett declared the show represented "an appeal not to finer ideals in life, but to the baser elements."

Explains Institute Stand.

Chauncey McCormick, a vice president of the institution, explained that the Art institute "is trying to let the public see what is being painted."

"A newspaper doesn't indorse murder when it prints the news of a murder," he said. "We are recording the times, giving a cross-section of what is happening in art in America. We don't say we like or we don't like it.

"As a trustee I would feel unjustified in saying, 'I loathe this painting and want it down.' Realism alone is a poor excuse for art trends."

The exhibition is sponsored annually by the Art institute, the purpose being to present to the public "representative examples of the best American art of the year." The paintings chosen for the exhibition are selected by a jury named by the institute's director, and this year Director Harshe named Lloyd Garrison, art critic, Waldo Pierce, artist and Henry Barnum Poore, artist—all of New York—to sit as the jury.

More than 1,800 paintings were submitted.

NEW TROPICAL STORM MOVES ON GULF AREA

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Weather observers warned tonight that a tropical storm, moving through the Gulf of Mexico after scourging southern Florida, probably will turn inland again tomorrow.

An advisory issued at New Orleans tonight said its center probably will strike somewhere between the mouth of the Mississippi river and Apalachicola, Fla. There was no indication of the hour at which the blow might be expected.

The advisory placed the center tonight about 150 miles southeast of Port Eads, La., and said the storm was moving northwestward.

The bureau said dangerous winds would be limited to a small area. Observers here said there had been no report to indicate the disturbance still is of hurricane intensity.

The Bull Line freighter Elizabeth remained aground off Miami Beach. All but six of the crew were taken ashore by a coast guard cutter this afternoon.

ZOO POLAR BEAR TO GET NEW MATE FOR CHRISTMAS

Snowball, the female polar bear in the Lincoln Park zoo, will receive a new mate as a Christmas present, it was announced yesterday by Floyd S. Young, director of the zoo. The bear, which will be her third spouse, will be purchased for $350 in Germany through Louis Ruhe, New York animal dealer.

Snowball's first mate died on June 26, 1933. Her second, Silver, died in his pool at the zoo last June 10 after he was stunned by striking his head when Snowball playfully pushed him off a ledge into the water.

"Polar bears may be purchased in this country," Mr. Young said, "but the best animals are not for sale. I believe the German bear is an exceptional bargain."

Romance Is "Off"

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Asserting "I'm no gigolo," Francis Lucus, of Los Angeles, bank clerk, declared today his romance with Jean Parker, film actress, is over.

"Miss Parker is a swell girl," said Lucus, "but you can't gear a bank clerk's $65-a-month existence with the somewhat hectic life of a screen star earning more than fifty times that amount, and produce a smooth running matrimonial situation."

Miss Parker, who arrived in New York today from Europe, recently told friends here that there "is still only one love in my life, and he is Francis Lucus."

"I'm no gigolo," continued Lucus. "I'll pay my way and that of the girl friend, or I won't go. I haven't got a car. I help support my mother, and after buying a few clothes—well there isn't much out of $65 a month for entertainment."

CHICAGO TO GET CUT IN RATES OF FIRE INSURANCE

The Chicago Board of Fire Underwriters voted yesterday to reduce fire insurance rates within the city as the result of a large reduction in the paid fire losses during the first six months of 1935. While the percentage of reduction will vary with different policies, the move is expected to save owners of single and two family dwellings nearly $1,000,000 a year on new policies, said Jay S. Glidden, manager of the board.

The action was taken after the board officials had conferred with Mayor Kelly on his plans for further increasing the efficiency of the fire department and reducing future losses. The exact date the reduction will become effective will be announced soon, Mr. Glidden said.

According to totals compiled by the board, paid fire losses for the first six months of this year were $1,500,000, compared with $9,291,548 for the same period in 1934.

CHARGES LAVAL 'SPOKE A WORD' FOR STAVISKY

Retired General Names French Premier.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The name of Premier Pierre Laval today was introduced into evidence at the trial of 20 defendants allegedly involved in swindles with the late Serge Stavisky, head of the Bayonne municipal pawnshop.

One of the defendants, Gen. Joseph Bardi de Fourtou, dignified 75 year old retired army man, testified France's present premier "spoke to Judge Prince" in behalf of one of Stavisky's many companies.

[Judge Albert Prince, chief investigator of the Stavisky case, was mysteriously slain near Dijon Feb. 21, shortly after the scandal had been uncovered and two governments had fallen. He was to have testified in an investigation into the pawnshop scandal.]

Swayed by "Big Names."

Gen. de Fourtou asserted he had complete confidence in Stavisky "because so many prominent persons were mentioned in his affairs. The general is charged by the prosecution with having given "a celebrated name, a brilliant record of military service and a high position in the army" as strength to Stavisky's companies. The general's mention of political personages drew a lecture from the prosecutor.

Stavisky's costly plunges as a race horse owner and theatrical angel were described by another defendant, Henri Hayotte, manager of Stavisky's "Alex enterprises," which were ostensibly to operate jewelry stores. The prosecution charges its jewels were pawned for huge sums at Orleans. Several employés of the Orleans municipal pawnshop are on trial.

Hayotte denied he benefited from Stavisky's generosity, asserting he was penniless and his wife is in poverty. The prosecution claims Hayotte had deposited 8,886,222 francs [about $585,000] in less than two years.

Lost Money on Horses.

Hayotte testified that although Stavisky did not know anything about racing he purchased horses from Baron Maurice de Rothschild [a senator] "which did not win any races." Stavisky lost a million francs [about $65,900] in the production of two operattas, Hayotte said.

Georges Hatot, another defendant, accused of posing as the owner of fake emeralds Stavisky pawned for fancy sums, testified he never doubted the stones were genuine.

DEV-LIN CLOSES GAMBLING HOUSE AND MOVES OUT

All was dark last night behind the windows of the Dev-Lin, luxurious gambling house in Tessville. There was no click of the roulette wheel, rattle of dice, flip of a card, or the sound of a horse race bet, for the Dev-Lin, long immune from interference, was closed for good.

All night Tuesday trucks pulled up to the squat frame building, loaded up with roulette and crap tables and other gambling paraphernalia, and drove away. What had caused this change of heart on the part of the owners remained a mystery. Residents of the neighborhood said the joint received orders to close Tuesday afternoon.

Bill Johnson, well known gambler, a friend of Sherif John Toman, was the reputed owner. After pictures of the interior of the place were printed in THE TRIBUNE the Dev-Lin closed Aug. 25 and reopened soon after. A friendly raid by county highway police closed it again Oct. 18. Then it opened again last Friday.

TEN INJURED WHEN COACH OF LIMITED SIDEWIPES ENGINE

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Four persons were taken to Rochester hospitals and six others given first aid treatment for minor injuries late today after the observation coach of the New York Central's westbound Empire State express leaped the track, sidewiped a locomotive and tottered perilously near the brink of a 30 foot drop into Central avenue. The accident happened a few minutes after the express pulled out of the station here.

The impact flung a brakeman to the tracks, shook up the 15 passengers and showered them with shattered glass. Firemen raised ladders and carried the injured from the wrecked coach.

Hugh Reilly, 50, of Peekskill, the brakeman, was taken to a hospital suffering cuts and bruises. Others taken to hospitals included Mrs. Anna Fischer, 35, Utica, right leg injury; Arthur H. Williams, 31, Albany, back injury; W. R. King, 50, East Syracuse, head and knee abrasions.

COMMUNITY FUND RAISED $100,000 BY DAY'S PLEDGES

The Chicago Community Fund received $100,000 in subscriptions yesterday, bringing its present total to $2,110,000 in the campaign to raise $3,200,000. Pledges from employé groups were responsible for the large increase.

Among the contributions were $28,129 from the employés of the Commonwealth Edison company [in addition to $75,000 from the company, largest gift of the campaign], and $7,000 from employés of the Railway Express agency [90 per cent of its 3,000 employés contributed]. Other gifts:

$4,000—George Pick & Co.
$2,236—Ingersoll Steel and Disc company.
$1,464—Employés of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.
$1,000—Wilhartz, Hirsch & Schanfarber; Defrees, Buckingham, Jones & Hoffman; McKesson-Fuller-Morrison division of McKesson & Robbins, Inc. [plus $835 from employés]; James E. Bennett & Co., and Cooke, Sullivan & Ricks and employés.

The final report meeting of the trades and industries division of the campaign will be held at noon today in the Palmer house.

KINGSFORD-SMITH LANDS IN GREECE, HOPS FOR BAGDAD

TATOI, Greece, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, who landed here at 4:30 p. m. [8:30 a. m. Chicago time] in an England-to-Australia flight, took off at 6:45 p. m. for Bagdad. He flew from Lympne, England, in eight hours with no stop. "Everything is going well," the flyer said. "The weather all around is good, but bumpy in parts."

Tom Pethybridge, an Australian, is accompanying Kingsford-Smith in their Lockhead Spa monoplane. The aviator is trying to beat his own solo record from England to Australia and also to better the time of the Melbourne air race winners. He started for Australia once before, on Oct. 23, but was forced down a day later at Brindisi, Italy.

SWEITZER TO GO ON STAND TODAY IN OWN DEFENSE

State Rests with Story of Coal Bricks.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Robert M. Sweitzer, the ever smiling "Bob" of a thousand political rallies and picnics, is to make his appeal today to the jury in the Criminal court of Judge John C. Lewe, where the state is asking that he be sent to prison for withholding $414,129 of public funds from Michael J. Flynn, his successor in the office of county clerk.

The state's case against Sweitzer was closed at 2:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the defense began its task of proving that Sweitzer could not have had any criminal intent in withholding the money.

Character witnesses testified for the defense that the rotund and ruddy politician had a reputation for many years as an upright, honest, law abiding citizen. These witnesses included Circuit Judge Walter J. La Buy and Father Jerome Mulherin, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows church.

Defense Pleas Overruled.

Before the character witnesses went on the stand the defense sought to strike from the evidence all exhibits and testimony on the tax redemption fund of the county clerk's office, from which it has been shown that Sweitzer withheld at least $200,000. The argument here was that this was not a public fund for public purposes but a fund held by Sweitzer as trustee for individuals.

This defense motion was overruled by Judge Lewe, as was a motion to strike out evidence regarding the $200,000 in tax extension fee money that disappeared in Sweitzer's office in 1922. The defense argument was that as a criminal matter the statute of limitations barred consideration of this. The state contention here is that Sweitzer took $200,000 out of the redemption fund in 1926 to make good for the $200,000 that vanished in 1922. Additional items make up the alleged $414,129 shortage.

A general defense motion for a directed verdict of not guilty was argued by Attorney I. Harvey Levinson and will be ruled on this morning. There is no expectation that it will be granted.

Sweitzer Ready to Testify.

On the other hand, all preparations have been made for Sweitzer's appearance on the witness stand. There is little more to his defense than his own statement as to his actions and intentions, unless some surprise action is sprung.

County Clerk Flynn is to be called by the defense this morning and when his testimony is concluded Sweitzer is expected to go on the stand. Final arguments in the case may be reached by tomorrow.

The jurors had an opportunity to see something of Sweitzer's impressive past as a Cook county vote getter when the state introduced as a matter of form the official records of Sweitzer's elections since 1910. These commissions of office, attesting to his popularity with the public, were nicely sealed in gold and tied with red ribbon, and Sweitzer looked upon the scene with pride and confidence. He was "feeling fine," he said, and apparently was unworried over the ordeal that confronts him today.

Editor on Witness Stand.

The chief interest in the morning proceedings was the appearance on the witness stand of Florence J. McCarthy, managing editor of the Chicago American. He told of a meeting in his office Wednesday night, May 29, 1935, at which Sweitzer told the story of his shortage which was published the following Monday in the American. With McCarthy and Sweitzer at this session, which lasted until early in the morning, were Edward Reticker, city editor, and Charles E. Blake, reporter.

"Let's cut out the bunk and get the real story," was the prelude to the conversation, according to McCarthy.

"I said: 'Bob, where did the money go? How much did the politicians get—$200,000 or $250,000?'" McCarthy testified.

"Bob hesitated and said, 'No, they only got about $100,000.'

$100,000 to Political Friends.

"'Then you loaned $100,000 to politicians?' I asked him. He said this was loaned to political friends. I asked him if it was out of the tax redemption fund and he said 'Yes.' He said these friends were all right, they were good for it. I asked him if he had got anything back from them and he said 'No,' but he was sure they were good for it.

"I asked him where the rest went and he said he was interested in coal bricks, that several years ago he had met a great inventor who had a process to make briquettes. He said he advanced some money to this man and then he advanced more for further experiments. The total was possibly $200,000.

"I asked him if all this was taken out of the tax redemption fund, and he said it was not, that he had put in some of his own money. Sweitzer said the fund did not belong to the county, that it was a sort of no-man's fund, a vest pocket fund, that the law did not provide how or where to keep the money.

Inventor Dies; Widows Fight.

"Bob said that last Jan. 3 the inventor died in London and left two fighting widows and that on that account he could not get any of the funds back out of the estate."

An understanding was reached with Sweitzer, McCarthy said, that the story would be written for publication and that it would first be submitted to him. It was so written and submitted. Only one minor change was suggested by Sweitzer.

McCarthy's evidence was given to the jury only over the objections of the defense attorneys. When it came to cross-examination Attorney Benedict J. Short went into the story and picked out parts favorable to his client, to which McCarthy testified.

It was brought out here that Sweitzer had said he would have the money to turn over to Clerk Flynn, his successor, as soon as he had made his own audit and had found the correct amount. There was a difference of opinion, Sweitzer said, over his own records and those of Flynn's audit.

Wrongdoing Is Denied.

It was again stated that Sweitzer asserted the tax redemption money did not belong to the county at all but to individuals, and that he had not been wrong in taking it, that such action was not without precedent.

Sweitzer was quoted in the American article as saying he was willing to pay up $335,000 after the final audit, and could pay the full $414,000 if the county insisted. McCarthy also said in cross-examination that Sweitzer told of the clean and sober life he had led and said the shortage charges were all a campaign of political vilification.

The witness said that when asked about a cashier's cage fund shortage of $40,000, Sweitzer replied he did not know anything about that when he left office, but that he had paid it. Several persons were involved, he stated, and he had destroyed the checks and IOU's and would not permit any other man's reputation to be besmirched.

Report of Vanderbilt Marital Rift Brings Denials

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Reports that Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. and his third wife, the former Helen Varner, were planning a divorce were denied by Mrs. Vanderbilt and Max D. Steuer, Vanderbilt's attorney, tonight, but the Reno attorney who handled Vanderbilt's other two divorces said the Vanderbilts "have separated."

Steuer denied he made a statement in which he was quoted as saying Vanderbilt had written asking him to represent him "if there were a divorce."

At Reno, Samuel Platt, counsel for Vanderbilt in his two previous divorces, said he and his third wife "have separated."

Vanderbilt could not be reached for comment.

At the home of her mother in Clarksburg, W. Va., Mrs. Vanderbilt said:

"There has not been any mention of a divorce between us. I am sure neither my husband nor myself is contemplating any such action."

Vanderbilt's third marriage took place last January at Albuquerque, N. M. The present Mrs. Vanderbilt is 26.

6 FLYERS HACK PATH IN JUNGLE; REACH SAFETY

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An American pilot, Donald Cardiff, and his five passengers arrived today at Payo Obispo, Yucatan, after a six day struggle through 30 miles of jungles and swamps of southeastern Quintana Roo. Pan-American Airways disclosed that Cardiff, hacking his way with a machette, led the party to civilization, from a point near Lake Bacalar, 50 miles distant, where he made a forced landing last Thursday.

The tri-motor plane took off from Merida for Payo Obispo last Thursday. Less than an hour short of its destination, the plane's motors faltered and Cardiff managed to make a safe landing in a small, swampy clearing. For two days the party ate fresh vegetables which were part of the Plane's cargo, but after that they suffered constantly from hunger, thirst, and the torment of insect bites. Government planes had searched for Cardiff and the union of transport pilots expressed the belief at one time that the aviator had been kidnaped by Cuban revolutionaries.

TREASURER GILL REPORTS $6,344,262 TAX COLLECTIONS

A total of $6,344,262 in current 1934 tax payments and collections on delinquencies was reported yesterday by the county collector. The bulk of the collection represented tax payments received in the mails or made at the tax warant division during the rush of taxpayers before the Monday night deadline. Of the total, $4,221,085 was paid on 1934 real estate tax bills and $1,912,901 on 1934 personal property bills.

County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill at the same time distributed $2,000,000 in current tax revenues to the major local taxing bodies.

WIFE OF CHICAGO PASTOR IS KILLED IN INDIANA CRASH

Rev. James F. Clancy Is Critically Injured.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Clancy, 70 years old, was killed and her husband, the Rev. James Franklin Clancy, 73 years old, of 4356 South Union avenue, Chicago, was critically injured late yesterday when their automobile crashed into a truck on state road No. 6 twelve miles northwest of Valparaiso, Ind. James Given of West Liberty, O., driver of the truck, incurred a possible skull fracture.

The Rev. Mr. Clancy, who recently entered on his twentieth year as pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, at 43d place and Union avenue in Chicago, was driving home with his wife from their summer home at Flint Lake, Ind.

Car Leaves Road, Then Skids.

Their car passed two other motorists, went off the shoulder of the road, skidded, and collided head on with the truck.

Mrs. Theresa Rohr, 70 years old, 5 West Chicago avenue, died in the John B. Murphy hospital yesterday of injuries incurred on Oct. 16 when she was struck by an auto. Mrs. Louise Lowry, driver of the car, and her husband, Dr. Nelson H. Lowry, 534 Michigan avenue, Evanston, told the police Mrs. Rohr walked in front of their car at the outer drive and Belmont avenue.

Injuries Fatal to Painter.

William Davis, 45 years old, 1419 North Washtenaw avenue, a painter, died in the County hospital of injuries incurred on Tuesday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 2716 Division street. The driver of the car was Harold Hansen, 26 years old, 2233 South Hamlin avenue.

Other victims yesterday:

Joseph Blandrett, 73 years old, an inmate of the Oak Forest infirmary. Fatally injured by an automobile which was being driven north in Cicero avenue at 162d street. Frank West, 315 North Prospect avenue, Champaign, Ill., was the driver of the car.

Andrew Seidenspinner, 55 years old, 3239 North Ashland avenue. Died in the Alexian Brothers hospital of injuries incurred a few hours earlier when he was struck in front of 2973 Lincoln avenue by an automobile driven by John Steger, 2058 Dayton street.

Dr. Richard J. O'Connell, 66 years old, 7248 Morton avenue, a staf physician at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, suffered a fracture of the right shoulder last night when he was struck by a truck driven by Wallace Dietz, 1371 Estes avenue, at Ridge and Chase avenues.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 828 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. In that period 646 were killed and 14,815 injured in trafic accidents within the Chicago city limits.

ARMIES MASS TO BATTLE ITALIANS SOUTH OF MAKALE

[Copyright: 1935: By the Associated Press.]

AT THE FRONT WITH THE ITALIAN NORTHERN ARMIES, Nov. 6.—Natives of this occupied territory asserted tonight that vast armies of Ethiopians—"so many they can't be counted"—are massing for a pitched battle at Amba Alaji [forty miles south of Makale].

The armies, these native informants said, are under the leadership of Ras Kassa and the Ethiopian minister of war, Ras Mulugueta.

Italian forces cleaning up the territory around Hauzien, meanwhile, fought a vigorous engagement with Ethiopians which was ended when Italian Askaris, armed with sabers and bayonets, charged the hostile tribesmen.

Many Reported Killed.

Many Ethiopians were reported killed as they fled the hand to hand encounter. Two Italian officers were wounded, two native soldiers were killed, and ten Askaris were wounded.

Italy's regiments, due to resume their advance on Makale tomorrow, will capture "a deserted city," the natives also contended.

They said this after Italian scouts had reported the actual entrance into Makale of an advance patrol from the forces of Ras Gugsa, Emperor Haile Selassie's traitorous son-in-law. But they said only those natives adhering to Gugsa would be found when the main forces reached that objective city.

The rest of the populace, they claimed, followed the loyalists to Amba Alaji after what was described as a "bloody battle" between Gugsa's followers and those persons who remained faithful to Selassie when Gugsa declared for Italy.

Men, women, and children fled from Makale as the column of Gen. Ruggiero Santini approached from the north, the natives said, leaving only the sick and infirm. They intend to remain outside the city until they learn the intentions of the Italians, and especially those of Gugsa.

Claim Selassie in "Deal."

One native, questioned as to whether he was content to let the Italians invade his territory, said:

"We do not know what to say. We believe the negus [emperor] made an agreement with the Italians to take this territory peacefully so they will not take more."

Most of the natives apparently welcomed the fact that Gugsa had joined the Italians. They justified his action on the ground that Selassie gave to Ras Seyoum, the Ethiopian northern commander, territory around Adigrat which had belonged to Gugsa's father.

Gugsa's advance patrol hurried into Makale under cover of darkness last night, scouts reported. They were greeted "with enthusiasm" by the people, it was said.

An Italian flag, the scouts said, already is flying in Makale, although the city has not formally surrendered.

Ethiopians Claim Victory.

[Special to the London Daily Telegraph and the Chicago Tribune.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 6.—An official communique issued here today said an Italian reconnoitering party last night attempted to enter Makale, objective of the new Italian drive on the northern front, and was routed by the Ethiopians. It was declared that the Italians lost ten dead and four prisoners and the Ethiopians two dead and four wounded.

During the fighting along the Webbe Shibeli river on the southern front, the communique said, the Ethiopians brought down two Italian airplanes, one of which, loaded with bombs, exploded killing the occupants. The other was manned by four Italians, all of whom were killed.

The same communique related how an Ethiopian detachment, retreating, left one soldier to operate a machine gun. After discharging all his ammunition, he disabled the gun and fled. He will be decorated by Emperor Haile Selassie.

Moslem General Promoted.

The emperor has promoted the Mohammedan Gen. Omar Samater, who is reported to have led an Ethiopian force in a fight near Scillave in the south yesterday. Samater served with the Italian army in Italian Somaliland, but deserted after killing one of his officers. Entering Ethiopia, he formed his own army of Somalis. His surrender was one of Premier Mussolini's conditions for settlement of the Ualual border incident of last December.

The emperor has decided to take Father Gabreab with him to Dessye, a troop concentration point north of the capital, as his personal confessor. Gabreab will hear the emperor's confession regularly while at the front, administer holy communion and grant absolution to the entourage of the king of kings just as Hebrew prophets did in the name of David.

ETHIOPIAN EMPEROR PLEADS FOR U. S. TO JOIN BAN ON ITALY

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie suggested today that the people of the United States associate themselves with the league of nations' program of sanctions against Italy. The Ethiopian monarch's appeal was rebroadcast through the United States.

Selassie said he had received many requests from Americans for permission to assist Ethiopia.

"I ask no one," declared the emperor, "to take the sword against Italy. But the time has come, the opportunity is here for the masses of Americans, whom I know desire peace, to help league efforts toward conciliation."

Search for 2 Steamers, 27 Aboard, on Lake Winnipeg

GIMLI, Man., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Searching parties started by dog team today along the west shore of Lake Winnipeg in an effort to locate and rescue crews of two missing fishing steamers, the Luberc and Luana, with 27 men aboard. Unreported for 14 days, both boats were believed held fast in the lake somewhere by the early freeze-up.

BOARD ARRANGES TWO WEEKS' PAY FOR TEACHERS

The school board voted yesterday to transfer $2,456,068 from its working cash fund to the educational fund in order to meet teacher payroll requirements for the first half of November. James B. McCahey, board president, said the sale of $1,400,000 in 1935 educational fund tax warants and the education fund balance would enable the board to meet the payroll for the last half of November. He pointed out that yesterday's action completely drains the working cash fund and that the $1,400,000 sale of warants will bring the sale of 1935 warants to 56½ per cent of the tax levy, the amount agreed upon with purchasing banks.

There are no funds available for the December teacher pay roll, McCahey said, unless Gov. Horner agrees to call a special session of the legislature to consider the school board's request for $2,384,256, owed by the state as its share of educating deaf, blind, crippled and delinquent children.

PROOF EH? HANS HAS NO TROUBLE GETTING PLENTY!

Last Saturday Engval Hans Hansen, 55 years old, 901 West 119th street, testified in his divorce suit against Mrs. Margaret Hansen, 11942 Union avenue, before Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan that his wife hit him on the head with a hammer, a club, and a bread knife, and threw a milk bottle at him. The court ruled, however, that Hansen's unsupported statement was insufficient for a decree.

Yesterday Peter Stoller, 16 years old, 702 West 120th street, took the stand for Hansen and told of his wife's appearance at a baseball game in February, 1934.

"Mrs. Hansen chased her husband across the diamond," Stoller said, "and hit him across his back with a broom handle."

"That's enough," Judge Finnegan said. "Decree granted."

First Murder Reported in Ethiopia as Result of War

MOJJO, Ethiopia, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The first murder reported in Ethiopia as a result of the Italo-Ethiopian war occurred today in this railroad town, 35 miles east of Addis Ababa. Irate Ethiopians stabbed to death a Cretan, Yani Tchanokos, because he was reported to have said it would be a fine thing if the Italians conquered Ethiopia.

POLAND YIELDS TO PADEREWSKI NOTE; OMITS BIRTHDAY FETE

WARSAW, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Poland did not celebrate the 75th birthday today of one of its most distinguished sons, Ignace Jan Paderewski, because such a proposal was "extremely unpleasant" to the pianist-statesman. Plans for a ceremonious observance of the day were dropped at the written request of Paderewski, who left Poland in 1920 and has not returned. The musician, who was bitterly criticized when he was premier in 1919, sent a letter from his manor in Switzerland asking the cancellation of all preparations.

"I have learned that a group of prominent persons and people well disposed to me wish to observe my birthday," he wrote. "I am deeply moved by this kind remembrance, but I confess that I do not understand it. Long life is not a merit but an ordination of Providence. Whatever I have done in the service of my motherland I did for great love of my country and from the feeling of duty.

"I did not expect, nor do I wish, any reward. Any appeal to the nation to participate in commemorating my birthday will be extremely unpleasant to me. I have never troubled my countrymen and I do not wish that they should be bothered now on my account."

MEXICAN BANDITS FIRE HOUSE; KILL 3 AS THEY FLEE

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A bandit group set fire to a house near Rio Blanquillo early today and, firing on the residents when they fled, killed three persons and wounded several others, reports reaching here tonight said.

Report Police Officer Lynched.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Dispatches to the newspaper El Dia reported today that 20 residents of the village of Hercules, Queretaro, lynched Jeronimo Paz Garcia, local police official and bodyguard of former Gov. Saturnio Osornio.

The same newspaper stated that followers of Osornio fired on a meeting of Agrarians in the village of El Nabo, wounding five and capturing 30 farmers.

MUSSOLINI ACTS TO STOP TROOP MOVES TO AFRICA

Orders 7 Ships Released from Transport Service.

[Special to the London Daily Telegram and the Chicago Tribune.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Nov. 6.—As conferences continued today looking toward the easing of Anglo-Italian tension in the Mediterranean, Premier Mussolini ordered seven ships which have been transporting troops to East Africa returned to private service. The order was interpreted as indicating that Il Duce plans to bring troop shipments to Africa to an end.

It is estimated that 290,000 troops have been taken to Africa for the Ethopian campaign. Including the garrisons already there, Mussolini is believed to have at least 350,000 men on the Ethiopian fronts and in Libya.

Anti-British Outbreaks Stop.

Though the greatest secrecy was preserved about the conversations today between Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador here, and Count Charles de Chambrun, French ambassador, it is understood that they were a sequel to the British envoy's long talk with Il Duce yesterday on Anglo-Italian relations.

There has been no recurrence of anti-British demonstrations in Rome. The chief of the metropolitan police, it was announced tonight, has been retired and his place has been taken by an official from Florence. Although no reason was given for his retirement, it is rumored that he incurred displeasure by allowing the recent student anti-British demonstrations to continue.

The twin propaganda campaign for public economy and a boycott of league "sanctionist" goods continues. The newspaper Tribuna today directed its heavy guns against tea rooms and tea.

Change Bills of Fare.

"Tea rooms, the resorts of elegant ladies and idlers, have their places in the life of a great city," it admitted, "but let them serve no more tea. Let us leave this beverage to British palates. Most of the tea is produced in British colonies and even what comes from China is grown on British plantations.

"Italian tearooms are changing their bills of fare. They are offering a 'tasty Eritrean herb' instead of tea. Coffee, which comes from Brazil, 'a state outside the perfidious league' is permissible and so is 'punch'. If tea room idlers do not like these beverages, so much the worse for them."

A vegetarian nation is an ideal put forward by the newspaper Lavoro Fascisti in its zeal for meatless days. "Meat eating," it says, "is the cause of most human ills, especially senile decay."

BRITAIN DEMANDS ITALY RECALL 3 LIBYA DIVISIONS

Wants Radio Station Curbed, Too.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The British terms to Premier Mussolini for "easing the tension in the Mediterranean," that is, withdrawing part of the British fleet, are:

FIRST—Premier Mussolini must withdraw three of the highly mechanized regular army divisions he sent to the Libya-Egypt border around Sept. 1.

SECOND—The Italian radio station at Bari, Italy, must cease its anti-British broadcasts in Arabic aimed, it is alleged here, to stir up the Mohammedans against British rule.

Menace to Alexandria.

Unless Il Duce concedes these two points, not a single unit of the British navy will be withdrawn it was alleged here tonight, following a digest by the cabinet members of a report on the conversations between Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, and Mussolini in Rome yesterday.

It was revealed that the British considered Mussolini's dispatch of the three divisions to Libya as a direct menace to Alexandria, 250 miles over the sands. Regarding the Bari radio broadcasts, it is revealed, the British go so far as to charge Italian propaganda with stirring up the recent Hindu attacks against the British on the northwest frontier and having aims of turning the Moslems, too, against the British.

Broadcast in Greek.

The Bari station also broadcasts in Greek. England is credited with a plan to induce the Greeks to afford naval bases in the Greek islands to the British fleet so as to make the Italian bases in the Ægean sea and Dodecanese islands untenable as soon as King George II. is restored to the throne in Athens.

The Italian naval experts, Admiral Biscia and Commander Margottini, went to the foreign office this afternoon for talks with R. L. Craigie and Capt. Danckwerts, British naval experts, about the Mediterranean.

GERMANY SIDES WITH LEAGUE ON ITALIAN BOYCOTT

Hitler Promises to Bar War Profiteering.

GENEVA, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Germany told the league of nations tonight she will permit no war profiteering whatever in the reich.

An official league communique disclosed Adolf Hitler's decision to stamp out all speculation in products which Germany is convinced are destined for either Italy or Ethiopia.

League officials and many delegates saw the reich's action as a serious blow to Mussolini. They interpreted it as meaning the nonmember reich will do nothing or permit nothing to balk Geneva's efforts to bring quick termination of the African war.

Learns of Profiteers.

The communique said the committee of eighteen, through the league secretariat, had been informed that Germany has learned certain persons, both Germans and foreigners, were purchasing goods in the reich with the probable intention of selling them to belligerents at a large profit.

Unofficial sources said they were purchased for exportation to countries other than Italy or Ethiopia, the idea being that they would reach the belligerents, mainly Italy, through these other countries.

"The German government, therefore," said the communique, "proposes shortly to issue a decree to render such speculation impossible."

Compared with U. S. Attitude.

League officials saw in Germany's attitude a certain similarity with that of the United States, which officially has sought to discourage war profiteering. Moreover, these officials read into Hitler's decision a warning to Mussolini that he cannot count upon German support or upon an unlimited German market to supply him with the sinews of war.

The committee of eighteen created a special general staf today which will watch over all problems connected with the application of sanctions against Italy. The group includes Russia, Spain, Poland, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, Greece, Sweden, Turkey, and Switzerland, and it will hold its first meeting after the general boycott of Italy is launched Nov. 18.

A resolution also was adopted to allow each exporting state to take such measures as it may deem necessary "to verify by all means in their power the destination of such products" as are exported.

The dominant idea behind this resolution was that if the exporting nations believe their products are being diverted to Italy they will take appropriate preventive steps.

Nazis Confirm League Report.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Official quarters in Berlin confirmed Geneva reports tonight that Germany has informed the league of nations of her willingness to coöperate with the league in barring war materials from Italy. The foreign office said Germany will "in no wise conflict with the four league sanctions."

This is interpreted to show that Reichsfuehrer Hitler is continuing efforts to win British sympathy.

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN DUNN FIGHT FOR ZULU LANDS

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, Nov. 6.—(AP)—John Dunn's descendants came to a native court today to argue over division of the vast Zulu territory granted the English adventurer for his assistance to the English in 1879.

Involved tribal customs and geneology complicated the settlement, which has been pending for years. Dunn's descendants are reported to number at least 79. The Englishman adopted native customs and had 40 wives at one time when he and 12 chiefs ruled the southeastern territory.

Each descendant is to receive 100 acres of land under the provisions of the Dunn land distribution act passed by the union parliament.

DUTY OF NATION TO SEEK PEACE, HULL DECLARES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—It is the duty of the United States to use its influence "in any appropriate way" to bring about the peaceful settlement of wars between other nations, Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared in an address prepared for delivery over the radio tonight.

Because the secretary is resting in Greenville, N. C., his speech was read by Undersecretary of State William Phillips.

"Our foreign policy would indeed be a weak one if it began or ended with the announcement of a neutral position on the outbreak of a foreign war," declared the secretary. "I conceive it to be our duty and in the interest of our country and of humanity not only to remain aloof from disputes and conflicts with which we have no direct concern, but also to use our influence in any appropriate way to bring about the peaceful settlement of international differences.

For Twofold Policy.

"Our own interest and our duty as a great power forbid that we shall sit idly by and watch the development of hostilities with a feeling of self-sufficiency and complacency when by the use of our influence, short of becoming involved in the dispute itself, we might prevent or lessen the scourge of war," he stated.

"In short, our policy as a member of the community of nations should be twofold—first, to avoid being brought into a war, and, second, to promote as far as possible the interests of international peace and good will. A virile policy tempered with prudent caution is necessary if we are to retain the respect of other nations and at the same time hold our position of influence for peace and international stability in the family of nations.

"In summary, while our primary aim should be to avoid involvement in other people's difficulties and hence to lessen our chances of being drawn into a war, we should, on appropriate occasions and within reasonable bounds, use our influence toward the prevention of war and the miseries that attend and follow in its wake. For, after all, if peace obtains problems regarding neutrality will not arise."

Embargo Not Enough.

While the President has issued a proclamation placing an embargo upon the shipment of arms, ammunition and implements of war to either Italy or Ethiopia, such an embargo is not "a complete panacea," Secretary Hull asserted.

"Any discussion of the avoidance of war or of the observance of neutrality in the event of war, would be wholly incomplete if too much stress were laid on the part played in the one or the other by the shipment, or the embargoing of the shipment, of arms, ammunition and implements of war," he declared. "The shipment of arms is not the only way, and, in fact, is not the principal way by which our commerce with foreign nations may lead to serious international difficulties. To assume that by placing an embargo on arms we are making ourselves secure from dangers of conflict with belligerent countries is to close our eyes to manifold dangers in other directions. The imposition of our arms embargo is not a complete panacea and we can not assume that when provision has been made to stop the shipment of arms, we may complacently sit back with the feeling that we are secure from all danger."

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 6.—An extraordinary incident occurred here today when Col. Hubert Julian, known as the Black Eagle of Harlem, American colored flyer, who is in the Ethiopian service, fainted in the council chamber of the palace.

Julian was hoping for an audience with Emperor Haile Selassie to discuss his contract. Arriving at the palace he was given a letter from the emperor, the contents of which apparently were most disturbing.

After walking up and down and gesticulating for some minutes, he broke down completely and fell unconscious. Revived, Julian sat for some minutes violently sick. A doctor announced the attack was not serious.

PASTORS' CLASS RAIDED BY NAZI SECRET POLICE

Names of Students and Teachers Filed.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The Protestant church feud flared anew today when the GSP [secret police] ousted students of theology who assembled in a Dahlem building to attend seminary courses of the Confessional synod pastors. Dahlem is a Berlin suburb.

The names of the students and professors were carefully registered by the GSP and Confessional circles fear they will again be threatened with arrest.

The action of the GSP follows that of the schutzstaffel [picked guards] which detailed 120 men yesterday to raid the Burckhardt Haus in Dahlem, home of a Protestant women's organization, looking for the seminary.

Seeks "Freedom of Creed."

The Confessional pastors decided to open seminaries in Berlin and Barmen at their recent Augsburg synod because many professors of theology have been ousted from the universities by Minister of Culture Bernhard Rust in the course of the past month and have been replaced by theologians who teach the Nazi version of the Protestant religion. The synod felt their young pastors must be trained by professors who "believe in freedom of creed and the ideals taught by Martin Luther."

The Confessional pastors assert that when Church Minister Hans Kerrl took over the responsibility for church peace they approached him and were given to understand he had no objections to Confessional seminaries. Then a week ago, when the seminary was to start its consecration service, it was forbidden to do so by the GSP, and the faithful were not allowed to enter the church.

Last Sunday the Confessional pastors of Dahlem tried to consecrate members of the seminary after the service, but this, too, was forbidden, and the consecration was held secretly.

The Barmen Confessional seminary, at which Prof. Karl Barth was to teach before he was ordered to leave Germany, closed yesterday.

To Swear in Conscripts.

Berlin residents will rise early tomorrow, go to the parade grounds of Potsdam or Spandau, and witness the swearing in of the class of 1914, the first to serve since Hitler reintroduced the conscript army.

In Potsdam, beside the castle of Frederick the Great and on the same field where the soldier kings of Prussia and Germany swore in and reviewed their troops, recruits of Nazi Germany will take an oath to the fuehrer and the new war flag.

BRITAIN POSTPONES NAVAL CONFERENCE FROM DEC. 2 TO DEC. 5

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Postponement of a conference of naval powers from Dec. 2 to Dec. 5 was officially announced today. It was said the change was arranged to give Japanese delegates sufficient time to reach London. At the same time it was announced that France and India had accepted invitations to the conference. The United States has not yet replied to the invitation. Italy has not yet accepted, but has sent experts for preliminary discussions.

FEARS SECURITY BILLS MAY CURB FAMED 'CRADLE'

Evanston Nursery Founder Studies Measures.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.] —Whether passage of some of the New Deal social security bills pending before the legislature might permit objectionable supervision of such institutions as the Cradle, Evanston's celebrated adoption nursery, was being investigated here today by Mrs. William B. Walworth, founder of the nursery.

In its 13 years of existence the Cradle has placed more than 2,800 babies with reputable families. Pending their adoption, the infants are given the best of care and potential parents desiring to adopt them are subjected to careful investigation. There always are many hundreds more couples wishing children than the Cradle can supply.

Cites Wisconsin Rule.

Mrs. Walworth is concerned, she said today, that no laws are placed in the Illinois statutes that would permit commissions or advisory boards to promulgate such a rule as is in effect in Wisconsin forcing mothers to keep their babies for three months before they may be adopted.

"That ruling," Mrs. Walworth said, "tends to make it highly improbable that the baby later will be given for adoption and places it under supervision. It also deprives the baby of what should be his.

"For some time the world has realized the importance of sunshine. The Cradle recognizes that the child should be out in the full sunshine of life."

Changes May Affect Cradle.

Representative Bernice T. Van Der Vries [Rep., Winnetka], who represents the Evanston district, today drew amendments to three bills introduced in the special session which contain sections that might permit the sort of control the Cradle does not believe it should have. Each relates to dependent children and contains provisions for the creation of an advisory board in the department of public welfare which would have a voice in the guidance of child welfare activities.

It was this sort of legislation which led to establishment of the Wisconsin rule. If attempts are made to advance the bills next week, Mrs. Van Der Vries said she would present her amendments and fight for their adoption. A number of representatives who heard of the situation today said they would support her.

Ryerson Opposes Job Bills.

The position of Edward L. Ryerson Jr., Chicago industrialist, toward the unemployment insurance bills pending before the session was made plain today.

Ryerson, president of the council of social agencies of Chicago, is "opposed to any measure that may be drafted to comply with the existing federal provisions for unemployment legislation."

Yesterday Joel D. Hunter of Chicago, a member of the Federal Council on Economic Security, appearing as an advocate of jobless insurance before the house judiciary committee, read a wire signed by Ryerson as president of the social agencies which indorsed "wholeheartedly" the principle of unemployment compensation as being "in the best interests of employers, employés, and the public."

Proponents Hail Message.

Proponents of the insurance bill hailed the receipt of this message as a signal victory, signed as it was by the first chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission and present head of the social service bodies.

"The telegram transmitted by Mr. Hunter on behalf of the council of social agencies of Chicago to the hearing on house bill 17 represented the individual opinion of the majority of the board of directors. I am anxious that my own opinion be expressed in the hearings as opposed to the passage of house bill 17 and senate bill 10 and further that I am opposed to any measure that may be drafted to comply with the existing federal provisions for unemployed insurance legislation."

Proponents continued to urge adoption of jobless compensation before the judiciary committee today, but no vote was taken nor does Chairman Thomas P. Sinnett [Dem., Rock Island] expect that one will be taken next week.

Three Chicagoans Speak.

Three Chicagoans spoke to the committee today—Dr. Benjamin M. Squires, Miss Lea D. Taylor, president of the Chicago Federation of Settlements, and Dr. Glenford W. Lawrence, co-chairman of the Illinois Association for Social Security and vice president of the City club.

Opponents of the pending measure, which would impose a pay roll tax both upon employers and employés, will be heard next Tuesday, at which time a number of speakers, selected by the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the Chicago Association of Commerce, will list their objections to the measure which was sent to Springfield from Washington in order to conform to the national social security act, and which Gov. Horner caused to be introduced in the special session.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce today joined the other organizations in condemning the measure and more particularly the consequences of its passage.

Chamber Scores Measure.

In part a statement authorized by the chamber read:

"The chamber has charged committees with a careful study of federal unemployment compensation legislation and state legislation already enacted. In no instance can it find a case where any line of endeavor considers it will be particularly benefited through enactment of such a law in Illinois.

"It also finds, in addition to a recital of the hardships invoked by such an act, a definite opposition to placing of the commonwealth of Illinois under the domination of the federal government in such a way—an action which the chamber considered is not in line with the well defined policies of a true democratic government.

"To the taxpayer the proposed unemployment compensation act will impose a huge tax burden rising to a figure between 50 and 60 million dollars within a few years. It means that every consumer of goods will be forced to pay a tremendous tax to industrial and commercial workers when they are not working. It means that industry must pass this burden on to the consumer public and further greatly increase the already high cost of living in this state."

HOUSE PASSES TWO RESOLUTIONS ASKING SESSIONS ON SCHOOLS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.] —Two resolutions asking Gov. Horner to call other special sessions of the legislature to consider school legislation—which cannot be introduced in the current session—were passed by the house of representatives today.

Notified of their passage, Mr. Horner declared he would not issue such calls until he has received a report from the Illinois education commission, headed by Senator Harry C. Stuttle [Dem., Litchfield]. Stuttle has not indicated when the report will be submitted.

Representative James P. Boyle [Dem., Chicago] obtained passage, without debate, of his resolution asking for a concurrent session to consider the payment to the Chicago board of education of more than $2,300,000 which the state owes for excess costs of educating blind and crippled children. The resolution has the active support of James B. McCahey, president of the Chicago board of education, and also is understood to have the backing of Mayor Kelly.

The second resolution was introduced by Representatives Henry D. Sparks of Shelbyville and Hugh Cross of Jerseyville, Republicans. It asked a session in which all manner of school legislation could be introduced. The Republican minority anticipated that it would have opposition from the Democratic side, but approval was voted with the same unanimity as was had in passing Boyle's resolutions.

CITY INDUSTRIAL LEADERS OPPOSE 'REVIVAL' OF NRA

Industrial leaders in Chicago yesterday expressed opposition to the proposed renovation of the NRA in a new guise, to be considered at a conference in Washington on Dec. 8. "If such a conference is held," the Machinery and Allied Products institute informed its members yesterday in a bulletin, "the machinery industry will be represented in vigorous opposition."

The Illinois Manufacturers' association yesterday reiterated the recommendation made several months ago that member firms oppose NRA legislation in any form.

ILLINOIS SENATE G. O. P. OUTLINES ELECTION DRIVE

Capture of 11 Democratic Seats Is Goal.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Republicans in the Illinois senate in a conference today began to outline their strategy for the state senatorial elections in November, 1936, in which they hope to increase their strength in the upper chamber. The division now is 15 Republicans and 36 Democrats.

Senators are to be elected in the 25 even numbered districts, which now are held by five Republicans and 20 Democrats. By reëlecting the Republicans and capturing eleven of the Democratic seats, which was put forth as a possibility, the Republicans would have a senate membership of 26, a majority.

Two Committees Named.

Two committees were appointed to oversee the Republican activity in the senate elections. The general election committee is comprised of Senators George C. Dixon, Dixon, chairman; Daniel A. Serritella, Chicago, and Carl P. Tuttle, Harrisburg. On the speaker's committee are Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton, chairman; Richard J. Barr, Joliet, and Noah M. Mason, Oglesby.

"We believe the parties should be more evenly divided in the senate," said Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, chairman of the senate Republican caucus. "It makes for better government when neither has an overwhelming majority."

See G. O. P. Victory.

"We feel there is a possibility of increasing the number of senate Republicans to 25 or more, and we are going to take a militant position as an organized group," said Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, minority leader. "We don't intend to be antagonistic just to be against something, but we'll bend our efforts to defeat any proposed socialistic or communistic legislation."

Adjournment of the house and senate today led to postponement of a joint caucus of house and senate Republicans to consider joint action on pending New Deal legislation for Illinois. The senate also postponed until next Wednesday a public hearing on the unemployment insurance bill, and it is likely that the Republicans will not caucus until after that hearing.

The senate is marking time, waiting for the house to act on many pending controversial bills and advancing on its calendar and passing only a few minor bills. In its brief session today it sent to third reading a bill of Senator James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston] which would permit cities to use vehicle tax money for the operation of automobile inspection stations.

Earlier, the five downstate members of a subcommittee of the senate agricultural committee met and agreed to have bills drafted that would compel Chicago and other cities to be responsible for their own poor and levy taxes for poor relief.

Insurance Code Argued.

Arguments for and against the proposed new insurance code, which has been revised slightly since its defeat in the regular session were made today in a public hearing held by the senate insurance committee. At the conclusion, the committee decided to end the hearings, but to hold a meeting on it next Wednesday.

"There are few differences between the code as now drafted," said Ernest Palmer, state director of insurance, "and as it was last June. The limit on investment of assets in real estate mortgages has been raised from 40 to 50 per cent, there are changes in the language relating to the powers of directors, and a change in the London Lloyd's provision.

"Lloyd's would be required now to put up as a deposit in trust in Illinois, for the benefit of Illinois policyholders, only a minimum of half a million dollars. In addition they will have to put up unearned premium and loss reserves of probably an equal amount."

James S. Baldwin of Decatur told the committee that the insurance division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce looks with favor upon the code, with the exception of two provisions. These are the rate section, which he said the division believes should be in a separate bill, and the vexatious delay clause. This clause would inflict a 10 per cent penalty and attorneys' fees if there is a delay by a company in settling a judgment. The division, Mr. Baldwin said, recommends removal of this clause.

There followed a succession of persons, representing mostly Illinois life insurance companies, who said they want the code enacted. Representatives of the National Fire Underwriters' board stated an opposition because amendments they desired during the regular session were not incorporated in the new draft.

270 MORE STATE WPA PROJECTS APPROVED, BUT CASH IS IN DOUBT

The Illinois office of the Federal Works Progress administration announced yesterday that approval had been given in Washington for 270 state WPA projects that would cost $10,221,375 if carried to completion. Only a fraction of this amount will be expended, however, the announcement said, and Controler General J. R. McCarl has released only $1,005,000 to apply on the 270 projects.

Among the projects approved are three, sponsored by the city of Chicago—which will require $37,917 in federal funds for completion—for repairing sidewalks in front of city owned properties.

Also approved was a project for vocational training of patients at the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium. This calls for $126,285 in federal funds.

The Chicago park district received approval of a $358,042 project for laying concrete curbing and sidewalks, and several other projects—totaling $3,945,109—for improving and rehabilitating the following parks: Garfield, Foster, Humboldt, Burnham, Washington and Douglas.

A $71,404 project of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission for delivering and processing surplus commodities likewise was approved.

Suburban projects approved and the amount required in federal funds for completion were as follows:

BLUE ISLAND—City-wide park improvement, $95,758.

DOLTON—Construct swimming pool and bath house, $81,000.

LANSING—Repair water main connections, $37,345.

BROOKFIELD—Grade wooded area for park, $7,320; water leak survey and repairs, $10,896.

MATTESON VILLAGE — Construct sewer, $104,390.

OLYMPIA FIELDS—New streets, $5,224.

PALOS PARK—Repair village hall, $3,528.

PARK RIDGE—Rebuild cement sidewalk, $19,036.

NILES CENTER—Install water main, $3,704.

Robert J. Dunham, state administrator of the program, has the power to choose which projects shall be started.

RELIEF CUTS OFF RENT; HUNDREDS FACING EVICTION

Aid to Families Halted by Federal Slash.

Wholesale eviction of relief clients for nonpayment of rent was threatened yesterday as the Illinois Emergency Relief commission prepared to put into effect a 20 per cent reduction in operating expense as a result of a $1,000,000 curtailment of federal funds for the first half of November.

In order to meet the slash in Cook county Leo J. Lyons, county relief administrator, announced that no rent would be paid for clients certified for "made" jobs under the federal Works Progress administration, whether or not they have been placed on the pay roll as yet.

Brings Realty Board Reply.

John C. Bowers, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, retorted with a sharp statement concisely criticizing the administration of relief affairs and approving the program of wholesale evictions.

After pointing out the sacrifices which owners of property occupied by relief clients had made in the past, and recalling that landlords had over them the constant threat of tax receiverships, Mr. Bowers said:

"The Illinois legislature some months ago increased the sales tax to 3 per cent, with the understanding that this increase would be ample to provide for all needy families. We are at a loss to understand why it is now necessary to throw the entire burden of shelter back upon real estate. We believe that if rigid economies had been practiced in the past by your department, your present action would have been unnecessary."

Where relief clients were the tenants, he continued, landlords have been receiving only 40 per cent of the current rental value of their properties.

"Therefore our advice to property owners," Mr. Bowers announced, "is that they make an immediate demand for rentals due, and if same is not forthcoming, to institute proceedings to evict these families in an effort to attempt to preserve and retain the ownership of their properties."

Members of the real estate board in a vote last night unanimously concurred in Mr. Bowers' statement.

South Siders Concur.

A letter to the same effect, but couched in slightly different language, was forwarded to Lyons by Melville J. Kolliner, president of the South Central Real Estate board.

"You ask that we continue to supply in many cases," wrote Kolliner, "steam heat, electricity, gas, water, and the undisturbed use of a dwelling place without any prospect of being reimbursed therefor. This, of course, we cannot do."

Lyons pleaded with landlords to coöperate on the grounds that in the near future approximately 100,000 families would be assigned to WPA projects. This is the number set by Washington officials for WPA employment in Illinois by Nov. 15.

FIND U. S. JOBS ROB INDUSTRY OF ENGINEERS

The reluctance of professional engineers to quit their employment on government projects is causing a shortage of skilled technicians in private industry, according to officials of the American Association of Engineers, who held their annual meeting yesterday in the association headquarters at 8 South Michigan avenue. Engineers have admitted private industry offers them greater salaries, but they prefer the promises of long time employment on federal works.

The fear that old age and retirement pensions and other features of the government's social security legislation will be mandatory has resulted in private engineering concerns seeking younger men, who in many instances are not sufficiently well trained, according to the association's employment report. The larger concerns demand men of about the age of 28 and refuse to consider applicants over 32, the report said.

Howard A. Levering of Huntington, W. Va., senior engineer of the state road commission of West Virginia, is the new president of the association. M. E. McIver of Chicago was reëlected secretary-treasurer.

Frank Bane Made Security Board Executive Director

Frank Bane, a friend of Harry Hopkins, national head of the Works Progress administration, was appointed yesterday as executive director of the national security board which is to dole out federal funds to the states for the care of the aged and needy. Mr. Bane, a lecturer on public welfare administration at the University of Chicago and director of the Public Welfare Clearing house at 823 East 58th street, said he would assume his new duties when congress appropriates funds, which is expected to be at the next session.

SENTENCE TWO IN DOPE CASE.

Mrs. Helen Jordan, 28 years old, 1429 North Clark street, was sentenced to one year in Dwight reformatory and John Phillips, 24 years old, 1425 North Dearborn street, to thirty days in the Bridewell by Municipal Judge George B. Weiss yesterday for possessing narcotics.

RELIEF WORKERS ACT TO ORGANIZE AS LABOR UNION

Seek Perpetuation of New Deal Spending.

Organization of social welfare workers in local groups with a national union and ultimate affiliation with the American Federation of Labor was advocated by Miss Bertha Reynolds, associate director of Smith college school of social work, in an address last night in the Capitol building before 400 members of the recently formed Association of Workers in Public Agencies, which draws its membership from employés of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission.

The local union, according to its executives, has been formed to insure that adequate federal and state appropriations will be made and to obtain recognition of its claims through "united movement and group protest."

"Jobs for All of Us."

Admittedly seeking perpetuation of the welfare workers jobs which have been created as part of the New Deal relief administration, regardless of future reductions in the unemployed rôles, Eli Cohen, vice chairman of the group, in outlining progress which has been made to date in organization and consideration of affiliation in a national union, said he hoped that sufficient additional relief funds would be forthcoming to insure "the retention of jobs for all of us."

Cohen told his audience of the progress which has been made in unionizing welfare workers in New York City, and how the union had forced the relief organization to modify an order giving the members heavier duties.

How to Keep Jobs.

Another official explained that when the number of unemployed on relief is reduced it will be the goal of the union to obtain corresponding reductions in the number of cases assigned to each worker, thus insuring against elimination of case workers and union members. Speakers urged formation of a national union and affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

Taking "Loyalties" as her subject, Miss Reynolds told the group, which consisted chiefly of women, that they have to consider both the loyalty they owe their employer and the loyalty they owe their client.

As a protest against the 20 per cent cut in relief appropriations in Illinois this month, the group voted to send telegrams to Harry Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief administrator, and Gov. Horner, urging immediate increases in relief funds.

POLICE ARREST 20 FOR CHRISTMAS FUND FRAUD QUIZ

State's attorney's police yesterday made five raids and arrested fourteen men and six women, who were accused of soliciting fake Christmas fund basket contributions. All those arrested were taken to the Criminal Courts building for questioning by Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for State's Attorney Courtney.

Eight squads of police under the direction of Lieuts. Thomas Kelly and Charles Egan acted on information received by Courtney that the Christmas spirit among Chicagoans was being made the basis of a racket. Offices at 1553 West Madison street, 14 West Washington street, 43 East Ohio street, 30 North La Salle street, and 608 South Dearborn street, were raided. Contributions were solicited from these offices by telephones, and by personal calls on prospects, the police charged.

Capt. Gilbert ordered the 14 men locked up for the night pending resumption of the inquiry today. The women were released after questioning.

Muriel La France Gets Divorce in Nonsupport

Mrs. Muriel La France Tierman, 28 years old, 130 North Parkside avenue, a radio singer, was granted an uncontested divorce yesterday from Hugh Tierman of Toledo, O., by Superior Judge Rudolph F. Desort. Questioned by her attorney, Norman Becker, Mrs. Tierman testified that she was married May 15, 1931, but that her husband never supported her and deserted her on April 15, 1934. She waived alimony and was allowed to resume her maiden name of Muriel La France.

End Bad Cough Quickly, at One Fourth the Cost

Home-Mixed! No Cooking! Easy!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a much more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs only one-fourth as much as ready-made medicine, but which really has no equal for breaking up distressing coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, helping clear the air passages, and soothing away the irritation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its soothing effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Two federal alcohol tax unit agents, keeping an east side house under surveillance, found that a puppy emerging from the dwelling smelled strongly of alcohol and had wet mash on its paws and unkempt coat. They raided, arresting Joseph Urgam, who pleaded: "Please find a home for my little dog. His name is Alky and he will be a fine playmate for some boy."

BATTLE TO FREE SHIP AGROUND IN LAKE STORM

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The lighter T. F. Newman and the tug Favorite began work this afternoon to free the steamer Joseph H. Franz, which went aground in a blinding snowstorm this morning at Iroquois point in the upper St. Mary's river.

The Franz, downbound from Ashland with a cargo of iron ore, was reported leaking in the No. 1 tank on the port side. The crew of 34 was reported to be in no danger.

ISSUES PEARSONS ARREST WRIT ON PETITION OF WIFE

A writ of attachment for the arrest of Harry P. Pearsons, former mayor of Evanston, was issued yesterday by Superior Judge Walter P. Steffen on the petition of the former mayor's estranged wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Pearsons, 316 Ridge avenue, Evanston. Mrs. Pearsons testified that her husband is $8,053 in arrears in alimony under a separate maintenance decree entered in 1932.

Pearsons failed to pay the $40 a week provided in the decree and carried the case to the Illinois Appellate court. On Tuesday the Appellate court upheld the decree and censured Pearsons for his testimony in opposing the maintenance bill, when he pictured himself as a gallant gentleman who married Mrs. Pearsons to save her reputation. The high court declared that he had "willingly tarred himself in the hope some of it might attach to the plaintiff."

Four Children Lose Lives in Fire; Fathers in Jail

Caribou, Me., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Four children died today in a fire which damaged a small home containing the families of Alcide Martin and Maxime Bouchard. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Bouchard, sleeping together, and three other children, made their way to safety. Both fathers were in jail, serving sentences for non-support.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

FINE CLOTHES MAKERS SINCE 1879

INCREASED COSTS DO NOT IMPROVE QUALITY

Price alone is neither a reliable clue to quality or a measure of value. Because price, very often, is a pyramid of profits and expenses which have nothing to do with quality.

Many of the charges which raise the price and reduce the value of clothes are completely avoided by Richman Brothers.

Our own shops make the clothes that our stores sell. Therefore we have no wholesale selling expenses. And ownership of stores eliminates the necessity of duplicated profits.

We have no delivery expenses or credit losses to add to the price of our clothes. And nothing is added at the beginning of the season to provide for sale reductions later on.

That is why it is difficult to distinguish between a Richman Brothers overcoat and those that sell at much higher prices, and why the difference in price is a clear cash saving.

FLETCHER SEES REPUBLICANS ON WAY TO VICTORY

Defeat of Roosevelt Next Year Held Certain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—"The boondogglers are on their way out. The Republican party is on its way back to power."

In these two sentences Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee, today summed up the results of yesterday's elections in New York, Ohio, and Philadelphia.

While Republicans everywhere were cheered over the outcome of the balloting, hailing it as a forecast of President Roosevelt's defeat next year, the Democrats sought to minimize the importance of the results. New Deal officials and congressmen here professed to see no meaning in the Republican victories.

"People Aware of Sham."

Chairman Fletcher, however, insisted that "New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland tell the story and point the way." In a formal statement he declared:

"The American people are becoming thoroughly aware of the sham of New Deal pretenses and the menace of New Deal policies.

"The American people want common honesty and common sense in the management of their governments—federal, state and local. That explains the election results of yesterday. They are but the forerunner of what will happen next year."

Sees Defeat of President.

Senator Daniel O. Hastings [Rep., Del.], chairman of the Republican senatorial committee, joined in the rejoicing with the outright prediction that President Roosevelt will be beaten next year.

"President Roosevelt's era of deception is rapidly nearing its end," he declared. "Yesterday's election results, spread over a wide front, show beyond dispute that the soundness of the American people can always be counted upon to rout fantastic communistic schemes.

"Republican victories were widespread. They reached even into the small towns. They were the greater where the New Deal was made an issue. Like Rhode Island and Connecticut, which preceded them, they are the forerunners of what is to happen next year to Mr. Roosevelt and his New Deal which has become an ordeal.

"For Once, Farley Is Right."

"The politically hydra-headed Mr. Farley in his triple rôle as chief job dispenser of the administration, as national committee head and as chairman of the New York state Democratic committee, is quoted as saying that the results 'ought to be a sufficient answer to the question of the continued popularity of Franklin D. Roosevelt.'

"For once, Mr. Farley is right. It is a sufficient answer. It even goes beyond sufficiency. It is a definite answer by the people that they will no longer be fooled."

The few members of congress who remain in Washington added their voices to the Republican exultations and the Democratic deprecations.

"The election results show the people swinging back to the Republican ranks," according to Senator James J. Davis [Rep., Pa.].

Trend "Back to G. O. P."

"There is no national significance in the elections," Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.], demurred.

"The only national significance is the fact that two Democratic congressmen have been elected in New York state," Representative John J. Cochran [Dem., Mo.] argued.

"The Democrats should feel very much encouraged by the close vote in New York state," Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], opined.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, the only cabinet member to comment, argued that President Roosevelt would have carried New York state if yesterday's results had been projected into a presidential election. He pointed out that the Democrats had a majority of 730,000 in the popular vote, or more than the majority by which the President carried the state in 1932.

LANDON TELLS HOW G. O. P. MAY GO TO VICTORY

Kansas Governor Hits Experiments.

called "the homestead of the free," Gov. Landon said:

"How easy it is for that homestead to become the homestead of the bound and not the free—if bad government and unsound fiscal policies saddle the homesteader with a tax load he cannot carry. That is one of the major problems in your state and in my state and a major problem of the nation. The errors of other administrative policies may not of themselves be fatal, but the errors of an unwise national financial policy have been fatal to every government in the history of civilization.

"It is not my place here to discuss the weakness or the strength of new policies in government. For better or for worse such laws are here. We are faced with a condition of fact, not of speculative theory. So the major task ahead in the main is not more law or more programs or more experimentation but sound common sense administration."

New Deal Out, Says Hoffman.

"Election returns in New Jersey and over the nation indicate the New Deal is on the way out," Gov. Hoffman of New Jersey, who has been prominently mentioned also as a candidate, said.

"Voters no longer will be lured by federal money, lavishly spent, for political purposes.

"In 1936 the people again will call upon the Republican party to lead them out of confusion and distress."

As for the presidential nomination, Gov. Hoffman said he is not looking for any new worlds to conquer, adding, "I'm just an old broken down chamber of commerce man."

Police Listen to Radio; Hear 'I Want My Mama'

CHANDLER WINS KENTUCKY RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Democrat Beats His Own Party's Oppositior

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A. B. Chandler, Democrat who had the blessing of President Roosevelt, piled up an apparently insurmountable lead tonight over Judge King Swope, Republican, in their race for governor of Kentucky.

With slightly more than one-fourth of the record breaking vote cast in yesterday's general election tabulated, Chandler, loud in his praise of the New Deal, increased his lead to 37,199 over Swope, who was silent about national issues and attacked the Democratic state administration.

Returns from 1,395 of Kentucky's 4,219 precincts, representing all but four of the 120 counties, gave Chandler 202,003 and Swope 157,430.

Colored Representative Elected.

For the first time in Kentucky's history a colored man will sit in the state legislature.

Incomplete returns showed that Charles W. Anderson Jr., colored Republican, was elected a member of the house from the Fifty-eighth [Louisville] legislative district, the population of which is 80 per cent colored.

A lawyer with degrees from three schools, Anderson defeated the Rev. C. Eubank Tucker, colored Democrat, who campaigned as a New Dealer, by a vote of approximately three to one.

Anderson said he based his campaign on the "advancement of my own people" and that would be his purpose in the legislature.

Repeal Wins Heavily.

The referendum on repeal of the state prohibition amendment gave repealists an advantage of 18,137 over drys. The vote, with 980 precincts tabulated, was 98,947 in favor of repeal of constitutional prohibition and 80,810 against.

Kentuckians wrote into their constitution authority for the legislature to enact old age pensions. The vote on the amendment, advocated to help further the New Deal's social security program, was 150,816 in favor and 17,316 against on returns from 974 precincts.

Democratic campaign headquarters claimed the trend of the count indicated Chandler's final majority would reach 100,000, or about 25,000 more than Gov. Ruby Laffoon's four years ago. Swope's campaign managers declined at a late hour to concede Chandler had won.

Submitted in 1934.

The proposal to repeal the state prohibition amendment was submitted to the electorate by the 1934 legislature, which repealed the enforcement act and legalized the manufacture and sale of liquor on the theory that it was a medicine. Drys contended the 1934 liquor control act "nullified" the constitution, but they forced no court test on it. If Kentuckians voted to retain constitutional prohibition, drys planned to outlaw the state's whisky industry with court and legislative action. Repealists declared refusal to adopt the repeal amendment would drive a 100 million dollar industry from Kentucky.

Runs Ahead of Laffoon.

The trend in 727 precincts where election correspondents compared the 1935 vote with that four years ago showed Chandler running ahead of Gov. Laffoon's totals. Laffoon's majority of 72,062 in 1931 over William B. Harrison, Republican, was a record for a state election since reconstruction days, surpassed only by the 185,858 received by Roosevelt in the 1933 presidential race.

Apparently the entire Democratic ticket was swept into office along with Chandler. In the lieutenant governor's race between Keen Johnson, Democrat, Richmond publisher, and J. J. Kavanagh, Republican, Louisville attorney, Johnson had a lead of 31,126 on returns from 875 precincts. The vote was Johnson 126,607 and Kavanagh 95,481. The seven other Democratic nominees for state offices also amassed heavy leads.

Chandler was polling a surprisingly heavy vote in the third congressional district [Louisville]. The 106 precincts tabulated out of the 621 gave Chandler 11,257 and Swope 8,683. Chandler's backers predicted he would carry the district by 20,000.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, telephoned late today asking details of the Kentucky election, and when the latest returns were given him he said:

"That was a swell job, and I am delighted. I congratulate everybody who helped him make such a great race."

LETTER CARRIER HELD ON CHARGE OF BURNING HIS 'SURPLUS' MAIL

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Suss S. Scalo, a substitute letter carrier in the Bridgeport postoffice, was held in $500 bail today for trial in United States District court on a charge of destroying mail matter. According to postal authorities Scalo said he had been unable to deliver all the mail given to him and had burned it for fear of being reprimanded by his superiors.

The postman was arrested after former Ald. Thomas W. Reddy had reported having found partly burned mail matter in his yard, adjacent to Scalo's home.

Two days ago a substitute mail carrier in Baltimore was convicted of dumping mail in the woods and received a suspended sentence. He said he did it to save time.

ARIZONA DENIES PARDON, PAROLE TO WINNIE JUDD

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Arizona board of pardons and paroles refused today to remove the death threat which hangs over Winne Ruth Judd, convicted in 1932 of murder in connection with the "trunk" slayings of two women friends.

Applications for a full pardon and for a parole in case the pardon was denied were rejected by the board.

The action means that in event Mrs. Judd, now in the state hospital for the insane, regains her sanity during the tenure of the present board she must be executed for the slaying of Agnes Ann Leroi. The latter and Hedvig Samuelson were killed in Phoenix in October, 1931, and their dismembered bodies sent to Los Angeles in trunks.

Recovers $8,600 in Bonds from Uncle and Ex-Wife

A verdict in favor of Mrs. Gertrude Schupmann, 531 Fullerton parkway, who sought the recovery of $8,600 in bonds from her uncle, Dr. Martin Schupmann, 654 Fullerton parkway, and his ex-wife, Mrs. Lillian Schupmann, 415 Surf street, was returned yesterday by a jury in the Municipal court of Judge Stephen Adamowski. Mrs. Lillian Schupmann claimed a half interest in the bonds, tied up by injunction in a safety deposit box, on the ground they belonged to her former husband. Dr. Schupmann testified for his niece that the bonds were hers, having been purchased with money she intrusted to him.

G.O.P. CHIEF HAILS TUESDAY VOTE AS NEW DEAL BLOW

N.Y. Returns Held Typical of "Changing Tide."

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

An unmistakable turn in the political tide for 1936 was seen by Republican midwest headquarters yesterday in the returns from Tuesday's elections.

Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa, chief of the "Grass Roots" movements and director of the G. O. P. committee's western division in Chicago, said the results indicate that in the rural regions, the farmers are swinging away from the New Deal. Undercurrents were revealed, he declared, that portend much in the impending battle in the agricultural midwest, which may be the pivotal area in the next presidential campaign.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Spangler, "perhaps the most significant vote was the one cast in upstate and rural New York. Here the Democrats made a furious campaign and had great funds at their disposal.

Considers Vote "Typical."

"Upstate New York, however, repudiated Postmaster General Farley's idea that the New Deal can Tammanyize America. The people in upstate New York are like our people out here in the west, a farmer in New York has the same trend of thought as a farmer in Illinois, Indiana, or Iowa.

"In New York City of course, the Democrats piled up a large vote—but that was Tammany. The vote in rural and upstate New York and the return of Republican control of the state assembly, indicate the agricultural population objects to being Farleyized or Tammanyized.

"It is no exaggeration to interpret the returns as indicating a loss of confidence in the Roosevelt administration and its record of broken promises. They indicate that people are realizing that the Utopia of the New Deal is only a dream which is piling up a nightmare burden of debt for this and coming generations.

"I have studied reports from small towns in Indiana's rural regions where Republicans made gains; likewise, the results in some of the southern and central Illinois counties which elected county commissioners are of deep significance. The Republicans made gains that are indicative that the tide has turned."

Cite Illinois Gains.

Headquarters pointed out that Republicans gained in seven out of fifteen central and southern Illinois counties which elected county commissioners.

Some Republican victories, it was pointed out, were won in the face of the fact that large numbers of voters were on the relief rolls. Alexander county [Cairo] had more than 42 per cent of its population on relief last April, and in May 1934, it had 50.4 per cent on relief, the highest rate of all Illinois counties—ascribed by relief agencies largely to the Negro population. On Tuesday, the Republicans swept Alexander county, lecting two commissioners by majorities of 1,200.

"Much work remains," said Mr. Spangler, "in the fight to regain the agricultural midwest. But out of Tuesday's results, Republicans can find ample ground for elation and encouragement, for they show a growing undercurrent against the New Deal, and its pretenses."

Cambridge, U. S. College Debate on High Court

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A nondecision debate between the Cambridge university team of England and Western State Teachers college was held here tonight on the question, "Resolved, that the Supreme court should be denied the right to override the decision of the executive and the legislature." Western State upheld the Supreme court.

PENNSYLVANIA'S NEW DEAL MEN LOSE AT POLLS

Republicans Winners in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 6.—(AP)—An elated Republican leadership read a New Deal repudiation tonight in the results of Pennsylvania's elections. Democrats were silent.

Republican victory was complete in the two contests which observers looked to for indications of the political trend. These were the state Superior court fight and the Philadelphia municipal scramble.

Judge Jesse E. B. Cunningham, Republican incumbent, was opposed for reëlection in the only state-wide fight by Robert L. Myers Jr., a deputy attorney general. A total of 6,095 out 7,978 districts gave: Cunningham, 1,365,274; Myers, 1,092,321. Judge Cunningham carried all but seventeen of the sixty-seven counties.

In Philadelphia S. Davis Wilson, Republican, was elected mayor by a majority of 47,214 votes over John B. Kelly, Democrat. Wilson swept the entire slate, including all twenty-two members of the city council, to victory with him.

Republican losses included the overthrow of their municipal régimes in Allentown and Altoona and their courthouse control in the hard coal county of Lackawanna.

Beat Davey's Ohio Candidate.

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Ohio Republican leaders, heartened by a decided swing toward the G. O. P. in Ohio's off-year municipal elections, looked forward to the 1936 state election tonight with predictions of victory.

Gov. Martin L. Davey visited Cleveland, where the candidate he indorsed, former Mayor Ray T. Miller, fell before a 40,000 vote majority piled up by Harold H. Burton, independent Republican, former acting city manager and acting mayor.

G. O. P. Gains in Jersey.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Republicans strengthened their control over the 1936 assembly in yesterday's New Jersey election, but lost ground in the senate.

Picking up eight house seats, the Republicans will have a comfortable working majority of 42 to 18. In the senate the Republicans will control by 13 to 8.

The greatest Republican victory was in Essex county, where the Rev. Dr. Lester H. Clee, Presbyterian minister and assembly speaker, was elected state senator by a plurality of 37,836, one of the largest margins in years.

Dr. Clee carried with him the entire clean government Republican ticket, climaxing its two year drive for party leadership in Essex. Twelve house members were elected with him, four freeholders, a sherif, county clerk and county register.

DENIES NEW DEAL DESERVES CREDIT FOR TRADE RALLY

Sen. Vandenberg Cheered by G. O. P. Here.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican United States senator from Michigan, heaped ridicule yesterday on claims of the New Dealers that improvement in the nation's business is due to their efforts.

As the speaker before the weekly Republican Round Table at the Hamilton club, he began by predicting Republican victory in 1936. He declared that the popular verdict against the Roosevelt administration is "guilty" on ten separate counts which he enumerated, and then listed what he considered the true causes of the betterment in business conditions.

He pleased an audience that numbered close to 1,000, and some of the unexpected interpolations which carried him away from the lines of his prepared address brought particularly loud applause and laughter.

Civil Service Periled, He Says.

Two of these came in connection with his charge that the present administration "has assaulted civil service more ominously than at any other time since the merit system was invented."

He said that any civil service system "would be a joke under James Aloysius Farley."

"Farley, like all Gaul," he added, "is divided into three parts—one-third chairman of the Democratic national committee, one-third chairman of the New York Democratic state committee, and one-third, if he has any time left, as postmaster general."

Then he related an incident he said is recorded in the records of the senate, a protest by Senator Martin M. Neely [Dem., W. Va.] against a resolution that appointments under the Home Owners' Loan corporation be made on "the merit basis."

A Shot at Job Hunters.

"Why," protested Neely according to Vandenberg, "there wouldn't be a single West Virginia Democrat who could get a job on that basis."

Senator Vandenberg said that in meeting attacks upon its methods the New Deal has just one excuse—"Business is better."

"Relief and work relief loads continue to be almost as great a strain on the treasury as ever!" he exclaimed. "But 'business is better.'

"Yes, thank God, business is better. Give some of the credit to the passing impulse of public money pumped into the blood stream, although this is but the flush of a narcotic with all the evils of a drug habit.

"Give some of the credit to new laws such as the federal deposit insurance law, which was obtained in spite of the President and not on account of him.

"Trade Frequently Retarded."

"Give some of the credit to artificial manipulation which, however, is a fleeting, treacherous, insidious paradise.

"But give more of the permanent credit to the inevitable cycle of resurgent trade which frequently has been retarded rather than encouraged by some of these more violent wrenches to time tried economics.

"Give still more of the credit to a unanimous Supreme court which reassured America five months ago that fundamental law still lives under the flag. Business was supposed to die with the NRA. Instead, it boomed."

MISSISSIPPI COUNTY REFUSES TO ELECT DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Politically hostile Issaquena, a rural county in west central Mississippi, refused to follow the formality of electing Democratic nominees yesterday and apparently named four independents to county offices.

Returns today showed A. W. Gary, independent, led Joel Myers, Democrat, for sherif; J. C. Newman, incumbent, was ahead of Livingston Peyton, Democratic nominee for state representative; Frank Wilkes won the assessor's post over I. S. Lee, Democratic nominee, and J. E. Bourne was elected Circuit court clerk over Will Birdson, party nominee.

Elsewhere voters approved the regular Democratic ticket, headed by Hugh White, governor elect, and 5,000 state and county officials.

VIRGINIA SENATE LEADER LOSES TO REPUBLICAN

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Republicans, showing unexpected strength in yesterday's election, exceeded their present representation by electing eight members of the Virginia general assembly and looked to final returns to swell the number. The Democrats also appeared likely to lose additional seats to independents.

Senator George W. Layman, veteran Democratic member of the senate and father of the state prohibition law repealed in 1934, was one of the victims, losing to Thomas J. Wilson, Republican, on the basis of virtually complete unofficial returns from the Twentieth senatorial district.

Democrats had won 13 of 18 seats in the 14 contested district. Republicans had been elected in two and three contests were still in doubt—one of the doubtful represented by a Republican in the last session.

Democrats had also taken 27 of the 40 seats at stake in 28 districts while Republicans won five.

ROOSEVELT AIDS POOH-POOH N. Y. NEW DEAL BLOW

Hold Democratic Control Accident, Anyway.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—It doesn't mean a thing, but it would have meant something had the New Deal not been repudiated. That was the reaction at the Roosevelt home today to results of the off year election in New York state.

President Roosevelt at his press conference declined to comment on yesterday's voting, but a spokesman emphasized that the recapture of nine seats in the New York state assembly by Republicans could be regarded as normal. At the same time it was made plain that the close but unsuccessful race made by the Democrats in the Philadelphia election was, in the President's eyes, a victory for the New Deal.

Called the Usual Result.

In answer to questions on the return of the control of the New York state assembly to the Republican party, Mr. Roosevelt said he had made it a rule since 1928 to make no comment on election results. Close friends said that the President regarded the vote as a trend toward the normal partisan division in the state without believing it to be a weather vane for national sentiment in 1936.

The White House spokesman recalled that Mr. Roosevelt, as a candidate for governor in 1930, carried the state by 725,000 votes and yet Republicans held a majority in the assembly. At the same time, it was said, Democrats had a plurality of more than 500,000 votes in the total vote on assemblymen.

Records showed the plurality to be 376,733 and falling.

Control Termed Accident.

Democratic seizure of control of the assembly last year was said to be an accident,—a fortunate distribution of votes in key districts. The Democratic plurality on assemblymen in 1934 was 525,000, which could be regarded as slightly above the normal plurality of about 400,000 votes, according to this authority.

The fact that the New Deal lost more than 100,000 votes could not be interpreted as a blow to the President, it was said. Local issues were held to be more important than the New Deal, although the Republicans concentrated their political guns on the national issue.

Had the Democrats carried the New York state assembly for a second year, the election could be regarded as an expression of sentiment on the New Deal, according to the spokesman.

Back in Capital Tomorrow.

The President prepared to end his week's visit here. Tomorrow afternoon he will motor to New York to be present at the initiation of his sons, Franklin Jr. and James, into the Masonic lodge. After the ceremony he will board a train for Washington and will be back in the White House early Friday morning.

During the afternoon Owen D. Young, New York financier, was a guest at the home. He called to discuss education and vocational training under the National Youth administration with which he is associated in an advisory capacity.

At his press conference the President had nothing to add on the announcement of his visit to Chicago Dec. 9. He said that he had planned to address the American Farm federation for three years and was taking advantage of an opportunity to do so by accepting the invitation.

SEEN AS 1936 VANE

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Recapture of the New York state assembly by the Republicans in yesterday's election was hailed today by national, state, and local party leaders as a repudiation of President Roosevelt and the New Deal.

The result was generally seen as a significant index to the 1936 Presidential campaign. Commentators agreed in setting it down as a rebuke to the Roosevelt policies already rejected in a series of important tests in recent months. Mr. Roosevelt, it was pointed out, now faces the necessity of convincing his party that he can be reëlected in 1936.

Gain 9 Assembly Seats.

The Republicans gained nine additional seats in the assembly, giving them 82 to 68 held by the Democrats. Only two senate seats were involved in the contest, both to fill vacancies. One of them went to a Republican and the other to a Democrat, leaving the setup of the upper legislature body unchanged.

In forty-five cities of the state, the Republicans elected 33 mayors, including Roland B. Marvin of Syracuse, possible nominee for governor next year. The President saw Hyde Park go Republican and James A. Farley, national and state chairman, failed to hold his own district in Rockland county.

The Democratic organization in New York came through strongly and menaces the prospect of a reëlection for Mayor LaGuardia, observers hold. The Fusion forces, which turned Tammany out two years ago, crumbled.

In Brooklyn, District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan was reëlected over Joseph D. McGoldrick, Republican-Fusion candidate, by an overwhelming plurality of 148,752, while the Democrats swept all county offices in the five boroughs.

Some Other Poll Results.

Other important results were:

Democrats captured all but three seats in the board of aldermen and all but three of the New York City seats in the state assembly.

The Democratic majority in the popular vote slid somewhat. With completed returns from all but 219 of the state's 8,904 precincts the total vote for the Democratic members of the aseembly was 2,047,210 and 1,670,477 for Republicans, a Democratic majority of 376,733.

The missing districts are upstate and strongly Republican and the probability is the majority may be cut still more.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

EX-SEN. MEENTS INDICTED OVER SCHOOL FUNDS

Watseka, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Richard P. Meents of Ashkum, Ill., a floor leader in the state senate when Len Small was governor, today posted $4,000 bail on two indictments charging him with converting to his own use a total of $24,536 belonging to schools of his township and the Ashkum-Danforth drainage district.

The indictments, returned yesterday, charged the former senator with the misuse of $15,200 belonging to Township 28, of which he was treasurer, and $9,336 from the drainage district, of which he was also treasurer. The alleged conversions occurred in 1933.

Although Meents has as yet offered no defense, the date of his trial not having been set by Circuit Judge Claude N. Saum of Iroquois county, it was said the funds had been on deposit in the Farmers Trust and Savings bank at Ashkum. Meents was president of that bank when it closed during the general moratorium and did not reopen.

Attorney Walter L. Fisher Is Seriously Ill in Winnetka

Walter L. Fisher, prominent attorney and senior member of the firm of Fisher, Boyden, Bell, Boyd and Marshall, was seriously ill yesterday in his home at 1060 Sheridan road, Winnetka. Mr. Fisher has taken a leading part in the efforts to obtain a unified traction system for Chicago.

UTILITIES HEADS' ROOSEVELT VOTE GIFTS REVEALED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Almost $54,000 in contributions which public utility executives made to President Roosevelt's 1932 campaign fund were suppressed by the federal trade commission today when it made public a list of contributions by utility leaders during 1924, 1928, and 1932.

The FTC list purported to show that utility executives had contributed $468,900 to President Coolidge's 1924 campaign and to President Hoover's two campaigns, compared with only $120,100 contributed to the Democratic candidates during the same years.

Eleven Gifts Revealed.

No utility contribution to the Democrats in 1932 was shown by the FTC list, however. An examination by THE TRIBUNE of the records from which the FTC claimed to have compiled its first list showed at least 11 gifts, some of them for more than $10,000, which utility executives had made to President Roosevelt's 1932 campaign fund. The total of the 11 gifts was $53,800.

Some of the names which were omitted from the Democratic list for 1932 had been listed for previous years, thus showing that the FTC knew those particular contributors had utility connections. When confronted with THE TRIBUNE list, the FTC first argued that they could not have been obtained from the same records and then pleaded its examiners could not always identify persons as utility executives. The FTC offered to add to its list any proven omissions.

List Brought to Light.

Here is the list of contributions to the Democratic national committee in 1932 which did not appear in the FTC list:

William C. Dickerman, director of of United Gas Improvement company, $10,800.

Howard Bruce, director of the American Light and Traction company, $10,000 lent and $5,000 contributed.

Victor Emanuel, president of the United States Electric Power company and director of Standard Gas and Electric company, $8,500.

W. B. Tuttle, president of the San Antonio Public Service company, $2,000.

Harvey Couch, president of the Alabama Power and Light corporation and former director of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, $1,500.

John C. Weadock, Electric Railway Security company, $2,000.

Gerard Swope, chairman of General Electric, $500.

Makes $5,000 Gift.

In addition, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, whose husband was included on the FTC list as a contributor because of his connection with the Montana Power company, made a $5,000 gift to the Democratic fund in 1932 which was not reported, although gifts made by wives of other executives were listed.

Emanuel, Weadock, Field, and Swope, as well as Mr. Whitney, were included on the FTC list of contributions for previous years, but their 1932 gifts were omitted.

These additional names were obtained by checking the names of Roosevelt campaign contributors with their identification in "Who's Who in America." The list of contributions was the same as that used by the FTC, the official list filed with the clerk of the house of representatives.

Report Nothing to Roosevelt.

In its original list the FTC has reported that utility executives and directors gave $5,000 to the Democrats in 1924, $115,100 to the Al Smith campaign of 1928, and nothing to the Roosevelt campaign.

The Republican figures showed, however, $199,300 for the 1924 Coolidge campaign, $205,350 for the first Hoover campaign, and $64,250 for the second Hoover campaign.

Another $16,950 was reported as contributed by utility executives toward the campaign funds of various senators, including $1,000 given by E. V. Graham of the Midland United company toward the unsuccessful 1932 campaign in Illinois of former Senator Otis F. Glenn.

G. O. P. ELECTS CITY TICKETS IN BAY STATE

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Democratic candidates were defeated in three partisan contests at yesterday's Massachusetts municipal elections and Republicans were elected in several cities ostensibly nonpartisan.

The Worcester mayoralty, which was regarded by some political observers as a test of the strength of Gov. James M. Curley, Democrat, was won by Walter J. Cookson, the Republican candidate, who defeated State Representative Edward J. Kelley, Democratic floor leader of the house. The vote was: Cookson, 36,219; Kelley, 34,095.

In Springfield, Mayor Henry Martens, Republican, was reëlected by a margin of 5,197 votes over Dr. James A. Redden, Democrat.

The Somerville election was nonpartisan, but was considered a Republican victory, with Leslie E. Knox, registered as a Republican, defeating Mayor James E. Hagan, Democrat, by an unofficial margin of 1,400 votes.

Mayor Robert E. Greenwood of Fitchburg, a registered Democrat, won 2 to 1 over Dr. Joseph Carriere, Republican. The contest, however, was a nonpartisan affair.

A recount was started immediately in Cambridge, where John D. Lynch, led John W. Lyons, president of the city council, by only 267 votes in the first count. Both are Democrats.

147 NATURALIZED IN CITIZEN WEEK CEREMONY HERE

Hear Plea for Loyalty to Constitution.

BY KAY HALL.

American citizenship was conferred yesterday by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward upon 147 aliens, including 50 British, 29 Russians, 15 Danish, 10 Dutch, 27 Czechoslovaks, and 16 Jugo-slavs. They were representative of the groups which stand before Judge Woodward three times a week to claim full privileges under the American constitution and to renounce in their oath "all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty."

Yesterday's naturalization ceremony was especially arranged as a Citizenship week observance and Judge Woodward appealed to these new citizens as well as to native Americans to help in "a revival of the spirit which gave rise to our constitution and which may alone protect and preserve it."

Faces Reveal Emotion.

The approved candidates were arranged in a square on the green carpet before the bench. There was restrained emotion in their faces as they awaited the oath.

Judge Woodward, black robed, mounted the bench, and Fred J. Schlotfeldt, director of immigration and naturalization for the Chicago district, stepped forward and presented the petitioners.

The clerk, Albert L. Van Alstyne, read the oath six times. On the first reading the British subjects held up their hands and renounced allegiance to "George V., by the grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland, and the British dominions beyond the sea, king, defender of the faith, emperor of India."

The designations for the abjurations of the other nationalities were the "state of Russia"; "Christian X., king of Denmark and Iceland"; "Wilhelmina, queen of the Netherlands"; "the Czechoslovak republic," and "Peter II., king of Jugo-Slavia."

Judge Defines Allegiance.

To some the grant of citizenship was so important that their eyes glistened with tears and they replied affirmatively to the second part of the oath: "I will support and defend the constitution and laws of the United States of America against all enemies, foreign and domestic."

"The oath of allegiance does not mean that you have pledged your loyalty to any individual or group of individuals who may for the time being be possessed of the offices and powers of government," Judge Woodward told them. "Your oath has a deeper significance. It is a pledge of loyalty and fidelity to the great principles of human liberty embodied in the constitution of the United States.

"No amount of exposition of the mechanics of the constitution can infect you with its spirit. During the early and formative days of the republic the American people took a lively interest in their constitution. In the course of the years that interest declined.

"A Sad Commentary."

"It is a sad but truthful commentary that few of our own people, born, reared, and educated under the protection of its basic principles and eternal virtues, understand its underlying philosophy. Unless we have a revival of the study of the history of our government and the nature of our constitution we cannot expect the newly naturalized citizen to be invested with its spirit."

The average term of residence of those taking the oath was 12 years. Five years' residence is required and a two year lapse of time from the filing of first papers or "declaration of intention." Three fees during the two year process amount to $10, which in ordinary cases completely defrays the cost of becoming an American citizen.

WIDOW IDENTIFIES CHAUFFEUR WHO LED HER TO SCHULTZ DEN

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Frances Flegenheimer, the widow of Dutch [Arthur Flegenheimer] Schultz, today identified Michael [Mickey the Mock] Marks, former chauffeur for Schultz, as the man she talked with at the Palace chop house, a Newark restaurant, shortly before the murder of her husband and three of his henchmen on the night of Oct. 23.

Mrs. Flegenheimer confronted Marks in the office of Prosecutor William Wachenfeld. Pointing, Mrs. Flegenheimer said: "He is the man who met me at the door of the Palace chop house and took me to the rear room where my husband was on the night of the shooting."

"That is not true," replied Marks, unruffled. "I don't know her and I never saw her before."

Marks has been questioned for several days by police in connection with the shooting.

PEACOCK WINDOW BANDITS HUNTED AFTER 2D ATTACK

CRIMINAL COURT.

Bernard Stromberg and Perry Winkler, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in the penitentiary by Judge John C. Lewe.

James C. Merritt, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

The Central police were searching yesterday for three men who early in the day smashed a display window in the C. D. Peacock & Co. jewelry store at 11 East Monroe street and escaped with old gold and silverware valued at $500. It was the second time within ten days looters have smashed a window of the store. The three men drove up in an automobile and one of them pointed a shotgun at Thomas Murphy, 2113 Ogden avenue, a taxicab driver, whose car was parked near by. The two other bandits smashed the display window with an iron bar and seized the goods on display. As the men were driving away the shotgun was discharged in the air. Otto Hildebrandt, 3301 North Oakley boulevard, a private watchman for the jewelry company, fired three shots at the fleeing robbers.

On Oct. 27 three men took jewelry valued at $1,200 after smashing a window and critically wounding Charles Biell, 50 years old, 1731 North Mayfield avenue, a watchman, who saw them as they were about to drive away.

Change Plans for Building Highway Police Stations

A change in plans for the construction of two new county highway police stations was announced yesterday by Lester J. Laird, chief of the highway police. The county board last week had decided to build a station at Homewood this year and one at Willow Springs in 1936. The Willow Springs station will be the first constructed, Laird said, because it is the more important of the two and the present facilities are inadequate.

SET UP HOSPITAL COUNCIL TO PUSH HEALTH PLANS

Study of Low Cost Group Service to Be Made.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Chicago Hospital council was organized last night at the Union League club as a completing agency in the general health field to make secure the city's position as the acknowledged medical center of the country. Charles H. Schweppe, president of the board of St. Luke's hospital, was elected head of the council by the organizing group, composed of representatives of trustee boards, medical stafs, and superintendents of leading hospitals of the metropolitan area.

It was announced that the council is being adequately financed for its first year's work and that invitations to join the council will be sent at once to approved hospitals of the city. One of the recent trends adverse to private hospitals, set forth in a statement of the reasons for the council's organization, was "the imposition on independent hospitals by governmental agencies."

Study Group Hospitalization.

The first study to be undertaken by the council will be on plans for local adoption of some "group hospitalization" program which will bring adequate hospital care to people of moderate incomes without resort to charity.

A group plan was recently set up by leading hospitals of New York which provides needed hospital care to its members at a premium rate of 3 cents a day. About 25,000 persons are already enrolled in the plan.

It was pointed out that group hospitalization requires coöperation of all approved hospitals of a community if it is to be operated under a nonprofit charter and if it is to permit the patient to select the hospital he wishes to patronize.

Chicago's position as a medical center was emphasized by the council organizers who pointed out that Chicago has five class A medical schools; is the national headquarters of the American Medical association, the American Hospital association, and the American College of Surgeons. Added were facts that there are 132 Chicago hospitals which have 23,301 beds, and represent a capital investment of 90 million dollars. There are twenty hospitals which alone have equipment worth 35 million dollars. Virtually all of these were represented at the meeting.

Urges Closer Coöperation.

Closer coöperation between all these institutions on mutual problems, Mr. Schweppe stated, would bring about a distinct advance, not only to individual hospitals but in service to patients. Three general departments of work were set up last night. These are public relations, or education of the public in use of hospitals; researches and studies, including group hospitalization, and general hospital planning for increasing efficiency and adequacy.

Officers and trustees elected include Perry Addleman, director; Alfred C. Meyer, president of Michael Reese hospital board; the Rev. John Barrett, diocesan director of Catholic hospitals; Taylor Strawn, of Grant hospital; Dr. A. C. Bachmeyer, of the University of Chicago clinics; Dean Irving S. Cutter, of Northwestern university medical school, and J. Dewey Lutes, of Ravenswood hospital.

JOHN ERSKINE HURT IN MICHIGAN WHEN AUTO, TRUCK CRASH

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—John Erskine, novelist, lecturer and former professor at Columbia university, was injured today when the car in which he was being driven from Lansing en route to a Detroit lecture collided with a state highway department truck near Brighton.

Erskine was taken to Ford hospital, Detroit, where physicians said he suffered a broken nose, dislocated finger and is suffering from shock.

Edgar Harlan Clark, president of the Clark Investment company of Lansing, who was driving, was more seriously injured. He suffered fractures and concussion of the brain. G. C. Truax, driver of the truck, escaped injury.

VANDALS STRIP UNFINISHED HOME IN LAKE COUNTY

Deputy Sherif Harry Quadt of Lake county yesterday reported to Sherif Lawrence Doolittle that vandals had caused damage estimated at $20,000 to the unfinished home that was started in 1930 by Earle Reynolds on his estate a mile north of Lake Bluff on Green Bay road. Doors and windows had been carried away and copper and other metals removed from the roof, supposedly to be sold as junk. The structure was to have cost $200,000. Mr. Reynolds, former Chicago banker, now resides in California and the property is being managed by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

BURNED AS STOVE EXPLODES.

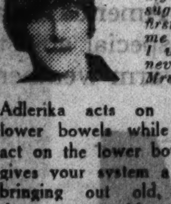
BLOATED ALL THE TIME, CAN'T EAT OR SLEEP



"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better."—Mrs. Jas. Filler.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerika gives your system a thorough cleansing bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

GIN WEDDING BAN IN WAUKEGAN NO HELP TO INDIANA

Crown Point Not After That Trade, Anyway.

Midnight marriages have not increased in Crown Point, Indiana's gretna green, despite the ban put on gin weddings at Waukegan. Nor does Crown Point plan any such reforms as were put into effect in Lake county, officials said. Russ Alford, the new Lake county clerk, announced no marriage licenses would be issued after office hours.

Walter Mybeck, chief deputy clerk at Crown Point, said he was certain his office has enjoyed no pickup in night wedding trafic and fees since the clerks, justices of the peace, and marrying parsons in Waukegan have started going to bed at the conventional hour and staying there.

"We don't get that kind of trade anyway," said Mr. Mybeck. "Anybody who goes into a divorce court and says he got his license here while he was drunk any time in the last four years is a liar.

Why They Do It.

"We just don't tolerate it, that's all. And besides that, we turn away about sixty-five couples a month because they are under age, no matter what they offer to pay. After all, the only reason people come here to get married is because they don't want to miss a day's work."

Both Mybeck and Deputy Harold Heyer, the man who gets out of bed and decides whether people are drunk or not, averred that the present season is slack.

"They don't get married in cold weather," said Mr. Mybeck.

Competition continues keen among the justices of the peace and preachers who don't mind getting up on cold floors to unite eloping couples. Although the veteran "marrying j. p." Howard H. Kemp was not reëlected this year, he is still in the competition. He organized "the Church of the Populace" and so changed his title from justice of the peace to "reverend."

Minister Still in Running.

Prayer meetings are now held in his office, but do not interfere with wedding business. Three justices, Harvey Minas, Arthur Taylor, and John Kroft, are in the running, and the Rev. Oscar H. Stevens, who figured in last year's price cutting war between the professional "marryers," still has his sign out.

Observers say, however, that the man who has a slight edge on all the others now is Justice of the Peace Clarence Kitchell of Ross township, about five miles north of Crown Point, who has a sign out at the intersection of the Lincoln highway and state road 55 advertising the marriage service for only $2. Couples from Chicago can see the sign on their way into Crown Point to get the license.

Slugged and Robbed by Passenger, Autoist Says

G. P. Mylotte, 410 Diversey parkway, was found in a dazed condition at Clark and La Salle streets early yesterday. He told the police he was driving home Tuesday night when at Cedar and State streets he picked up a young man. The man slugged him, took his watch, pushed him out of the car and drove away, Mylotte said.

BILLY SUNDAY, EVANGELIST, IS TAKEN BY DEATH

eloquence and almost accusatory denunciation of sin—individual if the shoe fit and all right if it didn't—he soared to heights of evangelistic effort never before seen or heard.

With his intensity he would strip down to his shirt, with sleeves rolled up and collar off, before his audience barely had time to realize that he had thrown off coat and vest.

The evangelist was a good manager. He made a good bargain, a fair one, with cities that sought him after he had become a phenomenon in his line. Financially, his "protracted meetings" in a town or city, regardless of the population he had to draw from, were always successful. One of the biggest of the successes he made in Chicago in the spring of 1918. Thousands were converted and money rolled in.

Had a Great Organization.

Sunday had a complete organization, including his own choir. During the early part of the world war British officials and business men combined in an invitation to him to take his organization to England to help in the campaign against drink, which was then under way there, as an aid to the allied cause.

But Sunday declined, saying he wanted to continue his work in his native land.

After this country entered the war he combined his religious work with war work, speaking in many parts of the country in support of patriotism. In December, 1917, one of his war talks in Atlanta, Ga., led to an attack on him by a German sympathizer who had taken a front row seat. The evangelist was holding his own in a fist fight with the assailant when the police came and took the man away.

Controversy Takes His Trail.

No sooner had the spectacular apostle attained fame than controversy took his trail. He was berated by churchmen and laymen alike, was sued and vilified. He was accused of plagiarizing.

These lawsuits usually dragged along until nothing of any consequence was to be remembered about them.

Many ministers of the Gospel deplored Sunday's methods, but they would say he did have religion. The late Rev. W. E. Barton once said of him: "Every great evangelist is a law unto himself. If he were like other men he would not be an evangelist. The qualities that make a minister a good pastor do not make him a good evangelist, and vice versa."

Sunday would always answer the men of the cloth who took him to task with the remark that all he was doing was "preaching the old style religion—which is good enough for me and for all."

In his early days in evangelism, just emerging as he had from the strenuous life of the ball parks, Sunday was once in awhile given to outbursts of personal emotion outside the pulpit.

On one of these occasions he went on a wrecking expedition into the plant of a publishing company at Hammond, Ind., where he destroyed several plates of a book entitled "The Life and Labors of the Rev. William A. [Billy] Sunday," several copies of which book, he said, had been printed without his permission.

His wife, who became affectionately known as "Ma" Sunday, was Helen A. Thompson. She was born in Dundee, near Elgin, and was brought up on the west side of Chicago, attending the old Skinner school. She married Sunday in 1888 and in his evangelistic field she became a vital part of his success.

SECOND PRISON STABBING VICTIM IS NEAR DEATH

Officials at Joliet penitentiary admitted yesterday that a second convict is near death as a result of a stabbing within the prison walls. The convict is Lawrence Marzano, 30 years old. He was stabbed two weeks ago in the mess hall, and at first authorities at Joliet said that his injuries were slight. Yesterday, however, they disclosed that he is being given blood transfusions to keep him alive.

The other convict stabbed was William Neill, serving a 30 year term for murder, who was killed in the prison yard. Neill reputedly met his death because he welshed on a debt in a racing handbook which convicts were operating inside the walls.

State's Attorney Will R. McCabe of Will county announced yesterday that evidence against Frank Piazzi, suspect in the Neill murder will be presented to the grand jury next week. Piazzi is serving a sentence in the prison for killing a Chicago policeman. The grand jury is also to investigate the escape of Henry [Midget] Ferenkes, who committed suicide after his recapture in Chicago, Mr. McCabe said.

CHICAGO LIQUOR FIRM CHARGED IN FEE EVASION SUIT

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Charging that a conspiracy existed to defraud Missouri out of license fees, E. J. Becker, state liquor control supervisor, cited the Francis Cropper company of Chicago today to appear here Nov. 19 and show cause why its permit should not be revoked.

The Cropper company, Becker said, has a $500 nonresident wholesale license to do business in Missouri, but is handling liquor for fifteen wholesalers from Illinois, thereby defrauding the state of $7,000 in fees annually.

COURT APPOINTS ATTORNEY TO AID EDITOR LIGGETT

Weakness in Law Noted by Judge; State Rests.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Lyle Pettijohn, St. Paul attorney, was appointed counsel late today to direct the defense of Walter W. Liggett. This action was taken by Judge Albert H. Enerson after the state had rested its case, in which the Minneapolis weekly newspaper editor is charged with a statutory offense.

It came after the editor, acting as his own attorney, had been reprimanded frequently for his lack of knowledge of legal procedure, and had met with sharp criticism from prosecuting attorneys as he outlined his defense.

In this outline Liggett said his defense would be twofold. "First, I absolutely deny any such offense as the state charges," Liggett declared, "and I will prove this by competent, unprejudiced testimony of disinterested persons."

Political Attack Halted.

"I am absolutely convinced," he continued, "that I can show why th' filthy, foul charge was placed against me through deliberate perjury. I think I can produce evidence to give a clue why certain powerful political enemies have sought to destroy me and my newspaper."

Liggett told of his newspaper, the Mid-West American, which has been carrying on a campaign against Gov. Floyd Olson and his Farmer-Labor administration, saying that "a political newspaper" was the only kind he knew how to run.

It was when he launched into an outright attack on the Farmer-Labor administration that objections were sustained by the court, cutting short his outline. He then called his first witness, whom he intended should testify as to the veracity of the two girls involved in the case.

Labor Leader on Stand.

Liggett, however, could not lay a legal foundation for the witness. The appointment of Pettijohn at the state's expense came as he told the court "I obviously can't hit the proper formula to get the testimony out of this witness."

Through direct questioning, Ellis testified that he brought the girls from their Austin homes to Minneapolis on March 22, 1934. His testimony agreed with theirs, given earlier, as to the circumstances surrounding their request to accompany him, and also concerning the trip itself.

Girls' Charges Are Denied.

He said that he obtained a room for them at a Minneapolis hotel after they had been unable to contact relatives. He denied all of their subsequent story concerning the alleged attack, and told the court that Liggett had been in the room at his invitation slightly more than an hour; that the girls came in from their own room after Liggett arrived, and that the editor at no time was alone with either of the girls or out of his sight.

The witness said the girls were fully dressed, that after a lengthy argument concerning labor policies, Liggett left by the outer door and the girls returned to their room through a bathroom which connected with his room. He denied that they had ever complained to him of an attack of any kind.

Liggett Scores with Girl Witness.

Liggett, while acting as his own attorney, scored several points in the cross-examination of Teresa Hall, witness for the state, who is alleged to have turned on the lights in a Minneapolis hotel room and observed the actions with which the editor is charged.

These points were made in questioning the 18 year old Austin girl about conversations she testified she had with Mrs. Edith Liggett, wife of the defendant, who is acting as the editor's adviser in his trial.

In previous testimony it had been brought out that a man who represented himself as a "bill collector" had been the first person the girl had talked with about the affair, which is alleged to have occurred nearly a year before that conversation.

"Debt" Used as Pressure.

The Hall girl today testified, in answer to Liggett's questions, that the "bill collector" had told her that Liggett owed a lot of money and that he wanted her to sign a statement to be used in forcing the editor to pay up.

"Did you tell my wife that the collector told you that if you didn't sign, he would tell your parents about your going to Minneapolis?"

"Yes."

"It was as a result of these threats that you went to Minneapolis and made the statement?"

"Yes."

Efforts at this point to introduce testimony that the girl was under a two year suspended sentence for delinquency were overruled.

TEXAS EDITORS BEAT MUZZLING BY TRIAL JUDGE

Right to Tell News of Court Upheld.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Ruling that district judges have no authority to "muzzle the press" by forbidding newspapers to publish testimony taken at a public criminal trial, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today ordered six Houston newspaper men released from contempt charges.

"In the nature of things," the court's opinion said, "the proceedings of public trials constitute news which newspapers have the right to publish in informing the public of current events."

Six Get $375 Fine.

The newspaper men were held in contempt by District Judge M. S. Munson at Angleton after they refused to obey an order prohibiting publication of testimony in the trial of Clyde Thompson, life termer being tried for the murder of a fellow convict.

Judge Munson fined the editors of three Houston papers $100 each and their reporters $25 each on charges of contempt. He had ordered publication of the trial proceedings withheld on the ground that it would impede selection of juries in two cases connected with the Thompson trial.

The editors and reporters were George W. Cottingham and Ed Rider of the Houston Chronicle, M. H. Jacobs and Frank White of the Houston Post, and E. M. Pooley and Harry McCormick of the Houston Press.

Appeal on Rights Basis.

They appealed the fines and the high court upheld their contention that the papers had a constitutional right to publish trial proceedings and that the privilege had not been abused.

"It is conceded," the court said, "that they published a true and impartial statement of the testimony adduced during the trial of Thompson, the proceedings of which were public pursuant to the command of the tenth section of the bill of rights."

ACTRESS JULIA HOYT PLANS TO TAKE THIRD MARRIAGE VOW TODAY

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Julia Hoyt, actress, and Aguita C. Giles, who is associated with the Trans Lux corporation, obtained a marriage license in the municipal building today and said they were to be married tomorrow. It will be the third marriage for both.

Miss Hoyt gave her age as 33 and said her first marriage, to Lydig Hoyt, ended in divorce in 1923, in Paris, and her second, to Louis Calhern, actor, also ended in divorce, in Reno, in August, 1932. She is the daughter of Julian W. Robbins.

Giles said he was 35 years old. He was born in Bayshore, N. Y., the son of Lewis C. Giles. His first marriage ended in divorce at White Plains in 1924 and his second marriage also terminated in a divorce in 1932 in Connecticut.

REPUBLICAN GAINS.

In elections in a number of pivotal states Republicans made substantial gains. In New York the Republican majority in the general assembly was recovered. In city elections Democratic mayors were replaced by Republicans. In Philadelphia a Democratic New Dealer backed by Gov. Earle's Democratic and New Deal state organization was defeated. Republicans took control of the New Jersey legislature. In Ohio Cleveland elected a Republican mayor and in other municipal elections the Republicans had the margin.

These gains are taken on the Republican side as indicative of a break away from Roosevelt socialism and on the Democratic as negligible symptoms of only local significance devoid of any national political import. The Republican assumptions have the support of previous results in Rhode Island, where the New Deal was squarely turned down both as to candidate and as to policies, and, to mention another, in Pennsylvania, where a constitutional revision along New Deal lines was rejected.

It is of course certain that if the results had been the other way about in all these instances Mr. Farley would have claimed that everything was over but the shouting and Mr. Roosevelt's smile would have been of greater conviction and confidence. If the New Deal had won in Rhode Island and in Pennsylvania, if it had retained control of the New York legislature, and if Republican efforts to come back had been snubbed and frozen, the portent would have been assumed at once to prove that the opposition was dead and would remain lifeless. The signs to the contrary are apparent.

The gains are noteworthy, but they are in midfield and it's a long way to a touchdown. The Republican party has been given proof that in the sections which must be carried for the election of a President there is a genuine fear of the Democratic party in its new socialistic garments and a growing and swelling revolt against methods and policies abnormal in American government and inimical to its principles. The political objections to Mr. Roosevelt's government are strong and they are gaining their stride, but they have much to contend with, not the least being the direct subsidy of so many classes of voters by the federal treasury under New Deal burocracy in the guise of recovery and relief. The Republicans to combat these subsidies, subventions, pay checks, and promises of direct benefit, with the entrapment of giddy voters, must offer an outstanding honesty and sincerity of purpose. If they are to get out of midfield and down to the goal line they must be proved up in the unselfishness of their party program, a program resting upon the will and purpose of hundreds of thousands of American citizens concerned only for their country's security and welfare.

Intrigue, machine control, selfish ambitions, unworthy partisanship, will not win the support of people anxious to act wisely in critical times for their country. Republicans need discipline and self-denial. When a democracy is confronted with such issues as this one it must rely upon purifying influences and in times past it has been able to do so. The opportunity presented to the Republican party is such a trust as a democracy must be able to repose in the party of opposition when government has fallen into the hands of willful men who are taking the wrong course and persisting in destructive methods.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE GOES YOUTHFUL.

If the antics of the boys of Williams college in deriding Red, White, and Blue day were not in the best collegiate tradition, neither are they anything to get steamed up about.

"Bright college years with pleasure rife, the shortest, gladdest days of life," as one college song expresses it to the music of the inspiring Prussian national hymn, are the lightest, the most irresponsible years in the journey from the cradle to the unknown.

Freed from the authority of the paternal roof, but still supported by the parental purse, congregated in delightful surroundings with just enough work to keep the mind from utter fallowness, the college youth passes through the flower of childhood before entering the world of effort and endeavor.

Freshman rushes, bottle nights, and mud battles are customary expressions of youth and irresponsibility. An occasional Red, White, and Blue day may happen in the best regulated university.

Let no one revile Williams college. The manner in which its youngsters chose to make the first page will not bring it undying glory, but it will not do the college or any of its students any permanent harm.

THE FUTURE OF AVIATION.

The series of airplane accidents that has occurred in recent weeks, although regrettable in the extreme, must not be overemphasized. Such catastrophes ever have been milestones in the progress of transportation. The tragedies should not shake the faith of the public in the ability of air transportation finally to triumph over the elements.

Ever since man devised the first artificial method of locomotion, nature has been exceedingly cruel in its resistance to his efforts to promote social intercourse, welfare and happiness through abridging distances. Mounted on horseback, the early traveler was exposed to the temper of the animal. The adaptation of the steam engine to transportation met with terrific obstacles. However romantic they may appear in retrospect, the steamboats on our inland rivers offered an extremely hazardous medium of conveyance. Boiler explosions with long casualty lists were common occurrences. The railroads, too, had their era of collisions, rail failures, and man failures. Progress toward their present record of safety was snaillike and at times interrupted by relapses just as disheartening as any situation that has ever faced the air lines.

The current troubles of the latter seem of lesser significance in the light of their youth and when compared with the histories of what are now established modes of transport. Only a few short years ago an airplane flight was but the successor to the familiar balloon ascension and parachute jump at county fairs and Fourth of July celebrations. The early flying machine was the vehicle of the daredevil. Under present conditions, and with the record of millions of miles of safe flying in public service to its credit, our confidence in the soundness of aviation is unimpaired.

CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN.

Another parolee is now in the hands of the police, charged on the evidence of the victim with the crime of rape. Waiving the parole aspect of this affair, the offense, whoever was guilty, is one which has become in recent years and notably in recent months one of the most alarming manifestations of crime in this country. When, as very frequently, it is committed by individuals criminally psychopathic who are virtually, in the old term, deranged in this respect at least, the offender is probably not to be deterred by legal penalties however certain and severe. He is not governed by reason or restrained by the thought of consequences. As to such cases the problem is the difficult one of discovering these dangerous defectives and submitting them to permanent segregation and restraint. We are far from the establishment of any such effective system of social surveillance and control, but it is of first rate importance that we should keep persistently working toward it. It is a job for the scientist, the criminologist and the lawmaker in coöperation.

But apart from this relatively small class, there is what seems to be a larger number of offenders who are not the victims of ungovernable impulses, psychopathic cases, but are merely lacking in decent moral inhibitions or in respect for womanhood, seeking only their own pleasure, without regard for the rights or the happiness of others. This larger class of offenders steal, rob, and even murder and rape through selfishness and gross habits of thought and feeling. The problem of dealing with them is one of moral training, a responsibility of the home, the school, and the church, but offenders of this order are also influenced by punishment and it is the responsibility of the police and the courts to see that it is expeditiously and forcefully applied. So far as this class of offenders is concerned, certain and severe punishment will have a deterrent effect and we do not think that some of our local judges and juries have been sufficiently impressed with their duty in this respect. For one reason or another offenders against women have been let off with penalties seriously disproportionate to the gravity of the crime. There are mitigating circumstances which ought to be taken into account, but in notorious instances, and in many more which have escaped notice, they have been given too much weight. In cases of clear violence upon innocent and respectable women the penalty should be as severe as the law permits. In some states it is death and it should be in Illinois. It may not be often applied, but the threat of it would be wholesome as a deterrent influence upon the large class of cynical and reckless youth.

WILMETTE HARBOR.

The application of the North Shore Harbor association for an allotment of federal funds to improve Wilmette harbor deserves favorable consideration by the war department engineers and by the administration. Wilmette harbor affords a location for the only coast guard station in the fifty mile stretch of shore line between Chicago and Kenosha, Wis.

While it has few commercial aspects to recommend it, the basin being completely surrounded by parks and exclusively residential districts, aquatic sports alone instill in the project a wholesome measure of keen popular interest. Public money provides highways for the motorists, golf courses, bathing beaches, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, football gridirons, and even roque courts. Why not harbors for the yachtsmen? There are hundreds of them on Long Island sound and along the Atlantic coast. Chicago has three well patronized anchorages and it seems certain that further development of the sport is being curtailed by the lack of facilities which in the very nature of things cannot be provided by the owners of pleasure boats or by clubs. Approval of the application of the North Shore Harbor association would give much needed assistance to a sport that is both healthful and exhilarating. If any one doubts the statement, let him angle for a berth some Sunday morning aboard a member of the fleet of star boats which forms the nucleus of the Wilmette yachting center.

[Idaho Statesman, Boise.]

Hardly noticeable in a recent issue of the Statesman was a brief two sentence quotation from a Minnesota publication. The facts set forth would warant repeating a thousand fold. They were:

"If you like to be staggered here are some figures that should do the trick for you. If you were to get $24 a minute it would take you 2,000 years to earn the money the government has spent in the last three years."

No other comment is necessary.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A VERY OPEN LETTER TO THE FILIPINOS.

Dear Little Brown Brothers: You have a large section of our congress now in your midst or soon to arrive. Here's the proposition: Why not trade your congress for ours? The idea is that you keep our congress and send your Filipino congress over in place of 'em. We're willing to trade fifty-fifty, but you will probably insist on us throwing in something to boot. Well, I don't know but that you'd be right. And, looking the facts squarely in the face, I believe we would be quite willing to throw in a lot to boot if we could make the trade. We'd be bound to get the best of the bargain anyhow, because the last congress cost us up into the billions and billions. Your Filipino congressmen smoke cheroots, which cost uno centavo apiece, and wear their shirts outside of their pants and care a great deal more about cock fighting than grand opera. In other words, if you are not a more primitive people you are a much simpler people than we are and you think in terms of silver pesos and centavos instead of a billion dollars at a crack. If you were sitting down under the big gold dome in Washington you wouldn't dream of soaking us taxpayers the way our own congress did. And when the New Dealers marched in and told you what to do—well, I hope you bring your machetes with you and your bolo knives. In which case the New Dealers wouldn't come near you, but call you up on the telephone and then what you wouldn't do to that telephone with your machetes and bolo knives would be simply nobody's business. Oh, do let us trade congresses. We don't know how much you are going to ask to boot, but whatever it is you can have it. It will be worth it to us. Yours merrily,

John Taxpayer.

P. S.—You see, the worst your Filipino congress could do in Washington even if it was to try and imitate our own congress would be to pass a works relief bill of four billion eight hundred million centavos. But what would we care? Four billion eight hundred million Filipino centavos in our money would be only one dollar and thirty-five cents, a used transfer on the North Clark street car line, and a pair of old suspenders. Ha, ha! let 'em shoot the works!

RHYMES FOR MY SMALL DAUGHTER.

THE KATYDID.

The katydid's a tattletale;
I do not like his song.
He ought to let poor Katy tell
If she did something wrong.

And yet, if she did something nice,
Perhaps he is so proud
Of Katy that he likes to sing
About it very loud.

THE RUMBLE SEAT.

We have a new roadster; it's dark red and shiny
And oh, the inside of the car's very tiny!

And that's what I like best of all, don't you see,
Because they can hardly make room there for me

So, if I sit still and don't stand on my feet,
They let me ride back in the rumble seat!

WHEN IT'S RAINING.

When it's raining is the time
That I like best to go
Out walking. When I'm by myself
I always walk quite slow

And let the cool bright raindrops fall
Upon my face and hair
And step in puddles and get just
As splattered as I dare!

THE SCARLET MULE.

You've read about the purple cow,
But did you ever see
A scarlet mule? Well, I've seen two;
In fact, they live with me.

They stand on mummy's closet shelf,
And what I say is true,
Because this kind of mule is just
A little satin shoe!

SNOWFLAKES.

I often wonder when I see
The soft white snowflakes fly
If they are petals falling
From some garden in the sky.

I wonder if a lovely angel
In a shining gown
Plucks the blossoms and then shakes
The petals softly down.

ADELAIDE LOVE.

THE FAT WOMAN on the bus was saying to her friend: "Yes, my dear, I've got high blood pressure. Oh, indeed, I have; the doctor said so." "Why," said the friend, "I thought you told me you had sinus trouble." "Oh, no; that was ages ago. Of course, nobody that is anybody has sinus trouble any more. Nowadays high blood pressure is the most fashionable disease there is. Goodness, one might as well have appendicitis as sinus trouble, and you know smart people stopped having appendicitis ten or fifteen years ago." "Well, I think I have sinus trouble anyhow," insisted the friend. "Don't be mid-Victorian," snorted the fat woman, "or some museum will grab you and tack you up on the wall alongside the dodo. If you get sick these days don't let it be anything but high blood pressure." "Well," said the friend, resignedly, "I'll try."

"SCOTCH RIOT in Dole Relief in Glasgow."—Cable news. Why in the world are the Scotch on the dole? From the price I have to pay for a bottle of Scotch the few times I am able to buy it I had been picturing every Scotsman in Scotland living in a castle with seven butlers, twenty-two cooks, nine high powered automobiles, twenty-four diamond wrist watches, sixteen silk hats, and eating his haggis out of solid gold bowls. AMEBIC INFECTION.

To most of us the intestinal tract is unexplored territory. We have never had occasion to think about it because it has failed to trouble us. It is probably a good thing that we live from day to day unaware of the remarkable and intricate reactions taking place within our bodies. It is only when something goes wrong that the messenger pain demands attention.

There are many types of intestinal infection. Just at this time of the year we should be on the alert to detect typhoid and paratyphoid as well as those inflammatory conditions caused by intestinal parasites. To the present day protection of our water supplies we owe our relative freedom from typhoid fever.

A parasitic intestinal infection caused by the endameba histolytica has existed within the boundaries of the United States since the Spanish-American war. More cases entered the United States with the returned soldiers from the Philippines than had come previously from all other sources.

How prevalent is the endameba now? A distinguished authority, Charles F. Craig, notes that of more than 50,000 individuals who have been carefully examined 10.1 per cent were found to be infected. If we assume that this ratio is double the normal incidence of the infection it would still give us 6,000,000 persons harboring the parasite.

The fortunate thing about the endameba is that the organism causes symptoms in 50 per cent or less of the infected individuals, although symptoms may develop at any time or as long as the parasites are present in the intestinal tract. If they are found the safe rule is to treat the patient as though serious disease were in the offing.

The question as to just how the endameba is spread is important. Only the parasites that contain cysts are in the infective stage. If these cysts are swallowed in food or drink they pass through the stomach and the small intestine undigested, and it is only when they reach the colon that the cyst walls become dissolved, liberating the young amebæ. The region of the appendix is a common site for propagation. As soon as they are released some of the young forms penetrate the mucous membrane of the intestine; others remain in the intestinal tract and produce cysts, and thus the life cycle is repeated.

We must recall that the cysts are discharged from the bowel of infected persons. Food or drink may thus be fouled by flies or through handling by unclean carriers. Wherever sewage has access to drinking water contamination is possible. The safety of communities in this respect depends entirely upon the proper disposal of sewage. Public water supplies where the water is filtered through layers of sand are safe as far as the endameba is concerned.

Craig says: "The contamination of food and drink by food handlers who are passing the cysts of endameba histolytica is undoubtedly the most common and most important method of transmission in many localities." The number of cysts passed by a carrier in twenty-four hours, according to investigators, may vary from 330,000 to 45,000,000. The average in one carrier for over a period of twenty-six days was 14,000,000. There is probably more infection among food handlers than is generally suspected.

Although we have reliable remedies for the destruction of the endameba, yet the disease often persists for a prolonged period and entails much suffering. Modern drugs such as chiniofon, carbarsone, and vioform are of the greatest value.

In the presence of any epidemic of diarrhea or intestinal disease of any sort search for the presence of endameba should be made. If the parasites are found carriers must be isolated and treated. All food handlers should be instructed in proper personal hygiene, and provision made so that they may wash their hands frequently during the hours of employment. Thorough scrubbing of the hands should be insisted upon following the morning toilet.

COLDS.

S. L. M. writes: I never have colds during the warm weather, but just as soon as fall arrives I have one cold after another. My colds all seem to be in the nose, but do not affect the senses of taste and smell. Does an acid condition cause this trouble?

REPLY.

No! and again No! to the acid condition. Your colds are doubtless local infections to which you are particularly subject. A course of vaccine therapy may be helpful.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania. — Antanas Smetona, president-dictator of Lithuania since May, 1926, may soon be replaced by one of his many rivals for power. The oldest republic in northeastern Europe is tottering before an internal political and economic crisis which is the direct result of President Smetona's policies. A complete reorganization of the government will follow.

The Smetona dictatorship, established by Prof. Augustinas Waldemaras with the aid of the army, is no longer popular. The real "behind the scenes" ruler of the country is said to be Mme. Smetona and because Mme. Waldemaras spread some naughty gossip about Mme. Smetona the president had his old friend imprisoned and organized a campaign to destroy his reputation. The campaign did not succeed and the diminutive professor who is still in jail has a strong following among the Lithuanian army.

On June 7, 1934, a delegation of army officers called on President Smetona and asked him to resign. The president refused but he made a number of promises to the officers which they now claim he failed to keep. His appointment of the youthful and inexperienced Col. Rusteikis, who married his cousin, as chief of the general staf increased the dissatisfaction.

The present government has also lost the support of the peasantry. General poverty and misery are revealed by the following figures:

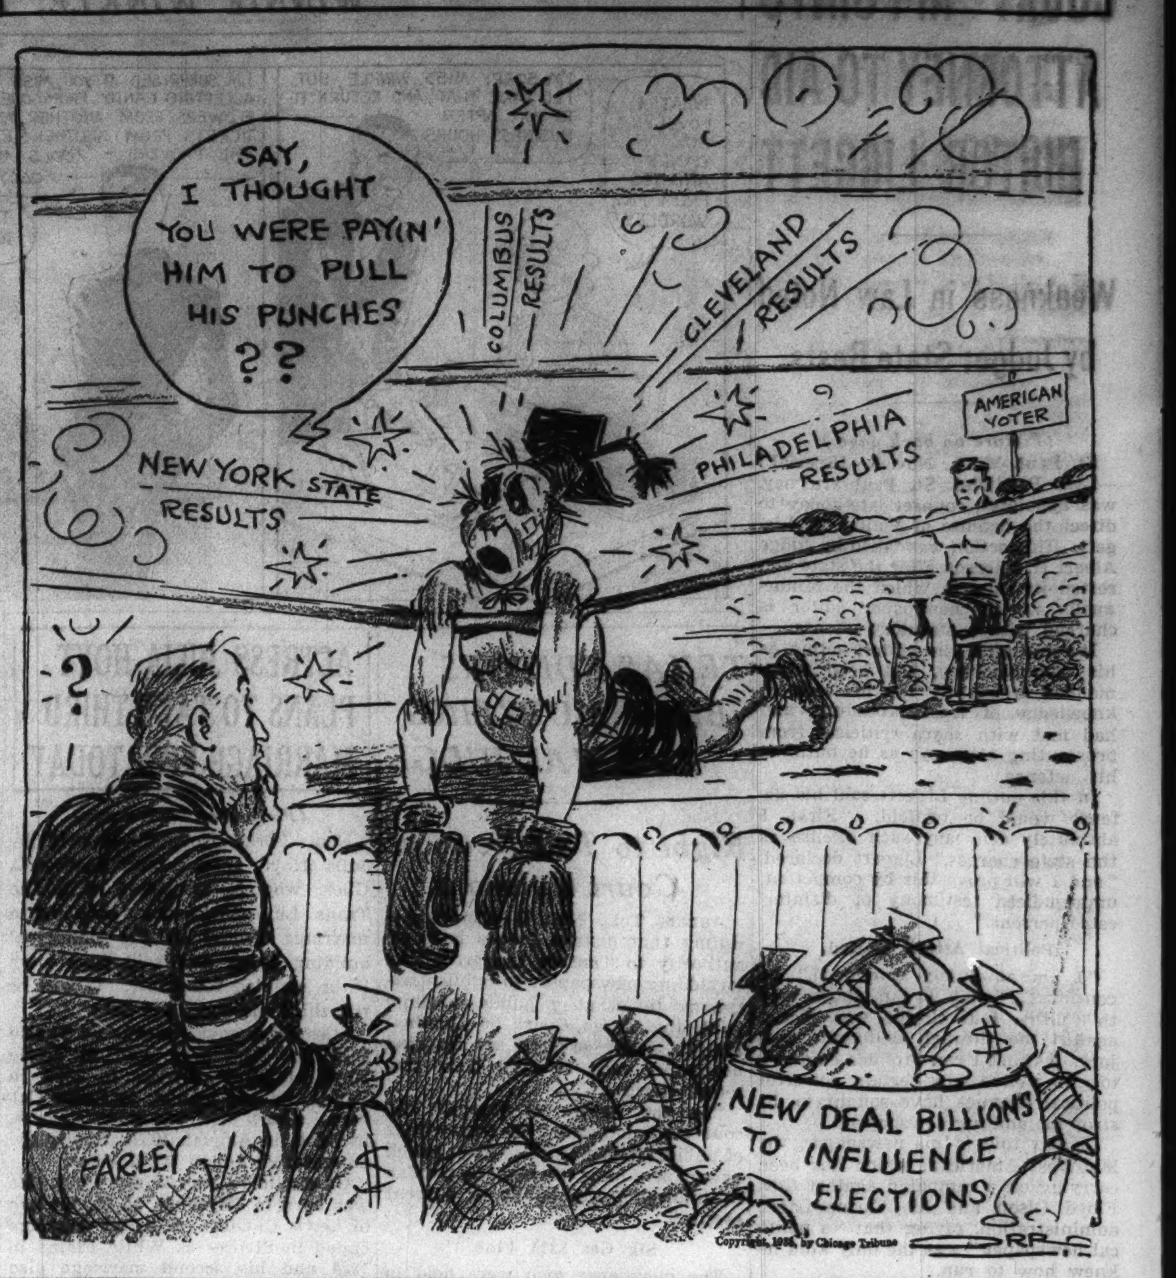
Herring always has been a staple food of Lithuanians. During the first six months of 1930 the country imported 4,129,000 lits' [6 lits equal $1] worth of herring. During the first six months of this year herring imports amounted to 737,000 lits. Sugar production has fallen during the same period from 27,000 tons to 20,000 tons. The consumption of tobacco fell from 4,167 tons to 1,565 tons. The sale of kerosene, which is also used in industry, fell from 1,360,000 lits to 1,100,000 lits. Representatives of foreign oil companies report their sales in the villages have decreased fifty per cent during this period.

Through decreasing the price of vodka the government has helped to maintain the sale. In 1930 a total of 2,600,000 quarts were sold and this year 2,300,000 quarts. The sale of matches, another article of general use, decreased from 31,700,000 boxes to 17,700,000. The consumption of salt showed a slight increase from a value of 848,000 lits to 930,000 lits. This is due to increased consumption by the packing industry. Sales to the population have decreased.

Lithuania's critical economic situation is further confirmed by the State bank, which reports gold coverage has fallen from 78.5 per cent on Sept. 15, 1934 to 42.5 per cent on Sept. 15, this year. During the first six months of last year Lithuania exported to Germany goods worth 23,041,000 lits and imported goods worth 25,456,000 lits. This year for the same period exports totaled 4,507,000 and imports 9,612,000 lits.

Today in Lithuania a peasant must sell three pints of milk in order to buy a box of matches. A bottle of beer costs him eight quarts of milk.

THE FIGHT THAT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE FIXED



VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 wo rds. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

THE OLD FIGHTING SPIRIT.

Oconomowoc, Wis., Nov. 1.—As today is my 77th birthday and as I have all through my life—since I saw my father when he came back a wounded soldier from the battlefield of Petersburg, Va.—been a strong believer in good government as advocated by Abraham Lincoln, I am taking the liberty of writing you.

Your editorial of Oct. 28 entitled "The Republican Candidate" should be printed in letters a foot long on billboards on every highway crossing in the United States, so that it would finally be beaten into the brains of the voters, male and female, all over this good land of ours. Then Herbert Hoover [whom I consider one of the most capable men in all the country to be President] should come out and make it absolutely certain that he is not a candidate, and state without any equivocation whatever that what he most earnestly wants is an American Republican platform resting on the principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence, the constitution, and our Supreme court, and thus put us back where we belong.

Get the right kind of a platform, then get a candidate to fit the platform. Not any of these self-seeking candidates. Not some one who, as Roosevelt did in the campaign, made all kinds of promises and broke them all, even his oath to uphold and support the constitution. Then your paper should go back into the past history of the Democratic party and show that it is not fit or capable to run these United States of America, and show that when Abraham Lincoln was chosen President the Democratic party, with such damned rascals as old Jeff Davis, Bob Toombs, etc., not only would not support Lincoln but actually brought about civil war. Grover Cleveland, a Democrat, was such a good American that when he put into use his beliefs as to what was good for the country the Democratic party practically repudiated him.

Then comes Wilson. Any one with a single spark of intelligence knows that he it was, with his damnable "Keep Us Out of War" slogan, who was the direct cause of this depression. He held us back from preparing against the possibility of our being brought into the war until after he was elected, then got us in, all unprepared. Then never, except in the rebellion, was there ever such cussed utter disregard for good government as was shown by the Democratic congress during the last two years of Hoover's administration. No matter what came up, the idea in the minds of the Democratic congressmen was "To hell with Hoover and the Republican party, and the country, too. We are in the saddle and we are going to rough ride over anything proposed by Hoover. We will remedy all this when we get in."

And what is the result? Franklin D. Roosevelt seems to think and believe he is the smartest man in the whole world and has set about establishing rules and regulations to utterly ignore the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the constitution, and the Supreme court, and has convinced himself that he and his brainless trusters can devise a plan to run the government better than anything laid down by such men as Washington, Franklin, and Hamilton. Your paper should emphasize the fact that whatever little recovery we have had was not brought about by any of the brainless administration, but by the strength of the people, and the greatness of the country, and that what this administration is leading up to is inflation and repudiation.

If you have struggled through this I hope your health won't be impaired.

DANIEL HOWE.

THE COLONIAL MYTH.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Kindly permit a line on your editorial in today's issue on "The Colony Myth." It is true of Italy, France, and even Germany that they do not succeed as colonizers. But can this be applied to the British people? Your reference to western Canada being peopled from, or by, people from the United States, does not tally with the census of that part of the dominion, nor with the voting strength as revealed there during elections. It's a well known fact that western Canada is predominantly settled by people from England. This is also true of Australia, New Zealand and, in large part, of South Africa. True there are not the migrations now that there were before and shortly after the war, for reasons known to you—doors in all countries have been closed—but when they reopen, as evidently they will, once again people from Britain will go forth. What settled America, as well as the great dominions of England, but the colonizing genius of the English race? History on that is already written, and because the Italians are not a colonizing people, as are the British, doubtlessly Ethiopia would be of little value in that respect to them.

THOMAS NEWHAM.

COERCING THE STATES.

South Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 1.—Your editorial of Oct. 31, "Coercing the States," is a case either of "Any stick to beat a dog" or of "Politics makes strange bedfellows."

For, in support of your attack on the federal social security act as coercive of the states, you quote Abraham Epstein's testimony that "this bill is no good."

Are you not aware that the sole ground for objection by this self-styled expert is that the bill leaves any freedom to the states at all? [See page 562 of the Senate Hearings.]

By recognizing Epstein as "an outstanding authority," and by quoting his remarks with approval, you are playing into the hands of those who, like him, believe in roping and hogtying the states, and turning them over, bound and gagged, to federal control.

Why do you thus lend aid and comfort to the enemy?

ELVA STUART.

OPPOSED TO AAA.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Although, as a trustee of two small farms in Illinois, I have joined in the AAA, I am opposed to it and desire to register my vote against it.

I am opposed to it for the reason that I am opposed to limiting or diminishing the bounties that a kindly Providence may be willing to bestow upon this country; and am opposed to cutting down the production of food needed by the hungry poor, which will advance prices for classes better able to store those products, including speculators.

I have joined in the AAA because I did not wish to profit by its price advances without bearing our share of its burdens, but I am opposed to it throughout.

There will be counterbalancing offsets which will more than outweigh any profits gained thereby. We are not through yet with the difficulties the AAA has proposed to cure. When President Roosevelt has exhausted the money he has to spend—and there is an end even to it—and there is no longer money with which to feed the millions of unemployed, and people are starving, high prices will be a barrier to relief.

We will be facing terrible conditions and imploring Providence for His bounties. We will be facing we know not what.

36TH AUTO SHOW TO 'GLORIFY' ALL THE 1936 MODELS

Entire New Lines to Make Dramatic Bow.

Details of the 36th annual Chicago automobile show, opening for eight days on Nov. 16 in the International ampitheater, 43d and Halsted streets, were announced yesterday at a luncheon meeting in the Congress hotel. This Chicago show will be the first in which all new models of all motor cars being manufactured are shown under one roof. There will be no hotel shows.

In addition to the exhibition of every model made by each manufacturerer, which is permitted by the additional space this year there will be an entirely new method of presenting the new models to the public. The show, in the words of A. C. Faeh, manager, will be "glorified" in the Ziegfeld manner, with beautiful manikins, furs and expensive clothing, and a symphony orchestra.

City's Most Comprehensive Show.

Lack of space in previous shows has not only prevented the showing of all models, but it has driven many companies to rent additional space in hotels for private exhibitions. The show this year, however, will have 255,000 square feet of space, compared with only 58,000 square feet at previous shows. The exhibits, to be insured and guarded by special police and detectives, are valued at $3,000,000.

"The new 1936 models range in price from $400 to the $16,000 custom built class," said Mr. Faeh. "The method of showing this year—with beautiful girls, all apropriately dressed in expensive furs and evening gowns for limousines, and dad in sport costumes for sport cars—will make this the supreme effort in dramatic shows."

Once each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and again in the evening at 9:30 o'clock a style drama will be presented in the "Court of Stars."

Pageant of Style and Beauty.

Each model will be brought up on a lift, and rolled forward through the gallery of beautiful girls. Other girls will be riding in the car and will step out to the strains of the motor manufacturing company's theme song, played by Cavello's symphony orchestra. At each performance 21 cars will be shown. There will be two afternoon and two evening performances for each model in each line.

The manikins were selected by beauty experts from a field of 3,000 applicants, and wearing apparel was picked by style experts in coöperation with fur and fashion associations.

As an added spur to attendance a luxury automobile will be given away each day to some patron. Seats are provided in the amphitheater for twelve thousand spectators, with room for as many more on the floor. Free parking space for eight thousand automobiles is provided.

Nancy Carroll and Mallory Divorced for Second Time

Carson City, Nev. Nov. 6.—(AP)—Nancy Carroll, red haired film actress, and Bolton Mallory, former magazine editor, were divorced for a second time in District court here today. Disregarding the Mexican divorce won a few months ago by the already remarried Mallory, Miss Carroll sued for a Nevada decree of her own on grounds of nonsupport and cruelty. Mallory married 14 year old Carlota Lobato in Mexico last August.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

See Big Hemp Market.

November 6, 1935.

FIBER experts believe that with modern means of producing and processing hemp mechanically there is a great outlet for this crop to take the place of jute, a foreign grown material used in the manufacture of burlap and other products. Chicago is one of the great burlap consuming centers of the world, which means that midwest farmers will be near a market for their hemp crop once the fiber finds its way into fabric mills.

According to experts, little burlap made from jute is woven in this country, most of it comes from foreign countries already woven into fabric and ready to be cut up and made into bags and other products. Midwest farmers have demonstrated that hemp can be successfully grown in Illinois and technicians have shown that the fiber can be separated quickly and at a low cost. Processors say the fiber can be produced ready for spinners and weavers at a cost low enough for it to compete favorably with foreign fibers.

"Farmers who have visited the experimental plots at the Tribune Experimental farm say that we have produced hemp this year that is superior to the crop grown around Ottawa," said Carl Henderson, farm manager. "The superiority of our hemp as compared with the hemp grown there is due to several things.

"We used Kentucky seed which apparently is of a much better strain than that used by farmers near Ottawa. We grew our hemp in rows for demonstration purposes, cultivated and weeded it by hand, while the Ottawa farmers drilled or broadcast their hemp and, of course, did not cultivate it.

"No doubt our soil was much richer than theirs. I understand that our hemp was at least twice as tall as the hemp around Ottawa. If we grow hemp on a field basis we would broadcast or drill it. Naturally the hemp plants would not grow so tall and would be smaller, which would be more desirable than some of the coarse stalks grown in our test plots this summer."

Additional tile, 10,000 feet of it, is being laid at the Wheaton farm where continuous effort is being made to drain the land and build up the fertility of the soil. Five thousand feet of tile were put in this week and another 5,000 feet will be laid before severe winter weather sets in. This will make a total of 40,000 feet of tile laid on the farm in two years. Many thousands of feet of tile were laid before last year.

All of the tile is placed at least 30 inches below the surface; some is down six feet. The size of the tile ranges from 4 to 18 inches in diameter, depending upon the amount of water to be carried. The large tile is used to carry off the overflow water from ponds or water from small lateral lines.

Frosts have failed to nip down the tops of the hardy turnips and beets, grown for live stock feed, in the Wheaton test plots. Other test crops have turned brown and most of them have been removed, but the four rows of root crops still streak the field with green. The four varieties—two Swede turnips and two beets—are still growing. They are especially valuable for dairy cows. The Swede turnips of the Quebec Purple Top variety have larger roots than Hall's Westbury growing in a nearby row. Both of the beets or mangel varieties have larger roots than the Swede turnips. Lohr Red Mammoth is much larger than the Yellow Intermediate variety of mangel.

Seeds of these root crops were all planted late but they have made a fair showing. The rows are only a few feet long but there is enough proof in the test plots today to convince practical farmers that either one of these four crops would produce a fair tonnage of roots for feed in this section of the country. The test, although limited to one season, indicates that the Lohr Red Mammoth variety of mangels could be safely tried out on an acreage basis by northern Illinois dairymen next year.

Cow Eats Jackoak Acorns; Milk Kills Two Children

Caney, Kas., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Anderson of Peru, Kas., were dead today because the family cow developed an abnormal appetite for jack-oak acorns. Dr. H. S. Lambdin, who treated the children, said their deaths were due to milk poisoning. Francis Jerome Anderson, 3, died here last Wednesday and his 4 month old sister, Mary Elizabeth, died Monday. Another son, Quinten, was taken to Independence for treatment.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON BRIDGE BILL SET FOR NOV. 12

Group Is Named to Take Testimony.

Ald. William A. Rowan, chairman of the council committee on harbors, wharves and bridges, announced yesterday that public hearings on his ordinance to require pleasure craft, dredges, and pile drivers to move through the Chicago river by night as a means of avoiding unnecessary day time bridge openings will start Nov. 12.

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] was appointed chairman of a subcommittee to conduct the hearings, which are expected to continue for two weeks.

Expects 25 Per Cent Cut.

The bridge opening ordinance was presented to the council in an effort to halt needless delay of street trafic by bridge openings, Ald. Rowan said. He estimates that the measure will reduce the number of such daytime openings by at least 25 per cent.

"I have no objection to the justified opening of bridges for boats carrying cargoes which must reach their destination on schedule," Ald. Rowan said. "But this is not the case with yachts which proceed leisurely through the river while thousands of motorists must wait.

Includes Dredges, Pile Drivers.

"Dredges and pile drivers also can be moved equally well at night, when they will not disrupt trafic."

During a meeting of the committee yesterday Ald. John J. Coughlin [1st] objected to the terms of the ordinance and proposed that pleasure craft be required to have collapsible superstructure which would enable them to pass under closed bridges.

FATHER WANTS TO TAKE SLAYER OF SON IN HOME

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Rev. Benjamin Franklin Root said today he will join in a defense petition to have Mrs. Daisy Alexander Root, 30, accused of the slaying of his only son, Brenton, 32, paroled to him and his wife.

The Chicago clergyman conferred with A. B. Galloway, attorney for his daughter-in-law, a few hours before the funeral of the young son of the Protestant Episcopal rector.

"What I want next is to see the state's prosecutor and see if he will arrange for her parole to us," Mr. Root said. "Mother Root and I and 'my daughter' can raise the little child [a 4 year old grandson, George] in our home under Christian influence and environment.

"My heart goes out to my daughter. A true Christian cannot cherish malice in his heart."

Galloway told Mr. Root he would arrange with District Attorney General W. T. McLain for a conference at the earliest possible time.

McLain said yesterday he would seek Mrs. Root's indictment for first degree murder, and that he would prosecute the case personally.

Sandborn, Indiana, Farmer Observes 100th Birthday

Sandborn, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Edward J. Collins, who resides on a farm near here, today celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary. Mr. Collins still is agile, worked regularly in his garden during the last summer, and until two years ago was active in the direction of his farm.

H. F. OSBORN, 78, SCIENTIST AND EXPLORER, DEAD

Long Known as "Successor of Darwin."

HENRY F. OSBORNE.

Dr. Osborn, who was known as the "successor to Darwin and Huxley" in recognition of his services to science, was born at Fairfield, Conn., on Aug. 8, 1857. His father, William Henry Osborn, was a founder and for many years president of the Illinois Central railroad.

The scientist was one of the outstanding champions of evolution, and at one time engaged in a heated three year long controversy with the late William Jennings Bryan.

"The earth speaks to Bryan," Dr. Osborn once remarked, "but he fails to hear a single sound."

Studied at Princeton.

Dr. Osborn received his early education at the Columbia Grammar school and Lyons Collegiate institute of New York City, later going to Princeton, where he came under the influence of Prof. Arnold Guyot, the geologist.

Immediately after his graduation he took up field work in the Princeton Museum of Geology and Archæology and, in 1877 and 1878, served as leader of the paleontological section of the university expeditions to Colorado and Wyoming.

He later took courses in anatomy and histology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and at Bellevue Medical college. He studied embryology at Cambridge university and comparative anatomy in London under Thomas Huxley. In 1881, he was appointed assistant professor of natural science at Princeton, and two years later was made professor of comparative anatomy.

Goes to Columbia.

He held this post until 1891, when he accepted the call of Columbia university to take the Da Costa chair of biology, and to organize a zoölogical department there.

From 1892 to 1895 he was dean of the faculty of pure science, and in the latter year was chosen to give the inaugural course of public lectures on the history of biology. Later, these lectures were published in his book, "From the Greeks to Darwin."

In 1910 he retired from active teaching at Columbia, although he retained his connection with the university as research professor of zoölogy.

While at the Museum of Natural History he was instrumental in assembling the most extensive collection of vertebrate fossils in existence.

In 1924 he was made senior geologist of the United States geological survey and it was in connection with this position that he brought out "The Titanotheres of Ancient Wyoming, Dakota, and Nebraska," probably his greatest work.

FUGITIVE BOND DEALER SEIZED BY U. S. AGENTS

Frederick Van Ness Person, 52 years old, former president of the Terrill Bond and Mortgage company, 30 North La Salle street, who forfeited a $5,000 bond and disappeared a year ago while awaiting trial for violation of the state blue sky law, has been arrested by federal agents in New York, according to word received here yesterday by Eugene O'Connor, head of the blue sky division of the state's attorney's office.

Person, O'Connor said, will be returned to Chicago today or tomorrow to face federal charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud. He is alleged to have swindled clergymen and elderly women by persuading them to exchange sound securities for worthless bonds and mortgages.

Somerville Thompson's Rites Set for Tomorrow

Funeral services for Somerville W. Thompson, an official of the Commonwealth Edison company, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the chapel at 3905 Lincoln avenue. Burial will be in Acacia Park cemetery. News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Charles [Buddy] Rogers, the film actor and orchestra leader, is to direct Jack Hylton's British orchestra in England while Hylton is in Chicago putting on his CBS radio series titled "You Shall Have Music." Hylton is using a newly organized Chicago orchestra for his radio revue. Hylton's English players are at sea now returning to England. They came over with Hylton, playing one program from aboard the Normandie. Rogers is already in London, where he has been making a picture. The orchestra will play theater engagements and also for dancing and radio.

One member of Hylton's band, in addition to his troupe of entertainers, is still here. He is Alec Templeton, blind boy pianist, who will be featured on several of the future programs if the immigration department gives its approval.

Helen Bennett of radio's three Bennett Sisters incurred a fractured jaw when the car which she was driving crashed into another auto parked without lights on the wrong side of the street Tuesday evening. Miss Bennett in private life is Mrs. Cyrus Collins Jr. of 626 Keystone avenue, River Forest. The accident will force a postponement of the Bennett Sisters plan to join Richard Himber's Champions program in New York next week.

Last summer Mrs. Collins was informed of the serious illness of her son, Cass, through a W-G-N bulletin which reached her through her auto radio while she was driving in the northwoods more than 400 miles from Chicago, enabling her to hurry to his bedside.

Orville Knapp and the Aragon are parting company at the end of this week. Though Knapp drew a lot of favorable comment from W-G-N listeners he didn't attract enough dancers, long followers of Wayne King, to warant keeping him on, in the opinion of the management. Anson Weeks will be brought in after next week. Corey Lynn will play until then. Knapp will probably go to Denver. He came to Chicago from a Hollywood hotel where he was a favorite in the movie colony.

Katherine Avery, who impersonates Greta Garbo with a considerable fidelity on the "Sentimental Selma" sketched aired over WBBM, yesterday disclosed that she has the express permission of the screen star to do so. Miss Avery plays the part of a maid in the home of Garbo's press agent in the sketch.

Edgar Guest has been in Hollywood now for four weeks awaiting the call to go to work on the first of several pictures he is to make. He complains that all he has to do is call for his checks. Meanwhile his contribution to Welcome Valley, aired over NBC Tuesday evenings, is piped in from the west coast.

Horace Heidt and his Brigadiers propose to trace the history of rhythm in their sponsored program at 9 tonight over WBBM-CBS. Aboriginal tribal dances, colonial melodies, Negro plantation strains, and the palpitating tempos of today are to be woven into a single number.

ARTHUR BOSWELL DIES IN MICHIGAN; VETERAN EDITOR

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Arthur Ernest Boswell, 65, editor and manager of the Muskegon Chronicle for the past nineteen years, died today of a heart attack.

Born in Bowmanville, Ont., Boswell entered newspaper work on the Marquette [Mich.] Mining Journal where he remained twenty-four years. In 1913 he came here and established the Muskegon Times, which was merged with the Chronicle three years later.

Four Die in Auto Crash; 17 Children Fatherless

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Seventeen children were left fatherless and four women were widowed in an automobile accident near here, officers said today. Four men were fatally hurt and two seriously injured when the cars in which they rode collided head on yesterday. Of the four dead, Herman M. Johnson, 38, was father of three children; Isaac J. Smith, 46, of four; Henry H. F. Buller, 46, of four, and C. P. Unruh of six children.

Edward J. Carr, Veteran Railway Employe, Is Dead

Edward J. Carr, 65 years old, employé of the North Western railroad for 48 years, died yesterday at his home, 125 North West street, Waukegan, after a brief illness of heart disease. Mr. Carr in recent years had been a conductor on suburban passenger trains. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

CHILD GUIDANCE SESSION HEARS TIPS TO PARENTS

"Get out and stay out. I should have done it myself in the first place." [A parent speaking to a child.]

That isn't the way to bring up children, Dr. Herbert E. Chamberlain, director of the child guidance clinic of the Bobs Roberts hospital, University of Chicago, said yesterday at the annual conference of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education at Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

"Never suggest to a child that you expect him to do the wrong thing," said Dr. Chamberlain. "Do not hold standards too high. Make tasks so simple they can understand and accomplish them."

Dr. Paul Witty, director of the psycho-educational clinic and professor of education at Northwestern university, said parents should recognize the mental behavior of which children are capable at different age levels. A 4 year old child tells imaginary tales, but at 8 years he should distinguish between truth and fiction, and at 12 he should know the meaning of honesty, Dr. Witty said.

John Langdon Davies, English lecturer, author, and educator, will be among today's speakers at the conference.

ITALIAN LEADER FIGHTS CITY BAN AS UNDERTAKER

James P. Marzano, who was, for many years a Republican leader in the old Nineteenth ward, filed a bill yesterday in the Circuit court requesting that the police and the city health department be restrained from interfering with the operation of his undertaking establishment at 931 Polk street.

On June 27 the board of health notified Marzano, Italian leader and a Chicago undertaker for twenty-five years, to show cause why his license should not be revoked. Hearings were held and on Tuesday Marzano was notified that his license was revoked. A policeman was then stationed at the establishment to prevent operation.

In the bill Marzano declared that he did not have a fair hearing and that he was not guilty of violating state or city regulations. He contended also that the ordinance permitting the board of health to revoke such licenses is not valid.

Marzano in 1919 was a candidate for alderman in the Nineteenth ward and in 1930 sought the Republican nomination for congressman at large.

$340,000 ALLOTTED BY U. S. TO BUILD FOREIGN BRIDGES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt extended the Public Works administration program to foreign soil today by approving the expenditure of $340,000 for bridges in three Central American countries to encourage completion of an inter-American highway.

The first construction work will be in Panama, Honduras, and Guatemala. The President has $1,000,000, appropriated by congress in June, 1934, to provide for American cooperation on the highway. It will connect Texas with Panama City and eventually link all parts of North and South America.

Wife of Harry Koenig Dies; Rites Tomorrow Morning

Funeral services for Mrs. Mae Koenig, 50 years old, 7840 Bennett avenue, who died Tuesday night, will be held tomorrow morning from the home to Our Lady of Peace church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Mrs. Koenig was president of the ladies' auxiliary of the church. She is survived by her husband, Harry J. Koenig, an official of Armour & Co., and two sons, the Rev. Harry C. Koenig, librarian of St. Mary's seminary at Mundelein, and John B. Koenig.

William D. Coil, 78, Industrialist, Is Dead

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 6.—(AP)—William D. Coil, 78, industrialist, died here tonight after an illness of two weeks. He was general manager of the Maples Consolidated Manufacturing company of Griffiths and Kansas City, Mo., and a director of the Central Barber Products company of Chicago. He was a member of the Union League club of Chicago and the Kansas City club.

Charlotte Borland Dies in West, Ex-Teacher Here

Miss Charlotte M. Borland, a teacher at the James Monroe school for 22 years until her retirement two years ago, died Tuesday at her home in Portland, Ore., according to word received here last night. Miss Borland was born in Danville, Ill. She is survived by seven sisters. The funeral will be held in Portland.

COURT TO RULE IN 'GIFT OF GOD' BABY LITIGATION

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The long drawn out habeas corpus suit to determine the parentage of the "gift of God" baby jointly claimed by Anna Ware, unwed servant girl, and Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, former society matron, ended tonight after four weeks of testimony.

At the close of rebuttal evidence the respondents—Dr. and Mrs. Ludwig O. Muench, their friend Helen Berroyer, and Attorney Wilfred Jones, alleged "go-between" in the adoption of the Ware infant—immediately moved for dismissal.

Their motions were overruled by Special Commissioner Rush H. Limbaugh, who notified counsel he would make a report to the Court of Appeals, which will render final decision.

Attorneys for Mrs. Muench, who accompanied the announcement of the birth of a son on Aug. 18 with the assertion that the baby was "a gift from God in my time of distress," ended their case without the matron's direct testimony.

Called to the stand as a witness for Miss Ware, Mrs. Muench and her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, St. Louis physician, declined to testify. Both based their refusal on the ground that their testimony might incriminate them.

THE management of a south side hotel that likes to give service to its guests received a telephone call the other day from a woman who said she had dropped a letter in the mail chute and just must have it back. A hurried dash to the mail chute revealed that the mail already had gone to the substation. An emissary was dispatched to the substation, but when he reached there the mail had gone to the main postoffice. The dauntless management finally, with great effort, got the letter back from the main postoffice, and the manager himself took it up to the woman who had telephoned.

Service—Picker—Neighborliness—Query.

"Thank you so much," she said sweetly. "I misspelled two words in that letter."

THERE are still tales about Shane Leslie, who taught and lectured at Notre Dame, going about the campus. One of them concerns the sealed envelope he gave the librarian before he left—an envelope not to be opened until 1955, or thereabouts. The envelope contains ten names, and among these names will be found, Mr. Leslie prophesied, those of the four great American writers of the era. All ten names are those of Notre Dame students taught by Mr. Leslie.

A TALE of neighborly thoughtfulness lies behind an advertisment that appeared in a small Michigan newspaper. It was headed "Card of Thanks" and read, "We wish to express our thankfulness to friends and neighbors for their kindness and help to us when we lost our horse."

The advertisment was signed by two bachelor brothers and their spinster sister, who for years have cared for an old horse that enabled them to peddle vegetables or preserves. When the horse died their friends and neighbors took up a collection and bought another horse.

DAN RICH, whose book "Seurat and the Evolution of la Grande Jatte" is out this fall, tells a story about an American woman who was making her first trip to Paris. She thought she ought to get in a little art, so she visited the Louvre and wandered from gallery to gallery in search of Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper." Unable to find it, she approached a guard and, mustering what French she knew, managed to let him know what she wanted.

"Ou est 'Le Petit Dejeuner de Leonardo?'" she inquired.

Miss Earhart Hits Sex Ruling of U. S. Bureau

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart complained today that the nation's first woman transport pilot in commercial aviation "had to resign because of her sex."

She cited the case of Miss Helen Richey, former pilot for Central Airlines, as an example of barriers facing women in aviation.

Suggesting a fund to "break down the barriers and help woman to gain her proper place in aviation," Miss Earhart said:

"One girl did succeed in landing a job recently as co-pilot on one of the mail lines. What happened?

"Well, the pilot's union refused to take her in, not because of lack of ability [all of her co-workers admitted she was O. K. as to flying], but because she was a female.

"The result of this action was that the department of commerce refused to let her fly passengers in bad weather, so the poor girl could not do her part at all, and had to resign."

Air licensing officials of the department of commerce said they didn't even know Miss Richey had resigned. The only suggestion they had made about her, they said, was that in case of very rough weather, from the standpoint of sheer manual labor required to handle a tri-motor ship, she be relieved of making the run.

"And hark to this," said Miss Earhart. "I was in a large manufacturing plant [planes] and the manager, knowing my attitude, called my attention to the number of women working therein. He said they did the same work as men, light welding, etc., and often turned out a better job.

"'And their pay?' I asked.

"'Why, they get about half what we pay the men,' he said, as if there was nothing strange in that."

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Helen Richey, America's first woman commercial air pilot, confirmed tonight Amelia Earhart's story that she resigned because her sex was a handicap.

"I don't want to be drawn into any controversy about the matter because I left Central Airlines in a very friendly spirit," Miss Richey said after she was located at a friend's house.

"Miss Earhart has told the story better than I could."

She was employed last Jan. 1 after flying 800 solo hours, including 120 hours at night and 600 cross country.

WEDDINGS

At a ceremony Monday afternoon in the Holy Grail chapel of the University Church of the Disciples of Christ, Miss Elizabeth Errett Gates, daughter of Dr. Errett Gates and Mrs. Nell S. Gates, was married to Rowland Vercuilye Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Patrick of West Newton, Mass. Loomis Patrick, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Anne Patrick, his sister, was Miss Gates' only attendant. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick are spending their honeymoon at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and will be at home in Boston after Dec. 10.

The wedding of Miss Betty Lou Olmsted, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Olmsted, 1036 Judson avenue, Evanston, and John Robert Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Boston, 5918 Kenmore avenue, formerly of Dwight, Ill., will take place at 8:30 o'clock the evening of Saturday, Nov. 23, in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston. A reception will follow at the Evanston Country club.

Dr. and Mrs. James Edward Congdon of 6400 Harvard avenue announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Mabel Congdon, to Barrett Kinne Seeley of St. Paul, Minn., which will take place at 7 o'clock Thanksgiving night in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church. Dr. Congdon is minister of the church in which his daughter is to be married. Two brothers of the bride-to-be also are ministers. Miss Congdon organized and developed the six Minster choirs of the Englewood Presbyterian church.

Illinois Colony Club.

The Illinois Colony club and Home for the Aged will hold a regular council meeting at 11 o'clock this morning at the Palmer house. Mrs. Clifton Hunn is commander-in-chief of the club.

The Stage

"Rendezvous with Life," a play by Daniel F. Ryan, will be acted before the invalid veterans at Hines hospital tonight. The performance will be given by the Circuit theater of Chicago, with Constance Heron, Graydon Goss, Tom Collins, David Putnam Lewis, Norman Wess and Helen Dare in the cast.

The football teams of Ohio State university and Purdue university will attend next Saturday night's performance of "Three Men on a Horse," at the Harris theater. The announcements of this play's "last weeks" mean that it will probably remain in Chicago until the end of this month.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A Chicago City Opera company ticket dated Nov. 6, 1935, bought for you nothing more nor less than an evening's experience in the land that never was. One of the several reasons for "Martha" being so delightful is that nobody concerned with it ever made the slightest attempt at realism.

The librettist provided an impossible story, so packed with coincidence that "Alice in Wonderland" is credible by comparison. The composer, a more earthy Mozart, wrote music whose measures, gay and mock serious by turn, suggest a great variety of emotions without ever making any of them subjectively real.

And last night's conductor, principals, chorus, even stage and technical directors, entered with youthful abandon into the idea of turning the Civic Opera house into no England of Queen Anne's day [which the librettist had picked at random], but a land where Puck might appear and no one raise an eyebrow, where true love runs smoothly except for the ripples in the second and third acts which the operatic formula requires.

Does all this express in any measure the delight I found in Flotow's joyful work? Every little while the music suggests something of the divine touch of Mozart, and with a commendable eagerness for an obvious comparison I remembered that this earlier master, too, had cast his operatic works in the Italian mold in a day when German was considered as unsuitable to opera as Kentucky hill-billy would be now.

How can you describe that exquisite second act where nothing happens unless you count golden music as something? The wealth of concerted numbers make such an effective setting for "The Last Rose of Summer," and when the soprano is an Edith Mason you have a half hour sequence that few operas can match. It is pleasant to report that public tumult stopped the show after her solo and that exactly the same thing happened when Mario Chamlee had sent the last notes of the "M'Appari" into the depths of the theater an act later.

Mari Barova was well cast as Martha's man Friday and Virgilio Lazzeri as the sonorous Plunkett. Frederic Jencks and Pomilio Malatesta did a spirited performance of two of the comedy rôles. I should like to give some mention to Helen Bartush, the winner of the opera audition, who was making a debut, but how can a man distinguish between first maid, second maid, and third maid? Luckily she is scheduled for a performance next week in which her identity will be a little clearer.

STYLISH AUDIENCE

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The boxes were not crowded with extra seats at the Civic Opera house last night as they were on the preceding evening, but the performance of "Martha," which is the favorite of so many, drew a large audience. The main floor was filled although several boxes remained empty.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Bledsoe and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Shaw and Dr. and Mrs. William W. Meloy, seated in a main floor box, recaptured the atmosphere of the opening last Saturday. They were seated promptly before the curtain was raised, and the ladies were dressed fashionably. Mrs. Bledsoe wore the ever popular black and pearls; Mrs. Shaw chose a gown of Nile green crêpe with a smart rolled neckline enlivened by a large blush pink flower at the point of the décolletage in front, and all three wore long white kid gloves.

Seated in the third row were Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong and wheir daughters, Miss Jean and Miss Mary Armstrong, who is a debutante this year. Both young women wore black velvet, the elder Miss Armstrong in a severely simple gown, and the debutante in a slimly cut frock with a deep collar of white lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caldwell were host and hostess to a gay box party which included Mrs. Mario Chamlee, wife of the celebrated tenor who sang the rôle of "Lionel." The Caldwell's other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boynton, Mrs. George Hagar, and Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff.

Franco Forest, one of the company's tenors, entered with his wife who, with Miss Marion Claire, wife of Henry Weber, shares the distinction of being considered one of the prettiest of the "opera wives." Like Miss Claire, Mrs. Forest is slender and blonde. Last night she wore a dainty frock of black ruffled net.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Designed by a Chicago hairdresser, this effective coiffure is suitable for both the young and the mature woman.

If the winter doldrums are upon you, or if, on the contrary, you're being swept off your feet by the gay social whirl that has been blown in on the chilly winds, the thing for you is a swish, individual, frivolous hairstyle.

Every woman owes herself the luxury of throwing caution and the old hairdress to the winds once every so often and finding out what an expert coiffure can do for her. If it's a gala evening at the opera where smartness and beauty are traditional, the crowning glory deserves every bit as much attention as the gown, for it is even more visible and heads come in for a lot of notice.

Or if it's a case of the spirits being at low ebb, nothing is quite so much of a lift as the look in the mirror that tells you you're looking your smart smartest.

The expert hairdresser has learned to put his finger on just the touch that raises a head from the ranks of the pretty-but-ordinary to the ranks of the beautiful-and smart, and the arranging of hair with an eye on individuality is as much his aim as yours.

The hairstyle pictured above was designed for this column by a Chicago hairdresser, and is characterized by its suitability for both the young and the mature woman. The hair is brushed back in waves from a diagonal part at the right, and the severity of the off-the-face sweep is broken by the lower wave at the left, crowned by soft curls. Tiny spiral curls are massed at the sides behind the ears, and dip to the nape of the neck in back; but the hair above them is left severely smooth and straight for contrast.

At home, at a tea party, a dinner for two, or a formal ball, this hairstyle lends itself particularly well to the vogue for ornaments or real flowers in the hair, for they are most effective tucked in above the ringlets on one side.

MOVIE CLOSEUPS

The Fox theater, 3167 North Elston avenue [formerly the Elston], will reopen tomorrow. This little picture house has been completely remodeled and is newly equipped as to sound system and screen. It is now owned and will be operated by the G. C. S. Theater circuit.

"Shir Hashirim" [Song of Songs], a Jewish picture adapted from the book which practically every Jewish person has read, will be at the Central Park theater beginning next Sunday, for one week. The cast is composed of the players who appeared in person some two or three years ago on the stage of the Lawndale theater, which was then producing Jewish stage plays exclusively.

'Midsummer Night's Dream' Preview to Aid Olivet Institute

A preview of the motion picture "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be held on Nov. 22 at the Apollo theater under the sponsorship of directors and trustees of the Olivet institute of Chicago. Tickets for the performance, ranging in price from $1 to $10, will go on sale Saturday in an office opened by the institute in the Blackstone hotel.

Evan Evans, vice president of the institute, said that 75 per cent of the receipts of the preview will go to the institute's fund. Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the board of the institute, and other board members and trustees will aid in the sale of tickets.

Black Heels Bring Smart Ankle Lines

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The slimmest ankles on the boulevard appear in black or are covered with a film of black to contrast the misty tint of color that fashions the rest of the newest hosiery.

You've guessed it; black heeled stockings are back and are they going out fast? Nothing has ever been more successful than these black heels unless it is the almost equally slenderizing clocked hosiery, but both have been all-time favorites with shoppers who know the best tricks of keeping their ankles slender, neat, and smooth.

There are two new shades to ask for, just about the best dark street or all around tones imaginable—"masquerade," a decidedly warm brown tone to wear with all bright colored clothes as well as black, and "twilight" perfectly christened, for it is gunmetal at its best, without a hint of either blue or lavender cast. The twilight is just a good natural dark gray that is perfect with black suede footwear, with gray clothes, and the correct tone for street as well as afternoon dresses.

Both these flattering new colors have intriguing black heels that take layers off the silhouette of your ankle.

In the same shop they are hinting most excitedly about some new evening hose, expected every hour, that will probably cause a lot more excitement among the shoppers. Gold and silver toned hosiery to match your most gala evening gold and silver slippers are on their way. Sounds rather resplendent, but entirely appropriate. It's a tricky new tinting, not some more metallics,

Denyse Root May Bow on November 29

Returning to City After Years Abroad.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT is a little difficult trying to plan a debut for a young lady when she is as far away as Miss Denyse Root has been, but just the same her father, John Root, is hoping that the tentative plan he has made to introduce her at an afternoon party, probably a tea dance, at the Tavern on Friday, Nov. 29, will meet with the approval of the young lady and her mother, Mrs. Ellen Dudley Root. Mrs. and Miss Root, who have been living abroad for some years, landed in New York yesterday and will be coming on to Chicago shortly.

Mrs. Paget Cady, Mrs. Root's dear friend, wired Mrs. Root yesterday inviting her and Denyse to dine with her and Mr. Cady on Saturday, so she is hoping that the debutante and her mother will be here by then. They plan to take an apartment and be in Chicago until January, so Denyse will enjoy most of the debutante gayety this winter. We hear that she is a very good looking and attractive girl, and with the host of friends that her mother and father have here she is certain to be a very much fêted bud.

Dance at Boston for Miss Palmer.

Miss Pauline Palmer, whose formal presentation to Chicago society will take place on the afternoon of Dec. 27 in the old Potter Palmer mansion, will be leaving for the east the latter part of next week to attend the Yale-Harvard game at Cambridge on the 23d. The night before the game her brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer III., who are going from Chicago for the game, and Mr. and Mrs. Oakleigh Lewis Thorne of Mount Kisco, N. Y., will give a dinner-dance for the debutante at the Copley Plaza in Boston. The invitation list is being limited to Miss Palmer's young friends and will include not only those who live in Boston but the Chicagoans and New Yorkers who will be in Boston for the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorne, who are missed greatly by the smart young married folk in Chicago this winter, will be coming west immediately after Christmas to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, and to be here for the debut reception of Miss Pauline. Also for the supper-dance Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will give on Saturday, Dec. 28, in the old Palmer house on Lake Shore drive for their daughter. The house is unfurnished now, but the rooms of the lower floor, in which Chicago society was entertained so lavishly for so many years by the first Mrs. Palmer, will be put in order and furnished for Miss Pauline's parties.

Mrs. Thorne, the former Bertha Palmer, made her debut at a reception in the historic mansion in November, 1928, and schoolgirl Pauline was an assistant then.

Joan Smith Will Be Here for Thanksgiving.

Miss Joan Smith, debutante daughter of the Harold C. Smiths, will be coming home for the short Thanksgiving vacation from Vassar, where she is a sophomore, to enjoy the festivities that are planned for the debutante set that week-end, and then she will be here again, of course, for the longer Christmas vacation. She is to make her formal bow to society at a supper-dance at the Blackstone hotel on Saturday, Dec. 21.

BORDER BREED

By William MacLeod Raine

SYNOPSIS.

Young Dan Clifford is driving a mule team carrying freight when he meets and befriends 17 year old Milly Sutherland. She, and a young brother and sister are en route to Los Pinos, wild border town of the untamed west. Their father died on the way. In Los Pinos Dan, through Polly Doble, gets Milly work washing, and Ah Sin, a Chinaman, to help her. Jasper Ford, gambler and killer, forces his attentions on Milly. Dan publicly humiliates him. Ford swears revenge. Trouble brews between the gambling element and Mexicans. The salt lakes, long public property, are claimed by one Zack Black, representing the gamblers. Black, Lou Stone, and a group of gamblers are besieged at the salt lakes by Mexicans. Dan and his friend, Sam Jones of the rangers, act as peacemakers and accomplish their rescue. Lou Stone breaks with Ford. Milly and Dan become engaged, but when Dan is appointed sherif Milly refuses to marry him, fearing he'll become a killer. Jonathan Edwards Hart, a famous killer, who was sent to prison 16 years before because of Ford's testimony, arrives in Los Pinos. He holds up the Last Chance. Dan, unarmed, arrests Hart. While Hart is out on bail, Ford shoots him, claiming self-defense. Because of Hart's record Ford is not prosecuted. Dan has an encounter with two outlaws, and is forced to kill one in self-defense. Two Mexicans are killed at the salt lakes. Ford is pursued by a mob of Mexicans. He escapes, aided by Dan and Stone, and seeks refuge in Milly's house. Dan plans to have Ford escape in Ah Sin's laundry cart.

INSTALMENT XLVI.
THE BUGGY RIDE.

Dan met Lieut. Page coming out of the Tivoli. The ranger officer was a splendid looking young man of about thirty. His tanned face had a reckless devil-may-care expression. He carried himself with light ease, as if his feet were ballbearing. Broad shouldered, slim waisted, and tall, he attracted the eyes of men and women alike.

He grinned at the marshal. "Liable to be a right lively time in Los Pinos tonight," he drawled.

"Looks like," Dan assented. "If they find Jasper Ford or Black."

"Wonder where that fox Ford is hiding," the ranger continued. "I'd give a dobe dollar to know. Those looking for him have been combing the town real thorough."

"Dig up that dobe dollar, lieutenant," the marshal answered. "I can tell you where he is and I can show you where I hope he'll be in about ten minutes."

Page went into a pocket and drew out a Mexican dollar. He flipped it to Dan. "Does anything go on in this town that you're not on the inside of?" he asked.

He shuffled along, not quickening his pace in the least.

"Ford is making a call at the home of Miss Milly Sutherland," Dan said. "At least he was a few minutes ago."

"What is he doing there?" the ranger wanted to know.

"Sneaked in by the back door to save his skin. Miss Sutherland hid him. I've arranged transportation for him to another place. See that outfit?" The marshal pointed to Ah Sin and his cart. The laundryman was shuffling up the street at a leisurely pace. "I'm hoping to get Ford out of Miss Sutherland's house in that cart."

The lieutenant rolled and lit a cigaret. "Glad Ford is taking that buggy ride and not Billy Page," he said dryly. "If the Chink loses his nerve and gets scared friend Jasper will be a gone goose."

"Or if some one gets suspicious and rams a hand down into the laundry," Dan added.

"Ford keeping a stiff upper lip?" the ranger asked.

"Scared to death and snarling at everybody who helps him," Dan reported.

Page looked the other peace officer over with some amusement. "The lads certainly worked you over some, Mr. Clifford, while you were fronting for your dear friend Jasper."

"I'm marshal," Dan said, laconic of phrase.

"That's right. Paid to protect good citizens like Jasper."

"Paid to help make this a law-abiding town. May have to call on Lieut. Page for aid tonight."

"I'll stick around," the ranger promised. "If you'll guarantee I don't get caught in a loose blanket stampede like you were."

"No guarantee. All this hullabaloo may not amount to a hill of beans, or it may run to a riot. Mr. Ford's buggy ride will take him to the acequia. The procession will move up Houston street to Narrow, down that thoroughfare for three blocks, and will then cross to Miss Milly's laundry."

"If it is not interrupted," the lieutenant suggested.

"If not interrupted."

Dan was leaning against the adobe wall. His manner was indifferent, even negligent. An observer would not have guessed that he was holding himself quiet by sheer will power, that all his being was moving swiftly to the little house on Houston street. He dared not get too close to it, lest the Mexicans guess he was there to protect Ford. His worry was not for the hunted man, but for the brave hearted girl crowding down her own fear to comfort her children.

Stone drifted across the street to join them. He, too, had been battered in the human stampede that had poured into Shanley's store after Ford.

"Haven't heard a word about Jas since he hotfooted it through Shanley's," the deputy said. "His luck sure stood up fine. I wouldn't have given four bits for his chances about the time fourteen Mexican gents climbed my frame and plowed me under. Looks like he has made a getaway."

Dan told him what he knew. "We'll string out along the line of travel," he added, "and be handy to jump in to help Ah Sin in case of a rookus."

"I've heard it claimed that one Texas ranger can take care of one riot," Stone said, amiably ironic. "Hadn't we better keep out of this and let Lieut. Page handle it?"

"This isn't my riot," Page declined. "You can't lay it on my lap until you fellows have been killed off. Local authorities get first crack at trouble. We rangers only come in if you can't cope with it."

Stone had a handkerchief tied around his head. A dark stain showed on it. He caressed the spot meditatively.

"The local authorities weren't one-two-three last time they tried to cope," he mentioned.

It was arranged by the three men to cover, apparently by chance, the progress of the laundry cart through the streets. Page was to take the Houston street end of the trip, Stone would meet it as it passed down Narrow, and Dan carry on from there to the laundry. None of them were to hang around the cart or take any obvious interest in its contents.

"Hope they don't hold it against you two for butting in on their little party," the ranger said. "Hadn't been for you, they would have collected Ford nice. They're probably some annoyed at you. I'd hate to learn that some impulsive Spanish gent had dropped either of you as substitute for Jas."

"They know we're marshals of this town," Dan answered. "We didn't spoil their show to please ourselves."

"Well, see you later, gentlemen. I'll be drifting down. Good luck."

Lieut. Page had had the advantage of a year at college before embarking on his job as policing the frontiers. He flung up a hand in farewell and said something about saluting Cæsar.

Ah Sin was stopped four or five times on Houston street, but was permitted to pass as soon as he was recognized. He shuffled along, not quickening his pace in the least. His shibboleth carried him past the groups of excited men.

"Me catchum laundly," he explained patiently.

No anxiety showed in his imperturbable manner, no eagerness to get away. He did not do too much talking, but relied on this three word formula.

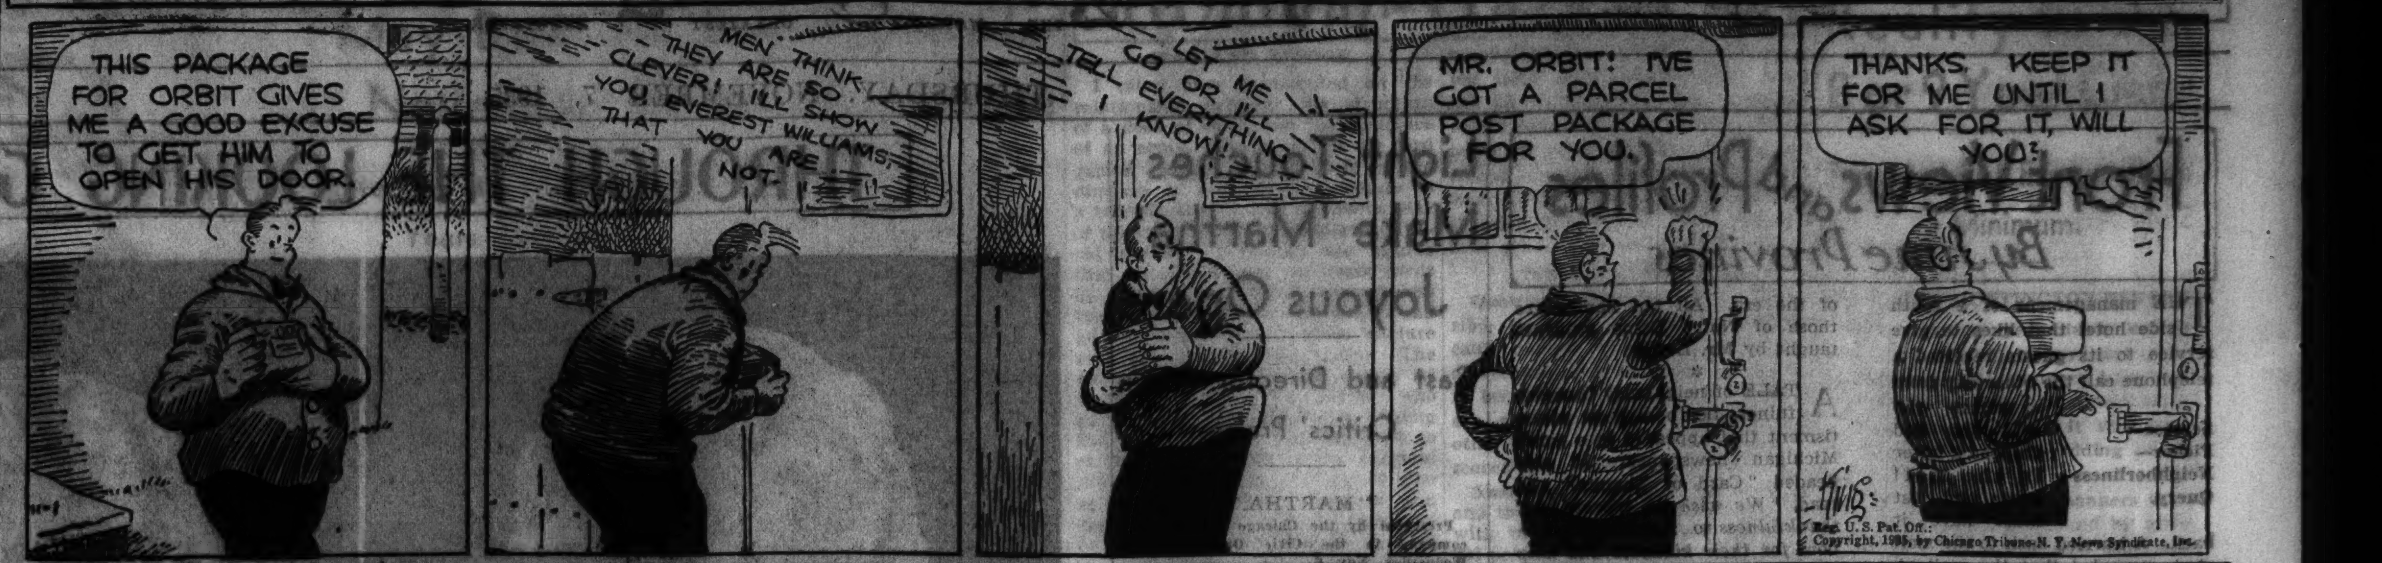
GASOLINE ALLEY—PARK IT



Good Posture Is Foundation of True Beauty

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

You can talk about hair styles and makeup and becoming colors all you must, but with all the artificial aids you can't make a smart, snappy looking young woman unless she has good posture in her general equipment.

The manner in which this invaluable physical and beauty asset is stressed in employment circles interests me. If the good work is kept up we may look forward to an early generation of young women with looks comparable to the finest period of physical perfection the world has ever known, now credited, as you know, to the Greeks. Our young women are wonderful looking, except in this one feature.

Miss Ester McNeills, headmaster, Trade School for Girls, Boston, tells how there come annually to her school hundreds of young women from cities and towns of eastern Massachusetts in order to obtain that specialized training which has for its primary purpose the preparation for profitable employment in industry. The groups range in age from 14 to 21. The time and training devoted to a cultural background and well rounded physical development in the training school argue for the demand now existent in industrial circles in this respect.

A thorough physical examination is made of the student who applies for admission to the school. Posture defects are common and these are gradually overcome with specialized effort. The school goes farther, recognizing the efficiency that results from good posture. With full appreciation that many types of employment which the pupils will enter will produce or increase defects in posture, as Miss McNeills tells, the training goes in not only at recreation time but during shop and laboratory training periods.

"Early in the school year," Miss McNeills tells, "each teacher accompanies her class to the gymnasium to observe the instructor there illustrating how to acquire and maintain correct posture when standing, sitting, or walking. She is then charged with the responsibility of correcting wrong habits or strengthening right ones as her students work in their classes."

BY MARY MEADE.

Birth control is something the parent oyster flouts with an amazing show of indifference. She thinks nothing of producing 50,000,000 eggs or so during her lifetime, and she confidently sends them out to float in the water, to wait for the chance fertilization which will mean the start of their careers as baby oysters.

Not that there's an oyster lover in the world who wants to point out the error of her ways to this prolific mother oyster. Rather we rejoice in the long season of R months in which we can enjoy great quantities of her flavorsome offspring. Incidentally, of course, you know the background for the "R" reasoning, don't you? During the spawning season, or summer months, oysters lose their table appeal and, as it happens, those months also are "R-less" in name.

Oyster Pie.

2 dozen oysters
1½ cups oyster liquor
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced celery
1 hard cooked egg
2 tablespoons fine bread crumbs
Salt, white pepper
1 teaspoon onion juice
Unbaked pastry

Strain the oyster liquor through cheesecloth and bring to a boil with the butter, parsley, and celery. Mash the hard cooked egg with the bread crumbs and mix to a paste with a little of the oyster liquor. Add to the rest of the liquor, season with salt, pepper, and onion juice and simmer for three minutes. Clean the oysters and wipe them dry, put in a baking dish, and pour the sauce over them. Cover with a rather thick, plain pie paste, slash the top, press down the edges, brush over with milk, and bake in a moderate oven for a half hour.

Long Branch Oysters.

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped celery
2 tablespoons sherry
2 dozen oysters
Salt, pepper, paprika

Melt the butter, add the vegetables, and let simmer gently for two minutes. Add the cooking sherry and simmer for two minutes longer. Drain the oysters, clean, and drop into the sherry mixture. Cook until the edges of the oysters begin to curl, season, and serve at once.

Oyster Soufflé.

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup milk
½ cup oyster liquor
1 cup drained oysters
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
3 eggs

Melt the butter, add flour, and blend until smooth. Add the milk and oyster liquor and let come to a boil, stirring constantly. Add the salt and paprika, cool, and add beaten egg yolks and oysters. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, put into a greased baking dish, and set in a pan of hot water. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Test with a silver knife as you would a custard. Serve immediately.

"Bowknot" Block Early American Quilting Design

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Bowknot.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Bowknot" block dates back to the early American days when the design was pieced in turkey red and unbleached muslin, or in an old fashioned blue and white calico, and called "The Farmer's Puzzle." Just how, when, or why the name was changed to "Bowknot" never has been explained.

For a period of 20 days, ending Dec. 2, Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents [15 cents by mail]. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: 1 South Dearborn street, or Tribune Tower.

Shirtwaist Has Enduring Charm

JUNIOR GIRL'S DRESS.

Here is a stunning little shirtwaist dress that you can wear and wear and always feel well dressed. The original dress was created in a rabbit's hair woolen with an attractive collar in velveteen, and the buttons and belt matched the collar. The belt is stitched along the edge to give it a tailored effect. Besides woolen, velveteen, silk crêpe, or velvet would be smart, while young girls would like printed wool challis.

The pattern, No. 2634, comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Chin, in Front View, Measure of Persistence

BY HUGO WESTERBERG.

One's ability to carry a burden of responsibility may be measured by one's courage. The trait may be judged by the chin, viewed from the front. When this feature is narrow it indicates a tendency to become discouraged, and when it is broad it shows a capacity for endurance under strain. The expressions "weak chin" and "strong chin" are based on the formation in a front view and do not mean a backward sloping or a protruding chin as seen from the side.

JOHN BOLES.

A person with a narrow chin will be found willing to permit some one else to make a decision in order to be relieved of responsibility. The broad chinned individual is capable of taking charge not only of his own duties but also of the obligations of others.

Whatever other traits are possessed by a person the one signified by a narrow chin may easily impair efficiency. The person may be energetic, but when things go wrong he is inclined to blame others. He may be clear in his thinking and rich in ideas, but his achievements will fall below expectation. The weakness usually is aggravated by a reluctance of the possessor to admit its existence, even to himself.

John Boles has the necessary facial equipment to carry on his romantic trade. That love should be personified by a dark eyebrowed man seems natural; that the responding woman should be a blonde perhaps also is appropriate. This man has no detrimental qualities in reference to his vocation, and his inherent characteristics may be devoted to interpretation of dreams of happiness.

turned from the east, where she visited her daughter, Miss Anne Dinsdale Harding, a sophomore at Sarah Lawrence college, and her son, Charles F. Harding III., a sophomore at Harvard. Miss Harding will make her debut at a tea-dance Dec. 27 at the Indian Hill club.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hermes have reserved the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel for Christmas night, when they will present their daughter Florence at a dinner-dance.

Miss Hermes is a sophomore at Vassar. She is coming home for Thanksgiving week-end to enjoy the debutante parties at that time. Meanwhile the debutante is spending week-ends at New Haven and Princeton attending various football games.

Another debut which will take place on Christmas day is that of Miss Marion Johnson. Miss Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fernando Johnson, will present her at a tea in their home at 522 Hawthorne place. Miss Johnson is a student at Sarah Lawrence college.

Rachmarinov Will Be Orchestra Soloist.

Orchestra hall is certain to need the "S. R. O." sign tonight and tomorrow afternoon, for Sergei Rachmarinov is the soloist this week with the symphony orchestra and he has many admirers in Chicago. He is a very quiet, retiring man, and does not care about seeing many people, so his friends do not plan parties for him when he is here.

Tonight he will dine with the Alfred Wolfes, very quietly of course, because of tonight's concert, and tomorrow night Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Stock will be his dinner host and hostess.

Harold Stark will give a lecture at 11 o'clock this morning at the Woman's Athletic club. His topic will be "Nineteenth Century Panorama." Luncheon will be served following the lecture.

Marionette Show at Alliance Francaise.

A marionette show, "Don Quichotte," will be presented at the causerie of the Alliance Française at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, with Miss Katherine and Miss Dickie Cutter, Jacques Compau, and Albert Willett manipulating the puppets.

Mrs. Williamson Willett is entertaining this afternoon at tea for Ruth Miller and Mario Chamlee of the Chicago City Opera company. Members of the box committee will attend the affair, which will be given at 3 o'clock at Mrs. Willett's home, 2130 Lincoln Park West.

Johnson Couch left last Sunday for Bryan, Tex., where next Wednesday he will take as his bride Miss Eleanor Chance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon Chance of that city.

Mr. Couch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Couch, will go west by motor shortly before the wedding, and his brother, Ira L. Couch, and Benjamin H. Marshall Jr., who will attend him as best man and usher, respectively, will go west by train Saturday. The younger Mrs. Couch will accompany her husband and Mr. Marshall. After a wedding trip, Mr. Couch and his bride will make their home at the Drake hotel.

William Henrys Will Live Here.

Dispatches from New York Tuesday night carried news of the marriage of Miss Joan Congdon French, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Hoyne de Bronkart of Highland Park, Rye, N. Y., to William Haymond Henry of Chicago, on that afternoon at the De Bronkart home in Rye. The wedding is of interest to Chicagoans not only because the bridegroom lives here, but because the bride's stepfather is a former Chicagoan.

Mr. Henry, the son of Mrs. Clifford O. Hoagland of Chicago and of James Russell Henry of West Virginia, and his bride will live in Chicago.

Leaving today after several days at the Drake hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Svend A. Lund of Copenhagen, Denmark. Last night Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Keeler gave a cocktail party for Mr. and Mrs. Lund at the Keeler residence, 3240 Lake Shore drive. Mr. Lund is editor of the Berlingske Tindende, a large newspaper in Denmark.

Britons Cheer Royal Couple on Honeymoon

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—King George V. of Great Britain saw his third son marry today. Of his four sons now only his eldest and his successor, the prince of Wales, remains a bachelor.

Amid a shower of rose leaves blown by a capricious breeze through the foggy London afternoon, the German looking Henry William Frederick Albert, duke of Gloucester, and his pretty Scottish bride, Lady Alice Christabel Montagu-Douglas-Scott, daughter of the late duke of Buccleuch and Queensberry, set out on their honeymoon across London streets lined with curious crowds who packed the sidewalks from Buckingham palace to St. Pancras station.

The wedding ceremonies took place at 11:30 in the chapel of Buckingham palace. The crowds began gathering around the bride's home and the palace before dawn. At 11:15 the royal glass coach, drawn by two magnificent bays, drew up before the bride's home with a be-wigged driver and footmen in white and scarlet uniforms overlaid with gold.

Amid loud cheers Lady Alice stepped unveiled into the coach, accompanied by her brother, the new duke of Buccleuch and Queensberry.

Because of the recent death of the bride's father the public ceremony was canceled. Nevertheless there was great excitement among the populace.

Resting on the arm of her brother, who was wearing the scarlet and blue uniform of the Grenadier guards, Lady Alice and the bridesmaids moved slowly into the chapel.

Inside the duke of Gloucester, wearing the full dress uniform of scarlet breeches and blue and gold jacket of the 10th Hussars, stood. His two supporters were his brothers, the prince of Wales in the uniform of a colonel of the Welsh guards, and the duke of York in the uniform of the Scots guards.

When Lady Alice in a beautiful gown of white satin with pearl tints stood beside Gloucester, the bishop of London began the service. After the preliminaries the archbishop of Canterbury, in scarlet robes, took charge of the ceremony.

After the ceremony, the wedding couple and the royal family appeared on the balcony, waving down to the crowd for some time.

The crowd went wild when the British king lifted the 5 year old Princess Margaret Rose above the balcony railing so she could wave to the crowd.

After the wedding breakfast which was of four courses with a six foot wedding cake, the king proposed a toast—only one—to "her royal highness the duchess of Gloucester," which makes her the fourth lady of the realm, following Queen Mary, the Princess Royal, and the duchess of York.

After the palace celebration, the duke and duchess of Gloucester drove in an open coach through the city to the St. Pancras station where the royal train, drawn by the world's fastest steam engine, the Silver Jubilee, awaited them for the trip to Kettering where the royal couple will spend a short honeymoon fox hunting with the Pytchley hounds.

The duke's income, now that he is married, is changed on the civil list from $50,000 to $125,000. Also he will be honored by the king by being raised to the rank of a knight grand cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, of which his three brothers also are members.

"NO. 8" who she is, and why she rates high in any group

NATURE being what it is, all women are not born "free and equal." Many readers of this newspaper know that — to their sorrow! A woman's days are not all alike. There are difficult days when some women suffer too severely to conceal it.

There didn't used to be anything to do about it. It is estimated that fully eight million had to suffer month after month. Today, a million have accepted the relief offered by Midol.

Are you a martyr to regular pain? Must you favor yourself, and save yourself, certain days of every month? Midol might have you riding horseback. And even if it didn't make you completely comfortable you would receive a degree of relief well worth while!

As a rule, it's a knowing woman who has that little aluminum case tucked in her purse. One who knows what to wear, where to go, how to take care of herself, how to get the most out of life. The eighth woman, who uses Midol! Of course, a smart woman will not try every pill or tablet somebody says is good for periodic pain. But Midol is recommended by specialists. It can form no habit because it is not a narcotic. Taken in time, it often avoids the pain altogether. But Midol is effective even when the pain has caught you unaware and has reached its height. It's effective for hours, so two tablets should see you through your worst day.

You'll find Midol in any drug store. Or, a card addressed to Midol, 170 Varick St., New York, brings a trial box postpaid, plainly wrapped.

According to CULBERTSON

WAR AND BRIDGE.

I often have commented on the relationship between the structure of a deck of cards and the structure of an army. The origin of all card games, clouded though it is in the dimness of past ages, obviously is a reproduction in less strenuous play of the most primitive of sports, physical combat. Although the figures that are depicted on the honor cards of a deck are medieval, nevertheless the marching of modern armies and all the conditions of modern warfare still are mimicked in bridge. The nation which uses poison gas in its warfare is like the player who gasses away throughout the bidding and play in an unfair endeavor to rattle his opponents by his continual chatter. The airplane observer who spies out the lay of the land and drops his deadly bombs is paralleled by the player who sits up as high in his chair as he can and endeavors to "peek" into his opponets' hands.

The moving spirit behind war is greed, and greed, too, plays its part in bridge. Sometimes, as in the case of the war profiteer, greed apparently pays dividends. But in bridge, as in life, so base an emotion never can be permanently profitable, and the player, who is swayed by greed too often, must surely come to grief in the long run through failure to make the necessary personal sacrifice to a game which, like life, is a partnership affair.

After a sermon such as this no minister would use as an example an instance in which greed actually paid. Both because I am no minister and because it required the greatest skill on South's part to overcome the dilemma in which his greed for scoring his honors had placed him, I have no hesitancy in showing today's hand.

The bidding [North-South vulnerable]:

South	West	North	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 N T	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 N T	Pass
4 ♠ [Final bid]

When North bid two no trump, South determined to make every effort to score his spade honors. He expected his partner to bid three no trump over his three diamonds and decided that, although a game at no trump probably would be easy, he would risk returning to the suit in which he held 100 honors, hoping that, if his partner could not stand the spades, he could return to five diamonds and furnish enough strength to enable South to make it.

West opened a low club and, after cashing his ace and king, East led a third round. Knowing that one of his opponents had four spades, and, praying that it would not be the player with the fourth club, South discarded a heart. West won the trick with the club queen and returned a club, hoping East could trump with an honor and set up his ten spot as a winning trick. The best East could do was the trump nine, and South overruffed, drew trumps, and made the four spades by cashing his five diamonds and the ace of hearts. He scored, for tricks and honors, 220 points. Had his partner played the hand at no trump, with a heart opening from East, eleven tricks could not be stopped, and five no trump would have meant 160 points. For a mere 60 points, then, South had risked a game that was worth at least 500 points, and that might easily have been lost if West had held four spades instead of East.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Sometimes it is impossible to finish a rubber, either because one of the players must leave or because progressive rubber bridge is being played and only six deals are allowed before moving to another table. In such cases, what is scored if one side has a game?

Answer: If one side has a game, and the other has no game, the side with the game receives a bonus of 300 points. If both sides have games, nothing is scored. No bonus is given for a part score. Of course, all the points which have been scored count, just as they would if the rubber were completed.

Manners Not a Reality to the 8 or 9 Year Olds

Parents Must Expect Only a Minimum.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

After writing yesterday's article about the interest of boys and girls in the subject of manners I feel, as I so often do, that I must tack on a corollary—or whatever it was they used to worry you by adding on in geometry.

This real interest in manners that I talked about was evinced by girls and boys in their middle and late teens. I want to make this clear for fear some mothers—distracted mothers of 9 and 10 year olds—will expect this same emotion to be felt on the subject by their in-betweens and will come a terrible "cropper," because it won't be!

If you achieve a moderate amount of mannerliness be satisfied. But don't expect your 8 to 12 year old to be convinced of the desirability of it. You can set him a good example and talk him into a receptive frame of mind and do a reasonable amount of reminding—but there's not much more you can do until a real social sense awakens, and that doesn't usually happen until some time during the high school years. This is one of the many things you have to be patient about and leave to time.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Romney Lyle Campbell of 3 Hemlock road, Bronxville, N. Y., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Martha Annette Campbell, to Robert P. Stieglitz of Champaign, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stieglitz of Chicago. Miss Campbell attended Sarah Lawrence college and was graduated in art from the Master Institute of Roerich museum in New York. Mr. Stieglitz is a graduate of St. John's Military academy and of Cornell university, class of '31. The wedding will take place on Dec. 29 at the bride's home on the silver wedding of her parents.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Orphans Need Clothing.

Mrs. D., a case worker, has asked for assistance for a family of eight children. Both parents died within two months, leaving children ranging from 2 to 18 years. They have relatives in another state, and a relief agency is making every effort to send them there. However, the youngsters are all in dire need of clothing, and the relief agency is unable to outfit them. The boys' sizes are 18, 12, shoes 8 and 5; girls' 18, 16, 12, 10, 8, shoes 7, 6, 2, 1, and 12.

LAYTON WINS IN FIRST 3 CUSHION MATCH, 50 TO 35

Matsuyama Fades in Late Innings.

BY FRENCH LANE.

After much pomp and ceremony, and after many notables from every walk of life had been introduced, Johnny Layton, the red haired carpenter from Sedalia, Mo., successfully began a defense of his world's title in the three cushion billiard tournament that opened in the Bal Tabarin at the Sherman hotel last night.

He defeated Kinrey Matsuyama of Japan, the first of his nine challengers in the two weeks long, 45 game round robin tournament, by a score of 50 to 35. He rolled up his victory on the recently designed streamlined table in the last half of the fiftieth inning. Thus he averaged a billiard an inning, which is a pretty fair evening's work at three cushions on any sort of table.

Takes 2:15 to End It.

Layton got into the spirit of the long drawn out opening ceremonies. He puttered around with the ivories, rubbed the streamlined table that was as new to him as to any one else in the crowd of 500, and finally made the winning shot after 2 hours and 15 minutes of play. It was one of the slowest 50 inning games ever played in three cushion championship competition.

Layton always was the master of the situation. The Japanese endeavored to bring all the mysteries of his country into the bewildering shots he spent spinning out over the purple cloth. He made the most spectacular shot of the night. It came in the 12th inning. It was a forced follow carrying loads of running English, and hit five cushions before it finally clicked for the point.

Four times during the game Matsuyama pulled up from behind to either tie or head Layton. And on four occasions Layton rallied in the last half of the same inning to drive on into a new lead.

Layton Runs Seven.

Finally in the 35th inning Layton got away with the long run of the match. It was a cluster of seven, all of them the most difficult sort of shots. That sent him into a lead of 35 to 28. Matsuyama was conquered by this time. He never was close from then until the finish. Another run of six in the 49th inning got Layton into position for the kill. He made it in the next inning on a three cushion bank shot.

Score by innings:

LAYTON — 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 3 0 0 1
1 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 1 2 0 1 0 0 0

0 0 1 1 0 0 3 0 0 2 0—35

Quick, My Tiara!

The opening took the billiard game right out of the old pool hall environment and sent it into the ermine coat, boiled shirt and top hat class. Maybe Steve Hannigan, the big press agent, was responsible for that. Anyway, the crowd draped around the tiny Bal Tabarin amphitheater looked something like the crowd does in the diamond horseshoe at the opera.

Cowboy Weston, the old trick shot expert, offered the lone discordant note so far as dress was concerned. The cowboy, who served as official scorer, was garbed in a flaming red tie with a rich green shirt as a background. To top off the ensemble the cowboy wore a rather loud brown and white checkered suit.

You'd Never Know It!

The streamlined table looks something like a platinum blonde all dressed in a purple gown and wearing a yellow hat. The old wooden legs of that table the town dandies knew and squirted tobacco juice at in their day have been replaced by chromium legs. They shine out brightly.

The tournament will keep right on going this afternoon and for two weeks more. The schedule for this afternoon and evening is as follows:

1:30—Hall vs. Kieckhefer.
3:30—Cochran vs. Reiselt.
8:00—Hoppe vs. Thurnblad.
9:30—Bozeman vs. Denton.

Fire House Doors Keep Thompson on Gopher Squad

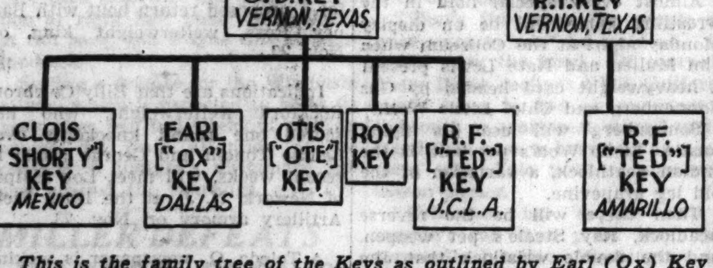
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Clarence [Tuffy] Thompson has a task on his hands in earning the money that keeps him in school, and incidentally on the Minnesota football team. And he is losing altogether too much sleep for an athlete who needs his energy to make touchdown runs against Big Ten opponents.

Chief door-closer for the No. 11 station of the Minneapolis fire department, the 168 pound sophomore half back has to tumble out of his cot on the second floor and close the doors when the fire truck pulls out.

The shrill blast of the siren has been interrupting his slumbers too much of late, and "besides it's a chilly business to get up during the night in zero weather to close the doors."

TODAY'S BRAIN TEASER

This is a Key. Whether he is R. F. (Ted) Key of Vernon, Tex., or his brother, Clois (Shorty) Key, one time football hero at the Texas School of Mines at El Paso, is the question that is worrying the University of California at Los Angeles where he has been starring as full back. [Acme Photo.]



This is the family tree of the Keys as outlined by Earl (Ox) Key who says he is a brother of the Key at U. C. L. A. According to R. F. (Ted) Key of Amarillo, it's not the Key family tree at all. He claims he's a twig on the J. D. Key branch. Anyway it may help you to unravel the Key mystery but probably it won't. (Story on page 1.)

SILVER FOOTBALL.

CANDIDATES for permanent possession of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S twelfth silver football, awarded annually to the Big Ten player of greatest value to his team during the season, are beginning to stand out among the conference elevens.

This sterling silver replica of a regulation oval, suitably engraved and mounted on an ebony base, is a handsome trophy for the boy considered most worthy of it. His manner of choice makes award of the silver football the greatest individual honor which can be bestowed on a middle west player.

First, members of each eleven in the Big Ten name their own choice of the boy who had done most for them. Actual play, self-sacrifice for the good of the team as a whole, leadership, sportsmanship are among the most important requisites.

Remember, readers, he is not necessarily the greatest player on his squad, but the chap who contributes the most, defensively as well as offensively, to team accomplishment and morale. When these ten boys, one from each eleven, are named by their teammates, those ten names are turned over to the board of award for final choice. This board of 23 members consists of the ten conference coaches, ten conference officials who have worked in games and seen the players at close range, Commissioner John L. Griffith, Wilfrid Smith, TRIBUNE football editor, and Harvey T. Woodruff. The 23 cast ballots, 2 points for first choice, 1 point for second choice. High total of points received determines the winner.

1924—Red Grange, Illinois.
1925—Tim Lowry, Northwestern.
1926—Benny Friedman, Michigan.
1927—Ken Rouse, Chicago.
1928—Chuck Bennett, Indiana.
1929—Bill Glasgow, Iowa.
1930—Wesley Fesler, Ohio State.
1931—Clarence Munn, Minnesota.
1932—Harry Newman, Michigan.
1933—Joe Laws, Iowa.
1934—Pug Lund, Minnesota.

While naturally only one player can win the silver football, each of the ten players named for the honor by his teammates also receives a permanent token which he may show to children or grandchildren in future years to prove what a great fellow dad or granddad was in his youth. This token is a white gold football, watch fob size, somewhat similar to that given by athletic departments to members of championship elevens. It is white gold rather than yellow gold to differentiate from the title emblems.

The Wake invites readers with thoughts on the subject to give their choice and why in contributions not too long for the space limitations of this column.

Minnesota athletic authorities have enclosed with glass and provided heat for the press coop at Minneapolis where frigid blasts frequently circulate during November. It is now one of the most comfortable in the Big Ten. We understand Michigan still retains its natural air cooled reporter container. Not that The Wake thinks writers are entitled to more than spectators who support the game, but reporters cannot wrap up in blankets

SAM JONES GIVEN UNCONDITIONAL RELEASE BY SOX

Ted Lyons Signs 1936 Contract.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Samuel Pond Jones, called Sad Sam because he looked that way, no longer rates as the old man of the major leagues. He reverted to the status of a private citizen yesterday when J. Louis Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, announced that the veteran right-hander had been given his unconditional release.

Old Sam, now in his 43d year and as cunning at the finish as he was at the start 'way back when, probably will be able to bounce back in a new spot if he chooses. But if he lets the release stand as his swan song he will leave behind him a service record that should stand for a long time against the onslaughts of other greats. He went through twenty-two successive American league campaigns, the last four as a member of the White Sox forces.

Lyons Signs Contract.

Owner Comiskey also revealed a couple of other newsy items while playing host to newspaper men at a spaghetti luncheon in the Woodland Bards room at the ball park. One was that Ted Lyons, who was among the guests, had signed his contract for next season. The other was that Outfielder Jocko Conlan, who had been with the Sox for close to two seasons, had been given his release to enable him to take up an umpiring career, with a promise that he will be considered for an American league berth if his work in the minors warrants.

Lyons signed his contract after about a two minute talk with Comiskey, indicating he was given a healthy boost as thanks for his comeback achievement last season. It was the fourteenth document signed by him with his present employer. Lyons came direct from Baylor university, Waco, Tex., to the Sox in June of 1923 and never has been owned by any other club in organized baseball. The veteran was a member of the big league barnstorming troupe which recently concluded a tour of Mexico. He plans to return to his Vinton, La., home next week.

Sam Began in 1914.

Jones, who won eight games while losing seven last season, began his big league career with the Cleveland Indians back in 1914. After the 1915 season he was traded, along with $50,000, to Boston for Tris Speaker. After six seasons with the Red Sox he was traded to the Yankees, where he remained for five seasons, three of which saw him involved in world series toil. He also was in the 1918 world series which the Cubs lost to Boston.

At the end of the 1926 season Jones was traded to the St. Louis Browns, but after one season he escaped, Washington taking him on waivers. He spent four seasons with the Senators and turned out two good years. One was in 1928, when he captured 17 games against 7 defeats, and the other 1930, when he won 15 and lost 7. In December of 1931 he was traded to the White Sox with Bump Hadley and Jack Hayes for Johnny Kerr and Carl Reynolds.

Mr. Burns on New Beat.

Following the Comiskey luncheon yesterday the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers' association held its annual meeting in the private office of the Sox owner. Edward Harold Burns of THE TRIBUNE was named chairman for next year, Ed Prell was elected as secretary, and Herbert Simons as vice chairman.

Feldman's Punches Stop Krieger in Fourth Round

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Abe Feldman of New York, a contender for the light heavyweight championship now held by John Henry Lewis, stopped Johnny Krieger of Jersey City in the fourth round of a ten round match at Mecca temple tonight. A series of lefts and rights sent Krieger to the canvas twice for counts of nine before the one sided bout was halted after a minute and two seconds.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MICKEY VUCHINICH, former Ohio State football star who was a member of the 1934 All-American squad that held the Bears to a scoreless tie, will sail in a few days to take a position with the Lincoln Electric company, Johannesburg, South Africa. . . . Vuchinich delayed his sailing until after the Notre Dame-Ohio State game. . . . Red Roberts, full back and end on Centre college's famous 1921 eleven, now is a Kentucky state senator. . . . The Michigan band came up with a new formation between halves of the Pennsylvania game last Saturday. . . . They arrayed themselves at one end of the field and then began to spell out K-I-P, but instead of finishing it with K-E the remainder of the band became a key. . . . Fred Gardner, Big Ten official, has put his power cruiser to bed for the winter at the Calumet shipyard. . . . Clarence Spears believes Wisconsin football players would be a greater team if they talked football at the breakfast table, luncheon table, and dinner table. . . . "They're too good in their studies to knock over the world as football champions," says the doctor. . . . "When practice is over they begin to think about Homer, Virgil, and all those sort of fellows and they seem to forget about the Berwangers, the Renners, the Pilneys, and the Roscoes when practice ends," he explains. . . .

While supporters of Elmer Layden's 1935 football players are pulling for an undefeated season none can feel like committing hara-kiri if Northwestern bumps them off Saturday. . . . The Wildcats haven't whipped Notre Dame since 1901. . . . Any team is entitled to a victory once every 34 years. . . . And don't think this 1935 Northwestern eleven isn't the one to turn the trick. . . . On paper, perhaps, it isn't so hot, but on the field it is one of the strongest opponents you will find in midwest football. . . . Eddie Ouellette, the Blackhawks' new center, speaks only French when at home. . . . When he came to Chicago he made inquiry as to the location of the Latin quarter, desiring to establish his residence among French speaking neighbors. . . .

Harrison Technical High school of Chicago is well represented this fall in midwestern football. . . . Among its graduates are Pilney, Puplis, Pojman, and Kopczak, Notre Dame; Frederick and Skarda, Illinois, and Remias, Michigan. . . . Charles F. Thompson, state director of conservation, is a former president of the Western Golf association. . . . Dr. D. M. Lierle, head of the nose and throat department at the University of Iowa, was talking with his intimate friend, Coach Ossie Solem, the other day and suggested that certain plays might be used in a certain manner so as to assure greater effectiveness and, incidentally, to score more touchdowns. . . . Solem's rejoinder was "You get the team over the goal line for me and I'll take out their tonsils." . . . For two years Bill Spaulding, head coach at U. C. L. A., looked forward to seeing his son, Bill Jr., get into the fray at half back. . . . For the second season, however, young Bill is on the sidelines with an injury. . . . "Next year he will beat the jinx," Coach Spaulding said hopefully, "and I believe he will go places." . . .

James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, expects to earn more than $20,000 from a four weeks' barnstorming tour on the Pacific coast, which opened in Seattle Tuesday. . . . Satchel Paige, colored pitcher, struck out Dolph Camilli, Frank Demaree, and Gene Lillard in order in an exhibition game in Los Angeles last week. . . . Jack Dempsey is managing a light heavyweight named Red Burman. . . . Commodore and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt were the first northern anglers to arrive in Miami, Fla., for the winter deep sea fishing season. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Northwestern upset Michigan, 3 to 2, before 20,000 at Soldiers' field. . . . The game was played in deep mud. . . . Chicago stopped Red Grange, but lost to Illinois, 13 to 6, on a fumble. . . . Wisconsin beat Iowa, 6 to 0, in a blizzard. . . . Notre Dame and Penn State battled to a scoreless tie. . . . Other scores were: Princeton, 36; Harvard, 0. Yale, 43; Maryland, 14.

Les Lindberg Returns to Illini; May Be Ready for Michigan

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The appearance today of Les Lindberg in a suit for the first time since the Northwestern game cheered the Illini, who hope now that the veteran will be able to play part of the Michigan game.

Lindberg passed and kicked in his usual form but did not attempt to take part in the regular drill. If he is able to play any considerable part of the Michigan game, it is felt that the prospects against the Wolverines will be considerably improved. The most strenuous activity today was dummy scrimmage against the freshmen, with Dave Strong of the first year men impersonating Renner in a passing attack modeled after the Michigan style. Michigan laterals were demonstrated.

Lippold Shifted to Full.

Zuppke, alarmed by the scarcity of full backs, shifted John Lippold from guard to the back field, where he appeared with the seconds.

The shift of Lippold placed Dick Fay, sophomore guard, in the first line of reserves. Fay's 202 pounds may come in handy against Michigan, it is felt.

Lippold was originally a fullback and it is expected he will be available to relieve Tom Wilson, with Ellsworth Vanorman, and John Kanosky as other possibilities.

Bob Wright remained at right half back with the varsity and apparently has a good chance to start. Wright's punting ability will be needed when Lindberg is not in the game.

See Crowd of 25,000.

There was a distinctly more hopeful feeling in the Illinois camp today. Present indications point to a crowd of about 25,000. Michigan's band of 110 pieces will vie with the Illini musicians, coming by special train from Ann Arbor.

Director Fielding Yost and Coach Harry Kipke have been invited to speak at a pep meeting Friday night.

MICHIGAN PASSES FAIL.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—One of those practice days during which nothing seems to work was experienced by Michigan today as it tried to speed up its offense for the Illinois game Saturday.

Lined up against the freshmen, the varsity tried to make its passes click and was able to register on only one out of every four or five.

Frosh Stop Second Team.

Coach Harry Kipke kept the team at this type of drill for nearly an hour, but it worked little better at the finish than at the start. When he sent it over on another field to run plays against the reserves it clicked more effectively. On defense the regulars looked better than they did Monday and Tuesday, but the second team, made up of Savage and Valpey, ends; Lincoln and Luby, tackles; Pederson and Garber, guards; Rinaldi, center, and Barclay, Campbell, Stabovitz and Remias, backs, had trouble with the freshmen, as was the case with the first team earlier this week. The scrub team was able to stop the Illinois running plays but was lost when passes were thrown.

Sol Sobsey, right guard until he was injured last Thursday, was back in uniform today but did not work out with the team. He confined his efforts to getting back in condition. Bob Amrine, first string center at the start of the season, took part in the heavy going again today.

N. U. IS UNDERDOG, BUT TRY TO TELL IT TO PLAYERS!

Wildcats Have Idea They Can Beat Notre Dame.

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

In the eyes of the football world as a whole Northwestern against Notre Dame at the latter's home gridiron Saturday is a forlorn underdog, or perhaps forlorn undercat, without a chance of victory. Out at Evanston, where Purple players are receiving final touches of preparation for a contest in the series which seldom fails to produce its annual thrill, they refuse to accept such an indigo rating.

Northwestern students, even the players, will admit to you that on comparative performances the public rating perhaps is justified. But they assert with some reason that the Purple, in defeat, has given each of its three opponents, Purdue, Ohio State, and Minnesota, enough of a contest to earn lasting respect. The team is considered in its most effective form of the season at this time.

Cruice, Lind See Victory.

It would be an exaggeration to say Wildcat players are confident of winning, but they vision such result as more than a possibility despite both the 1935 comparative scores and the "Notre Dame jinx" of former years. Co-Capt. Wally Cruice emerged from the group taking its final hard workout on the practice gridiron yesterday long enough to say, "Sure, we think we have a good chance to win. A game team always feels that way and these fellows have all proved they're game." And Co-Capt. Al Lind added, "This is the year for us to crash through. It would mean a whole lot to us."

Perhaps Don Heap, sophomore triple threat formerly of Evanston High school, expressed the feeling most succinctly when he said:

"Here's a game we're looking forward to. We don't dread it. All the boys feel the same way. I don't know whether we'll win or not, for I haven't been in the big time long, but of course I hope so."

Coach Lynn Waldorf, serving his first year as head coach, was not inclined to be prophetic, but expressed himself satisfied with the mental attitude of his pupils. At any rate the defeatist complex is not established, so players anticipate a dual rôle in which they'll be public underdogs but fighting Wildcats.

Notre Dame has an unbroken sequence of 1935 victories by these scores: Kansas, 28-7; Carnegie Tech. 14-3; Wisconsin, 27-0; Pittsburgh, 9-6; Navy, 14-0; Ohio State, 18-13. Northwestern won from De Paul, 14-0; lost to Purdue, 0-7; Ohio State, 7-28; Minnesota, 13-21, and defeated Illinois, 10-3.

Will Irish Be Overconfident?

How in the world, then, does that record give the Purple a swell chance? It doesn't, but that's what all this conversation is about. Purple adherents feel Notre Dame may become overconfident, must let down a bit after all its fulsome praise for accomplishing in two minutes the seemingly impossible at Columbus. But Notre Dame seldom becomes overconfident. First, coaches attend to that. Secondly, there are too many second and third stringers eager to take the places of any regulars who become self-satisfied. Coach Layden has used 46 different players in games this season. It was a second string line which stood before the supermen back field that brought the Buckeye defeat, and it was second and third stringers who played the greater part of the Navy and Wisconsin games.

So even if injured Andy Pilney cannot hurl his devastating passes against the Purple secondary, it is no safe wager there is not another Pilney to arise out of the 45 others.

Wildcats' Favorite Foe.

On the other hand, Northwestern usually plays well against Notre Dame. It has done better than expected on more than on one occasion. In fact, Northwestern's best elevens have proved most disappointing against the Irish, as in 1926 and in 1930.

EXPECT 14,000 TO SEE BATTLE ON STADIUM ICE

Karakas Gets Test as Goalie.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, full of world championship notions at this early date, will glide out of the dream stage at 8:30 o'clock tonight when they skate on the ice at Chicago Stadium to engage the New York Americans in the curtain raiser of the National Hocky league. It will be the launching of the tenth season of big league hocky in Chicago and there will be pomp and merriment on all sides in addition to the hocky contest.

Mayor Kelly has said he will face the first puck. He will do this without putting on skates, which probably is just as well. President Calder will present the Vezina trophy for goal tending supremacy to Lorne Chabot, who will not be on skates either. Lorne, in fact, will be on crutches, still suffering from a wounded knee. Also there will be a program of figure skating. Evelyn Chandler, who is the fanciest human in the world when it comes to skating, according to the Hawk press agent, will head the side show performers, other than Mr. Kelly and Mr. Calder.

Record Advance Sale.

The largest advance sale for a Chicago opener has led the counting room boys to predict a near-capacity house for tonight's affair. With good weather prevailing the show may draw in the neighborhood of 14,000.

Red Dutton, manager of the Americans, who keeps on playing despite a legacy of $100,000 which he is guarding, says he has a greatly improved team and has no idea of stooging for the Hawks in their season bow. He points to the fact that his outfit recently licked the Detroit Red Wings, 4 to 2, in an exhibition, and the Red Wings are being touted as the most improved team in the league.

Dutton's cast is composed of many veterans. He took 35 players to his Oshawa training camp but found no rookies who pleased him as well as such seasoned campaigners as Nels Stewart, Hal Cotton and several others, combined with experienced youngsters like Dave Schriner, and Lorne Carr. Norm Himes and Rabbit McVeigh, old timers, have been released.

Karakas Guards Goal.

The Hawks have not been revised to any great extent. The most notable absence will be that of Lolo Couture, excepting Chabot, of course, who is merely incapacitated. In place of Couture will be Abelard Ouelette, better known as Eddie. Subbing for Chabot will be Mike Karakas, who was goalie for the Chicago Shamrocks during the two year existence of that outfit.

Art Coulter and Marty Burke will have the honor of being the first defense men to knock down opposing artists who venture too far across the blue line. The starting line will be composed of Doc Romnes at center, Paul Thompson at left wing, and Donny McFadyen at right wing.

Rules About the Same.

The bugs will find nothing to confuse them in the rules. There has been only one change in the playing code. The penalty face off which formerly was called when a goalie held the puck before clearing has been eliminated. The scope of the penalty shot, an innovation last year, has been extended to cover when the goalie throws the puck forward or holds it when clearing.

Waldorf, Layden to Keep Date, but in Different Spot

Stillwater, Okla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—When Notre Dame and Northwestern meet on the gridiron Saturday, Coaches Elmer Layden and Lynn Waldorf will be keeping a date made two years ago, but when they made it they didn't know they would be where they are today.

Waldorf was coaching Oklahoma A. and M. college here; Layden was coaching at Duquesne in Pittsburgh.

"Let's play a game next year," said Waldorf, and Layden replied, "O. K., you bring your boys up here next year and I'll bring mine down there the next season."

But Waldorf went to Kansas State to win a Big Six championship in 1934 and Layden returned to Notre Dame, so it was not a date for them when Oklahoma's Aggies journeyed to Pittsburgh.

They chose Nov. 9 as the date for their 1935 meeting, and chance brings them together at South Bend, Ind., on that date. The Aggies will play Duquesne here on the same date as they planned.

STADIUM SEEKS CHALLENGER FOR TONY CANZONERI

Tomorrow's Card First of Trial Series.

The winner of the ten round lightweight elimination bout between Davey Day, rangy west side sharpshooter, and Alberto Arizmendi, stocky Los Angeles slugger, at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night may have to earn further laurels before he will be eligible for a title match with the head man of the division, Tony Canzoneri. This was intimated yesterday by James C. Mullen, Stadium representative.

"The lightweight class is without an outstanding contender despite the fact Day is ranked No. 1 challenger in this state," Mullen said. "So tomorrow's show will mark the first step toward developing someone able to stand out over all other aspirants and be a strong attraction for a title match next year."

Contenders on Card.

Four of these young 135 pound title aspirants will appear on the Day-Arizmendi card. They are Aldo Spoldi of Italy, making his first appearance in this country, and Fred Cockrane, Elizabeth, N. J., redhead, who will meet at eight rounds, and Leonard Del Genio, New York, and Jimmy Vaughn, Cleveland, who will be opponents in another eight round match.

The plan of the promoter is to match the winners of these bouts in a second elimination contest at the Stadium Nov. 29. Then the victor of this encounter will be in line for a third elimination against Day or Arizmendi at the west side arena late in January. The prize to the survivor will be a championship bout against Canzoneri, Mullen promised.

In case Canzoneri refuses to defend the crown and decides to retire undefeated, it is understood title recognition will be sought from Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Athletic commission and his co-workers, Commissioners George Getz and Packey McFarland, for the victor in the January fight.

Three New Arrivals.

Spoldi, Del Genio, and Cochrane, arrived yesterday to finish their training. The first named, accompanied by Joe Woodman of New York, is a combination boxer and slugger, said the veteran Whitey Ekwert, who is the 23 year old Italian's trainer. Spoldi, who weighs 134 pounds, has engaged in approximately 50 bouts in his four year campaign.

Cochrane, the foreign youngster's opponent, appears every bit the fighter. Standing about 5 feet 8 inches, the eastern redhead performed impressively in his first Chicago drill. Twenty years old, Cochrane has been boxing less than three years. In that period he has had 23 fights. He lost three. One of his 20 victims is Al Roth, reports Willie Gilzenberg, his manager.

Gold Manages Del Genio.

Del Genio slipped into town in tow of his new manager, Sol Gold, the man who piloted Jack [Kid] Berg to the top in the lightweight and junior welterweight ranks. The 21 year old New York boxer fought a draw with Abe Wasserman recently in his first start under Gold. It also was Del Genio's first bout in five months.

Both the young Mexican slugger, Arizmendi, and Day concluded hard training yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium, Arizmendi by sparring several rounds against Bus Breese and Ben Irving and Day by going three rounds with Carl Scalise. Arizmendi weighed 130 and Day 134 after their drills.

Treest on Card.

In addition to the aforementioned bouts there will be three encounters which promise to develop into some of the best fighting seen at the Stadium this year. Billy Treest, young Batavia, Ill., light heavyweight, is matched against a newcomer here, Fanis Tzanatopoulos of Lynn, Mass., at eight rounds. Five rounders pair Milt Aron, Dubuque, Ia., with Virgil Bemi, Chicago, at 142 pounds and Pat Murphy, Danville, Ill., with Bob La Monte, Chicago, at 147.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—DIZZY WHIRL AS THE TABLES TURN

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1935, by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

South Side C.Y.O. Boxing Trials Begin

A crowd of 1,500 filled St. Bernard's new gym last night to witness the opening matches in the south section preliminaries of the fifth annual Catholic Youth organization boxing tournament. Fifty bouts, the majority of which were between class B entrants, were run off in nearly five hours of fighting.

Competition last night was mostly in the 147, 135, 126, and 118 pound classes. Hundreds of candidates from scores of south side parishes return to the scene of combat tonight and tomorrow night to continue the elimination process. At the end of tomorrow night's round it is expected that 32 boxers will have asserted their right to represent the south section in the quarter-final round of the C. Y. O. ring classic. The quarter-final round will be held on Nov. 19, 20, 21, and 22.

Class B results:

16 AMERICANS TO START IN 6 DAY RACE ON SUNDAY

Sixteen American and 14 foreign riders will compete in the six day bicycle race which starts in the Stadium Sunday night at 9 o'clock. The field includes all the outstanding stars of Europe and the United States. At least six of the 15 teams have an equal chance to win.

Italy will be represented by Franco Georgetti, Tino Reboli, Eddie Testa, and Mike De Fillipo. Germany will have three exceptionally strong cyclists in Gustav Kilian, Heinz Vopel and Ewald Wissel. Chileans Take Lead in Horse Show at N. Y.

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Repeating their performance of a year ago, the Chilean army officers tonight turned back the bid of five other nations in the high-score competition at the inaugural night of the 52d National Horse show in Madison Square Garden.

They were charged with only eight faults as they took a commanding lead over the United States, the Irish Free State, France, Holland, and Canada, in the three day competition.

U. S. Team Second.

The United States finished second with 12 faults and then came the Irish with 16, France, which will defend the team championship on the final night, with 17, Holland with 22, and Canada with 28.

Watched by a crowd of more than 10,000, Capt. Enrique Franco and Capt. Eduardo Yanez gave two perfect performances. The United States team from Fort Riley, Kas., with Capt. Carl Raguse and Capt. C. C. Jadwin handling the reins of the four competing horses, also turned in two faultless exhibitions but the two other mounts failed to keep pace with their stablemates.

Wampum Spoils Chance.

Wampum, veteran half-breed, ridden by Capt. Jadwin, ruined the chances of a United States victory, however, when he plowed through two of the three staggered bars for a total of eight faults after Ansonia, also ridden by Jadwin, had made four mistakes. Capt. Raguse gave faultless exhibitions aboard Ugly and Dakota, the horse with which he won the $1,000 International Military sweepstakes and the Bowman Challenge trophy last year.

Judy King of Atlanta, Ga., won a blue ribbon when La La Success accounted for the Seaton Pippin Challenge cup for the second straight year, showing to an advantage over four other hackney ponies under 14.2 hands.

OPEN QUIZ TODAY ON FAVORITISM AT LINCOLN FIELDS

A grand jury investigation of charges of "favoritism" on the part of officials at Lincoln Fields, Will county racing park, will be opened today, State's Attorney William R. McCabe announced at Joliet yesterday.

McCabe said several riders have complained of alleged discrimination since several jockeys were barred from the track.

Christopher J. Fitzgerald of the Illinois racing commission and presiding steward at the recent session at Sportsman's Park, has been subpenaed to appear before the jury, McCabe said. Subpenaes were issued yesterday for French Lane and Henry Simmons, Chicago race writers.

Hitler Pledges Square Deal in Olympics

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler and Count Henri Baillet-Latour entered the pre-Olympic lists today to combat an American movement aimed at transfer of the 1936 games to some country other than Germany.

After Hitler had given his personal assurance that Olympic athletes and visitors would be treated courteously no matter what their religion or race, Count Baillet-Latour, president of the international Olympic committee, declared a "painstaking" investigation had revealed Germany was living up to the Olympic rules.

Calls Campaign Political.

The campaign against Germany, he charged, had been conducted for political and unsporting motives, unsupported by other national committees.

"We can disregard it," he added, "because it is based on misstatements and many lies. Under those circumstances, the international committee has neither right nor reason to object to the games being held in Berlin."

Americans suggesting a boycott of the games if they are held in Berlin are "barking up the wrong tree," the international Olympic head told the Associated Press. "The I. O. C. alone has jurisdiction and attacks directed at Dr. Theodor Lewald, president of the German organizing committee, merely are going to the wrong place.

German Conduct Approved.

"The I. O. C. has most painstakingly gone over the entire situation and finds Germany in every way living up to Olympic rules.

"Even supposing for the sake of argument that Germany violated the rules—which I hasten to say she doesn't—in that case the German Olympic team could be challenged but that would not need to affect the place where the games are held. The site for the games is chosen solely and exclusively by the I. O. C.

"I will go so far as to say that if the American amateur Athletic union were to refuse to certify American athletes who want to compete at Berlin, the international committee would accept the certification of the American Olympic committee."

COLISEUM MAT ARTISTS TO USE SPECIAL HOLDS

Almost every special hold in the wrestling game will be on display Monday night at the Coliseum when Jim Mullen and Nate Lewis present a heavyweight card headed by Gus Sonnenberg and Chief Little Wolf.

Sonnenberg will use his flying tackle. Little Wolf's pet hold is the Indian deathlock, a variation of the old leg grapevine.

Then there will be the reverse headlock, Ray Steele's pet weapon, and the double wristlock that Jim McMillen will use in an attempt to tame the California star. Hans Steinke will bring his body scissors into play when he tries to pin Olaf Oleson, who uses the facelock as his chief means of offense.

Man Mountain Dean, who meets Bill Beth, has no special hold, but when he leaps into the air and lands his 377 pounds upon an opponent he needs no other tricks.

Passes Click in Packer Drill for Lion Game

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—For the second day in succession the Packers went through their practice on a snow dampened field today, tuning up for their National Professional football league contest with the Detroit Lions here Sunday at the City stadium. The Packers are leading the western division.

Coach E. L. Lambeau put special stress on handling the snow soaked ball. Every member of the squad participated in the workout which was terminated by a snappy signal practice in which two complete teams participated.

Hutson Grabs 'Em.

Don Hutson, the pass grabbing end from Alabama, is getting used to the frigid Green Bay weather and it did not take him long after he got warmed up today to make some sensational catches of long passes from Arnold Herber, the other half of the Packers' famous overhead combination.

Herber has been tossing the ball with deadly accuracy all week and his timing has been close to perfection. Some of the other Green Bay back fielders are being fed a lot of passes in practice and if the weather is clear Sunday the air is apt to be full of footballs whenever Green Bay is on the offensive.

In the first string lineup Lambeau is using Cal Hubbard at right tackle and Ernie Smith at left. Ade Schwammel's leg is still causing some trouble and the injured member is being rested as much as possible. However, Schwammel is sure to see action Sunday, even if it is only in the rôle of a pinch kicker.

Lambeau is using every device possible to score a victory in the Detroit game. Team blackboard talks and individual conferences with the players is keeping the Packer leader busy from dawn to dark.

Whole Town's Talking.

In the meantime the town is getting as excited as a collegiate community over the battle. It is the main topic of discussion in every barber shop, drug store, and other business establishment, and even the downtown coaches have to admit that if the Packers whip the Lions they will be nicely on their way to another national championship. Back in 1929, 1930, and 1931 they ruled supreme over the National league.

The demand for seats is speeding up and the Packer ticket office is the busiest place in the city right now.

President Joe F. Carr of the National league has assigned Bobby Cahn, Chicago, to referee the Detroit game. Gunnar Elliott, Fort Wayne, will be the umpire; Morris M. Meyer, Cleveland, is to be the field judge, and Dan Tehan of Cincinnati has drawn the head linesman's assignment. These are the same officials who worked the Detroit-Packer game in Milwaukee on Sunday, Oct. 20, when the Green Bay eleven won, 13 to 9.

HENEGHAN MEETS VARRA FRIDAY ON MADISON CARD

Pat Heneghan will box Lou Varra and Charles Richardson will oppose Al Chandler in two bouts at five rounds which top the amateur boxing show tomorrow at Madison Athletic club.

Ceferino Garcia, Los Angeles welterweight, has informed Chicago Stadium officials he will be unavailable for a proposed return bout with Barney Ross, welterweight king, on Nov. 29.

Indications are that Billy Celebron, Rockford welterweight, who has scored one round knockouts over Laddie Tonelli and George Engel in recent weeks, will meet Lou Halper of Newark, N. J., at the 124th Field Artillery armory on Nov. 23.

INJURIES TO FIVE PLAYERS HINDER CARDINALS' DRILL

Crippled Squad to Meet Eagles Sunday.

Mike Mikulak, full back, and Dave Cook, right half back, were added to the list which already included two regulars, Bernie Hughes, center, and Howard Tipton, guard, and reserve half back, Hal Pangle.

Mikulak suffered a leg injury at Pittsburgh three weeks ago, but played against the Giants in New York and stomped through the mud for sixty minutes against Detroit at Wrigley Field last week. He came out of the Detroit game with his injury greatly aggravated and yesterday Dr. W. C. Meecham ordered him to the hospital for three days treatment. Mikulak will be in uniform Sunday, but Coach Milan Creighton said he did not want to use him and would not unless it was absolutely necessary.

Dowell Replaces Mikulak.

Glen Dowell, 210 pound former Tex. Tech half back, will take Mikulak's place. He has seen very little service since joining the Cardinals last fall, but has demonstrated sufficient ability for Creighton to predict great things for him as a ball carrier. His defensive capabilities are limited, however.

Cook, a second year man, was badly shaken up in the Detroit game and will not be counted on until a week from Sunday, when the Cardinals meet the Dodgers in Brooklyn. Dr. Meecham notified Creighton yesterday Hughes, who suffered the fracture of an ankle bone in the Pittsburg game, would not be available until the Brooklyn game and that he would not allow Pangle to report until then, either.

Hughes Due Back Sunday.

Hughes had been expected back Sunday. Pangle suffered a severe leg injury when the automobile in which he and Tipton were returning from New York crashed into a bridge abutment near Gary, Ind. Tipton's arm was broken. He will be out for two more weeks.

Sunday's game with Philadelphia will mark the opening of another drive toward first place, which the Cardinals surrendered last week when Detroit beat them, 7 to 6. The Cardinals are convinced they should still be leading the league, with an undefeated record, and are ready to prove it.

Watch Stumpy Thomason.

Philadelphia's greatest threats are Stumpy Thomason, the former Georgia Tech star, who was sent to the Eagles by Brooklyn early in the season, and Izzy Weinstock, Pittsburgh's battering full back, who was a member of the All-Star squad last August. Both are the crashing type and center their activities on opposing lines. Philadelphia scouts took back encouraging reports to this pair after last Sunday's Detroit game, detailing the ease with which Ernie Caddell, Bill Parker, and Ace Gutowsky slipped through the Cardinal forwards for sizeable gains.

The Cardinal line, which was outcharged and outmaneuvered last Sunday, has its feet under it again, however, and promises some of the sterling play that upset Green Bay twice and turned back the Giants.

MAROONS DEVISE DEFENSE AGAINST BUCKEYE PASSES

Bosworth or Petersen to Replace Whiteside.

Chicago's Maroons, preparing for Saturday's game with Ohio State at Stagg field with a grim understanding of what it means to be rated the underdog, went through a lengthy defensive drill against Buckeye plays yesterday on the practice field.

The Maroons, because they had an open date last Saturday, worked on offense last week and then plunged into scrimmage against Ohio plays Monday, Tuesday, and yesterday after the scouts' reports came in on the Ohio-Notre Dame tussle.

Freshmen Toss Passes.

Sam Whiteside, the injured regular center, is definitly out of the game and Shaughnessy is counting on Gordon Petersen, shifted from end, and Bill Bosworth to replace Whiteside.

Shaughnessy had the freshman team tossing passes from Ohio formation. After three days of work against them, the Maroons showed up satisfactorily against the aerials.

Last year Ohio State scored four times on passes against Chicago. The Chicago coach's defense plans included the shifting this week of Jay Berwanger from the safety position to a secondary spot because of his tackling ability. This move puts Omar Fareed, the sophomore back who broke up the Wisconsin game, into the punt catching spot.

Struggle for Positions.

Bob Fitzgerald, fleet sophomore half back, who has shown considerable ability in pass catching, has been practicing kicking. He may be called on to try for extra points or field goals, the latter being a department in which the Maroons have shown but little strength to date.

OHIO TESTS DEFENSE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—An intensive drill on pass defense, a sad reminder of Notre Dame's victory last Saturday, kept Ohio State's football squad busy this afternoon.

The Buckeyes opposed Chicago's aerial plays as demonstrated by the freshmen gridders and studied ways and means of stopping the Maroon's great ball carrier, Jay Berwanger, when the two teams meet in Chicago Saturday.

A huge demonstration is being planned for Thursday night before the team leaves for Chicago. A torchlight parade of the students led by band has been called. This is the first demonstration planned for a departing Buckeye team in years. Trainer Tucker Smith reported all Ohio State players in condition to play against Chicago.

FROSH GAIN ON INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Taking the offensive, a freshman team gave the Indiana university varsity a taste of Maryland plays this afternoon in the last scrimmage before the Hoosiers leave for Baltimore to play Saturday. Several sizeable gains were made by the frosh as they executed deceptive running and passing plays of the Terrapins.

Two shifts were made in the first string lineup, with R. L. [Dick] Kenderdine, Texas sophomore, alternating with Eddie Antonini at end, and James Cavacini returning to his old post in the back field after a tryout at end.

The squad will leave tomorrow afternoon by bus for Indianapolis, where it will board a train for Baltimore.

CARLSON BOWLS 714; EDELWEISS WIN 3 GAMES

Bowling 3,192, high for the evening, the Edelweiss team won three games from the Miller High Lifes in the Classic league last night at Petersen's.

The Monarchs won three games from the Ben Bey Cigars to tie for first place with the Pabst Blue Ribbons, who defeated the Baby Ruths twice.

Al Carlson of the Edelweiss was high with 714, having games of 216, 278, and 220. In the middle game he opened up with an 8 count, then struck out. Scores:

CHANGES BRING BADGERS POWER

Jankowski Smashes Line Drilling for Purdue.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Paul [Swede] Jensen, veteran tackle who was injured in the Chicago game, was back running signals with the Wisconsin varsity this afternoon as it completed hard work for the Purdue game Saturday, but it is doubtful if he will be able to play.

With Eddie Jankowski doing most of the line smashing from his new right half back position, the first stringers, equipped with a revised attack, showed power in running through freshmen and reserves. The spirit among the players is high, despite the fact the Badgers have lost five straight games.

Despite the fact the game is the Badgers' homecoming contest, the attendance will not exceed 20,000, the ticket office estimated this afternoon.

PURDUE LOSES ISBELL.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Some day this season Purdue may be able to take the field with its full back field strength intact, but Coach Noble Kizer is beginning to doubt it.

Coming on the heels of an almost unprecedented series of back field injuries that have had one or more backs on the shelf in every game since the Northwestern opener, Kizer tonight was forced to locate a left half back replacement for Cecil Isbell, sophomore triple threat star. Isbell injured his ankle late in the Minnesota battle, and it was at first thought that the injury was merely a bruise, but it developed today that he had pulled the tendons slightly in the ankle and may be unable to take his place in the lineup against Wisconsin on Saturday.

Setting a defense for the Wisconsin attack, which is expected to be at its peak after two full weeks of rest, occupied the main attention of the coaches in tonight's scrimmage session against the yearlings.

MILLER DEFEATS VARNER; CROWD HOOTS DECISION

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Freddie Miller, National Boxing association featherweight champion, was awarded a close decision over Claude Varner of Los Angeles in a ten round battle tonight at Music hall. Miller's title was not at stake.

The verdict did not meet with the approval of the spectators, and the majority booed lustily.

Both boxers tried hard in the first five rounds, Varner trying to catch up with Miller and the latter trying to keep away. Fewer than five solid blows were landed in that period, three of them sizzling rights to the champion's chin, while the latter halted long enough to score with a sharp left uppercut to the body.

From the sixth to the finish they mixed freely, with Miller, trying to get Varner out of his crouch, shooting uppercuts that found the mark and taking occasional short rights to the head.

Miller weighed 129 and Varner 128½.

OLYMPIA FIELDS AND BLACK HORSE POLOISTS MEET

The Chicago Riding club arena, 333 East Erie street, will be the site of the Olympia Fields and the Black Horse Troop polo game Saturday. Both teams won their opening matches last week.

Fort Sheridan will play the Chicago Riding club in the other game scheduled. Making its first appearance in the north side arena, Fort Sheridan will present an all star lineup comprised of Capt. E. C. Greiner, Maj. Bill Dunckel, and Capt. Larry Smith. Starters for the Riding club have not been named.

Smith, one of the outstanding indoor polo players in this section of the country, was one of the stars of the western championship matches last spring in which inferior mounts led to Fort Sheridan's defeat by Detroit. Smith is rated at five goals. His teammates, Capt. Greiner and Maj. Dunckel, carry a one and two goal rating, respectively.

PARROTS BEAT MAYWOOD.

Laterals Reach New Low as Threat in Major Contests

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Lateral passes, particularly the use of such passes behind the line of scrimmage, went to a new low last Saturday after Notre Dame defeated Ohio State without using a lateral of any kind, and the Buckeyes couldn't make their open stuff work. Colgate was a notable failure against Iowa in this toss-the-ball program and by now the middle western teams, at least, are ready to admit that there isn't quite as much a future in laterals as they once thought.

Against two major opponents this year—Pittsburgh and Ohio State—Notre Dame did not use a lateral pass, not even the half back lateral to the full back by which the Irish crushed Southern California in 1930 and which, in recent seasons, has been standard equipment of Notre Dame elevens.

Plays involving one lateral have succeeded. Iowa used a lateral from Lamb to Simmons to score its first touchdown on Colgate. The man receiving the ball from center frequently may feed it to a running back with a lateral pass, but double and triple laterals just haven't clicked against good opponents. Against opponents that normally are inferior, almost any type of attack, without variation, might succeed.

Forward passes followed by a lateral have more chance of success and the records prove it. Occasionally a lateral followed by a forward has success, but the right spot must be picked. It's axiomatic that the more times the ball is handled, the more chances there are for fumbles.

It's Dangerous Business.

In the second period of the Notre Dame-Ohio State game, Ohio used a triple lateral which ended with a fumble. Dye [quarter back] took the ball from center and lateraled to Busick [end] coming around to his right. Busick lateraled to Kabealo [full back] who shot the ball to Dye, who now trailed him. But Dye fumbled and Busick was fortunate to recover. This ended Ohio State's laterals for the day since the team was in its own territory in the second half and declined to try risky plays, particularly while leading 13 to 0.

Statisticians of football disagree on methods of compiling their figures. There is one school of thought, represented by Ohio State in the west and at least one university in the east, which insists that touchdowns should also be counted as first downs. Thus, Ohio State gave Notre Dame 13 first downs. Other western conference universities confine first downs to progress on the gridiron before a score is made. Under this method Notre Dame made 10 first downs, five by rushing, four by forward passes and one by penalty, which in this case was a penalty for interference with completion of a pass.

Shovel Pass Fools.

The short forward pass completed behind the line of scrimmage also mixes up the statistics. This is called a shovel pass because it generally is thrown underhanded. Should gains by means of forward passes behind the line of scrimmage be classed the same as passes down field? On the first the linemen are responsible for breaking up the play; on the other, completion is due to mistakes of the secondary defense. Two classifications might be more fair. Ohio State did not complete any forward passes beyond the line of scrimmage against Notre Dame, but did use a shovel pass several times.

How to Call 'Em.

More important, as far as the public is concerned, is the habit of many reporters in describing direction of play by the positions of the attacking team and not by the defense. An "off tackle" play, for example, is not a play directed outside of the attacking right tackle; it is a play which strikes outside of the defensive left tackle. If the attacking team's players are used, an off tackle play, in most cases, would be impossible, since the attacking end almost always is responsible for first contact with the opposing tackle.

Thus, a sweeping end run should be described as circling the defensive left end and not as a sweeping end run to the right of the ball carrier. By giving the location of the defense, responsibility for failure to stop the runner is accurately placed on the defending players supporting the point of attack.

Madigan Sees Irish, Bears in Rose Bowl

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—It is Slip Madigan's guess that Notre Dame and California will line up against each other in the next Rose Bowl football classic, Jan. 1.

Madigan, head coach at St. Mary's in California, reached New York today with the latest gridiron gossip from the far west. His Gaels meet Fordham here Saturday.

"I feel sure California will be the western team and if it is it will invite Notre Dame. California has been trying to play Notre Dame for a long time," he said.

It's Fans' Choice, Too.

Right now the Golden Bears are the only undefeated major eleven on the coast. Madigan doesn't believe it will go through without a reverse, but he says it has the best chance of any of the bigger teams to finish with only one defeat.

"That's the game the people out west want to see," he went on. "It would pack the bowl. Of course, if Notre Dame declines a bid, California would have to find an opponent in the south or southwest, since I understand Princeton is bound by an agreement with Yale not to play post-season games.

"California has a fine club. I wouldn't call it a great team, and personally I believe Washington will beat it. But California keeps on winning and that's what counts.

"It's a team without individual stars and I have an idea that's one reason behind its success. Stub Allison can always count on eleven better than good players.

Calls Washington Strongest.

"The Bears don't go out and cut loose a lot of spectacular stuff, but once they get in the other fellow's territory they usually manage to go for a touchdown. They're big, steady, and well coached."

The Gaels, accompanied by 120 supporters, arrived on a 12 car special train after a round about trip via New Orleans, Miami, Jacksonville, and points east. They pitched camp in Westchester county and will drill daily until Friday.

Duke Slater Is Named Assistant City Attorney

Fred W. [Duke] Slater, former University of Iowa football star, was appointed assistant corporation counsel for the city of Chicago yesterday by Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes.

Slater, a resident of the Nineteenth ward, was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1928 and was admitted to the bar in Illinois in 1929. During his undergraduate days he was regarded as one of the greatest tackles in college football. He was a member of the Iowa team which defeated Notre Dame, 10 to 7, in 1921.

After his graduation he played professional football in the National league with the Chicago Cardinals from 1926 to 1929.

IOWA SEEKS TO REPLACE CRAYNE

Wagner May Substitute for Injured Captain.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa football squad scrimmaged against Minnesota plays in preparation for the homecoming game here Saturday.

Scott Wagner, 190 pound sophomore, retained his position as the understudy of Capt. Dick Crayne at half back. He is expected to start at that position if the captain is not available. Crayne remained away from practice and was unable to wear a shoe because of his bandaged ankle.

Physician Is Optimistic.

Although Dr. William Hayne, team physician, said he was hopeful that Crayne will be ready to play part of the Minnesota game, Coach Solem asserted, "I don't see how he can be ready after looking at his foot."

If Crayne is out of the lineup Wagner probably will draw the kicking assignment. Changes at the guard positions will find Don Nelson and Jim Kelley replacing Floyd McDowell and Bill Secl, were indicated in today's scrimmage when the new men turned in a good defensive performance. Floyd Deheer, a 6 foot 7 inch 245 pound sophomore, alternated with Rudy Leytze at left tackle.

INJURED GOPHERS IMPROVE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The University of Minnesota football squad today went through its second day of heavy duty in preparation for the Iowa homecoming game at Iowa City Saturday afternoon. The Gophers will depart from Minneapolis at 9 p. m. tomorrow, staying in Davenport, Ia., until Saturday morning.

Ray King, Dwight Reed, Ed Widseth, and Dale Rennebohm had just about recovered from their bruises, suffered in the Purdue game. They did not participate in all of today's heavy work. Coach Bernie Bierman not wishing to take any chances on aggravating their injuries, but they did their first bit of heavy work since Saturday.

The Gophers were given another hard session of running, with special emphasis on passing, both offensive and defensive. Bierman has warned the boys that they probably will have to do plenty of running Saturday in order to keep Ozzie Simmons in check.

DE PAUL IN SHORT DRILL FOR GAME WITH VALPARAISO

De Paul university's football squad went through a short scrimmage yesterday for its game with Valparaiso university at Valparaiso Saturday. The squad is in good condition, with the exception of Co-Capt. Joe Sullivan, whose knee injury is causing him considerable pain.

Coach Jim Kelly said that he would not use Sullivan in Saturday's game unless it is absolutely necessary, but would save him for the St. Louis encounter here on Nov. 23. Either Chuck Apolskis, a 195 pound sophomore, or Bill Casey will probably get the starting berth.

N. U. Players See Chance to Score Upset

use for 31 players all season against Notre Dame's 46. Finally, however, he has two squads so nearly equal that it is not certain at several points which men will start against the Irish.

Freshmen Show Plays.

In defensive scrimmage yesterday afternoon against Notre Dame formations as demonstrated by Coach Maury Kent's freshmen, the first string consisted of John Kovatch and Henry Longfellow at ends, Park Wray and Vange Burnett at tackles, Paul Tangora and Steve Reid at guards, Al Lind at center, Don Geyer at quarter, but Don Heap calling signals from left half, and Wally Cruice at right half with Hugh Duvall at full back.

On the second squad were Babe Bender and John Zitko at ends, Joe Chambers and Sam Papich at tackles, with Papich who played his first time this season against Minnesota owing to injuries, sure to see some major service. Mike Calvano and Carl Devry were at guards, Leon Wegner, a South Bend boy, at center, Steve Toth at quarter, Ollie Adelman, Clarence Hinton, and Willet Boger at half backs, and Sophomore Fred Vanzo at full back.

Swisher on Crutches.

Bob Swisher, who ordinarily alternates at left half with Don Heap, still was on crutches. It was explained, however, this precaution was largely to keep him careful of his injured leg and that Swisher probably would appear in signal practice today. Today's workout will be dummy scrimmage, signal rehersal, and offense and defense on passes. Tomorrow will be a light workout of limbering up exercises.

Northwestern's team will leave for the scene of battle Saturday morning, reaching South Bend around noon. Approximately 1,000 students are expected to follow the team.

NOTRE DAME ON OFFENSE

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Notre Dame will attempt to score early and often Saturday against Northwestern, according to estimates based on today's scrimmage.

The Irish still stuck to fundamentals, and they worked against expected Northwestern plays, but more than the usual amount of time was given to offense as Coach Elmer Layden attempted to patch up the holes left in his ground attack by injuries to Andy Pilney and Fred Carideo of the back field and Dick Pfefferle in the line.

Although X-ray pictures and his first attempt to walk showed that Pilney's injury is only a stretched ligament and that nothing is torn in his knee. Dr. James E. McMeel said that Pilney, Carideo, and Pfefferle are all definitly out of Saturday's game. When they return to the lineup will depend on their response to treatment. Pilney will begin exercising mildly tomorrow. The others walked a little today.

St. Mel, 12; Fenwick, 0.

St. Mel took a step nearer the west section football championship of the Chicago Catholic High School league yesterday by defeating Fenwick of Oak Park, 12 to 0, at Mills stadium before 5,000. Victory over St. Ignatius Sunday at St. Philip field would give St. Mel the title and the right to appear in the league championship game on Nov. 24.

Capt. Bill Burke scored the first St. Mel touchdown in the second period when he blocked a Fenwick punt and ran 15 yards to score. Harold [Red] Palm scored the second touchdown in the fourth quarter, plunging over from the 1 yard line. It was St. Mel's fifth consecutive triumph. Lineups:

ST. MEL [12].		FENWICK [0].
Campbell	L. E.	Conley
Doheny	L. T.	Kelly
LaPierre	L. G.	Bolton

Touchdowns—H. Palm, W. Burke.

One of the largest crowds of the Catholic league season is expected to watch the De Paul-Leo game at De Paul field, Sheffield and Webster avenues, Sunday afternoon. De Paul is leading the east division with five straight victories, while Leo is in second place with four triumphs and one tie.

Parker and Bowen continued preparations yesterday for their game Saturday at Shewbridge field, 64th and Aberdeen streets. The game will decide the south section championship of the City league. Parker is in first place with four victories and one tie, while Bowen occupies second place with three triumphs, one defeat and one tie.

NECKTIE GIVES FIRST CLEW TO WEARER'S TASTE

Well Dressed Man Seeks Blend of Colors.

BY HARRISON HOWARD.

The world is apt to get its first impression of a man's taste from his necktie. If more of us would stop to realize that each time before we make a purchase or put one around our necks, undoubtedly we would choose with greater care and would benefit by the results.

There no longer is any actual need for the necktie. It is retained as a part of our dress purely for decorative purposes. It is the kingpin of all man's accessories in wearing apparel when it comes to indulging in color and so is worthy of discrimination in its selection. In fact, the few square inches of neckscarf which we show today are about the only fling civilization permits modern men in the way of needless ornamentation.

Consider, on the other hand, the aboriginee with his beads, trinkets, and war paint; the Indian with his colorful feathers and blankets, and the oriental with his brilliant flowing robes.

Necktie Almost Modern.

The necktie is comparatively modern. It began as a neck covering in the 1670s when, in loose twisted folds, it superseded the neckpiece of lace similar to the feminine jabot which men wore in those days. It passed through various forms to 1812 when it became a partner of the first stiff collars of highly startched linen or paper.

The first big step toward the modern tie occurred in 1830 when it appeared in black satin and similar fabrics. It was a bow tie and had a fastener at the back, the kind which, in modified form, vaudeville comedians still use to a very good advantage. In 1840, with the change in waistcoat openings, the style gave way to the narrower four-in-hands of today and colors became a leading feature.

Generally speaking we are now divided into three classes of neckwear buyers—the man who buys them out of sheer necessity and leaves it to his wife or Santa Claus whenever he can; the periodical or seasonal buyer who stocks up methodically on all wearing apparel every so often, and the man who makes a hobby of it.

Makes Most of Hobby.

Naturally the latter is the only one who reaps the full possibilities in added personality that comes from an attractive well chosen tie. He has found it both interesting and profitable to discover that a "Spitalfield" will give him that extra durability and individuality of fabric and design for which the London silk weaving center is noted.

He knows that a "Mogador" will give him the striking colors originated by the native weavers of the Moroccan coast. He knows that a fine moire tie bespeaks the utmost in French craftsmanship and looming.

More important, he has learned the value of matching his tie with his size, his complexion and the rest of his clothes. If he is a weighty man he never wear heavy looking fabrics or ponderous designs. His instinct tells him that a pronouncedly striped tie with a striped shirt is too many stripes and when a striped suit is added it is next to "impossible."

Blends the Colors.

He wears solid color ties or small figured patterns with such an outfit and striped ties with plainer suits and shirts. Above all he neither mixes nor matches his colors to a marked degree but blends them.

To the busy business man such an array of formulas [and they are just the beginning], for the mere choosing of a necktie, seems so much hooey and unnecessary labor. It can be just that, if it is gone about in that state of mind, or it can be an interesting hobby.

It can only be repeated that dressing well has its practical and personal rewards and a becoming necktie is an integral part of it. Why not stop being just a man in a suit and a necktie and become the man about whom persons say "he has a fine appearance?"

This Week's Question.

Question: I have just bought a new double breasted dinner jacket for winter season. Is it necessary to have a vest to wear with it?

Answer: No. A double breasted dining coat should never be worn opened or unbuttoned under any circumstances so why add unnecessary bulk or uncomfortable warmth with a vest. Recognizing this, shirtmakers now provide special shirts for just such a situation.

FASHIONS FOR MEN ONLY

The fashion column for men will appear every Thursday in The Tribune. If you would like information about modes for men, write to the Men's Fashion department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Illinois. Inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your letter.

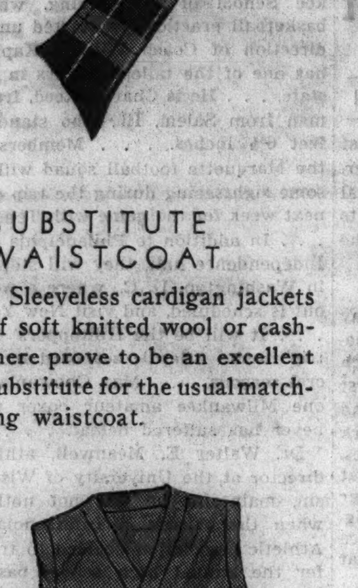
An old grad may not be so old, but be he out of school a quarter of a century or just a year or two, clothes and accessories generally retain a certain distinctive university flavor.

BLUCHER FRONT

The brown reverse calf shoe, most appropriate for this outfit, has a blucher front with a plain toe cap. Wool hose in bold tartan plaid lend the proper accent to ankle smartness.

KNITTED WOOL

Most smart fashions are practical. Fashion has placed its stamp of approval on gloves of knitted wool in Scotch or Norwegian designs. Wool, too, is favored for mufflers. A simple polka dot design printed on cashmere is a colorful protection.



SUBSTITUTE WAISTCOAT

MUCH FAVORED

IN THE ROUGH

COLD FEET

Rubbers that are light and barely visible due to details that give the appearance of a shoe are the newest contribution to smartness under inclement skies. For low temperatures a new overshoe, built specifically for stadiumites, is fleece lined and roomy enough for tucking in the trousers.

OBSERVER CITES AN EXAMPLE OF GOOD DRESSING

BY THE TOWNSMAN.

In the lobby of a theater the other evening I observed an excellent example of the old truth that you don't have to be expensively dressed or "in the height of fashion" to be well dressed.

Three men were conversing between acts, two of whom I recognized as members of well known families and a third, unknown, whose appearance immediately attracted my eye. As it turned out under closer inspection that his apparel obviously did not cost as much as that of the other two, nor did it embrace anything particularly "new," yet he stood out because he represented a complete plan.

Three Button Coat.

His suit was a three button, notch lapel, Shetland tan-brown lounge model of the kind featured by Brooks Brothers for years and favored by many easterners. It is a model that, with few exceptions, has withstood the onslaughts of every change for many seasons, chiefly, I should say, because it is as simple, as comfortable, and as sensible a suit as a man could want. It had no diagonal stripe or overplaid to give it the season's newest twist, yet it was becoming—and that is the goal.

The shirt was a standard button down Oxford cloth in blue, another article of wearing apparel which endures in favor year in and year out. The tie was a dark red and gold stripe of about a half inch each.

Hose were horizontally striped in alternate shades of tan and brown and the man wore dark tan brogue or wing tip shoes of that inconspicuous shade that comes only after persistent shining.

Hat and Overcoat.

I did not see his hat or overcoat, but I would be willing to gamble that the former was a brown snap brim not to carefully shaped and the latter a rough brown raglan.

I should judge that this man's suit cost no more than $65, the shirt no more than $2.50, the tie perhops $1.50, hose $1, and shoes not more than $8.50, yet he overshadowed the other two men whose outfits bore the marks of the best tailors and haberdashers in town.

The answer is that the man had carried out one idea in color and type throughout his whole outfit, whereas his two friends had bought the best in price, but piece by piece and with no ensemble in mind.

Even Thieves Read Ads; Like Beagle Hounds, Too

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Harold Miller saw a classified advertisment offering a Beagle hound for sale and today called at the home of Samuel Caprell to see the dog.

NAME CHICAGO'S OWN CHRISTMAS BENEFIT PURCHASE COMMITTEE

The officials of Chicago's own Christmas benefit, sponsored by Mayor Kelly, yesterday named a committee of business men to make purchases of materials for Christmas bundles to be distributed by the benefit, Barnet Hodes, secretary of the benefit fund, announced. John T. Pirie, Maurice L. Rothschild, D. F. Kelly, George W. Young, and Gen. R. E. Wood are members of the committee.

Last year the benefit sent bundles to 54,096 children. Funds will be obtained from receipts of a championship football game between the public and parochial high schools at Soldiers' field Nov. 30, and a "Night of Stars" performance at the Chicago Stadium, Dec. 18. It is expected the fund total will be increased this year, Mr. Hodes said.

Included in the individual bundles distributed by the fund are sweaters, trousers or skirt or dress, gloves, shoes, cap or hat, stockings, underclothing, and toys.

SLIDE FASTENER FOR TROUSERS GAINING FAVOR

Apparently an appreciable and increasing portion of American males is putting its "O. K." on the slide fastener for trousers. Furthermore its use is spreading to include buttonless sport shirts, lether jackets, and similar garments where quick, easy action is desired.

This innovation, which, as this department once reported, may have been more of a laugh than a selling point at the beginning, is gaining strength until it appears that it is going to be made a standard part of our attire.

You've probably had it suggested to you by your tailor, most of whom, up to the most expensive firms, are leaving it optional with the customer, and if you are a wearer of ready made suits you've undoubtedly found it in a large number of stock garments.

It appears to offer the advantages of convenience, security, trim, neat appearance, and, according to the advertisments, withstands dry cleaning and pressing. At any rate, it's well worth considering and if you like it don't hesitate to use it for fear of being odd. It is the choice of many of the best dressed men in town today.

FRENCH FLANNEL PAJAMAS GIVE SLEEP WARMTH

In spite of the steam heated apartment lives which most city dwellers lead there still is a problem of extra warmth in sleeping wear for a certain group of men. Especially is it a problem to the man who wants to be warm but still have a semblance of style about his sleeping garments.

For the latter there is nothing better on the market than the two piece pajamas of light weight but extra warm French flannel. There is not such a variety of "choosy" patterns and colors to be had, but there are several standard designs which are by no means unattractive. These are mostly small check patterns in blue, gray, and tan. Apparently they are the most dependable of the flannel colors for laundering.

A few of the stores carry French flannel pajamas in stock. Most of them will order them without extra charge and a few will order them made up to exact measure in finer grades for the discriminating buyer.

HOMEMADE FOOD URGED AS MODERN MEANS TO HEALTH

Dr. Barborka Hits Eating Habits of Nation.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Modern health seekers should combine old time customs and homemade food with the sane scientific facts now known about nutrition, Dr. Clifford J. Barborka, Chicago diagnostician, said today in an address before the American Dental association meeting here.

He said the greatest fault of dietetics today is the attempt to use a printed list for a particular disease applied to all patients afflicted with the disease, irrespective of the particular needs of the individual patient.

"Modern civilization has developed an inviroment," Dr. Barborka said, "that is altogether too complex for man's mind or body. The modern man is hopeful of improving on nature through special supplements of this or that food factor, which may be supplied by the extensive artificial preparation and processing to which foods increasingly are subjected.

Finds Vigor Diminishing.

"In our highly industrialized civilization, with a wider range of foods to choose from than any people ever had before, we find nutritional conditions and physical vigor unquestionably has deteriorated.

"This may be due to the fact that only about 10 per cent of the people of our country earn an income which permits them to eat well selected and good foods in adequate amounts.

"It is not surprising that we have poor food habits when we realize that so much of our diet is derived from prepared foods.

Explosion Myth Exploded.

"The idea of foods reacting in such mysterious ways as to form explosive mixtures is entirely a creation of the lurid imagination of food cults, and there is no scientific foundation whatever for such myths. It is true that overindulgence may be harmful under certain conditions.

"If any emphasis is to be placed on diet, the patient should be instructed to consume a high mineral, high vitamin and high protein ration that requires vigorous chewing. The cereal and carbohydrate intake, especially of cane sugar and candy, should be low and the meal should be ended with natural fruits and fruit juices rather than puddings, cakes, pastries, and highly seasoned desserts."

Hunt Evanston Law to Ban Menagerie in Boy's Home

Evanston officials were looking yesterday for an ordinance under which they can compel George Campbell, 16 years old, to dispose of his menagerie. Campbell, a high school student, has been keeping lizards, turtles, and an alligator in the basement of his home at 2223 Ridge avenue, Evanston. Edwin Arnold, city attorney of the suburb, said he had been unable so far to find an ordinance under which police can act.

MAYOR CALLS ON CITY TO ASSIST RED CROSS DRIVE

Mayor Kelly yesterday called upon all Chicagoans to respond to the annual roll call of the American Red Cross, which will be held from Armistice day to Thanksgiving. In his proclamation the mayor said the Red Cross needs generous public support to enable it to meet record demands. James B. Forgan Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter, said that preliminary membership returns of the Junior Red Cross were nearly 50 per cent ahead of last year and that when the roll is completed tomorrow the junior memberships should total well over 500,000, which he said would make the local chapter the largest in the country.

So, in the campaign to help men keep well-dressed and happy, the trubenizing idea has been carried to its logical conclusion and applied to dress and demi-bosom shirts. In the dress shirt the old stiff, starchy bosom is replaced with a soft, wrinkle-proof trubenized one. The same revolutionary improvement has been applied to the smart, spade-bosom of the demi-bosom shirt. And finally, in both cases, the collars and cuffs are trubenized, too. STOCKS BOUND TO NEW HIGHS OF RECENT YEARS

Ballot Blows to New Deal Main Factor.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 6.—Upset of the New Deal in yesterday's off-year elections in the east was made the occasion of one of the biggest bull markets of the year on the New York stock exchange today. Prices were bid up fractions to 5 points over a broad range, numerous issues being lifted to new high ground for recent years in the heaviest trading since July 26, 1934. Turnover ran to 3,077,740 shares.

Industrial price averages mounted to the highest level since 1931. Some of the more jubilant gainers of the day were Air Reduction, which scored a net advance of 4⅞ points, Du Pont 4⅝, Johns-Manville 4½, Coca-Cola 5, General Motors 3⅞, and Columbia Carbon 3½. Liggett & Myers B, General Outdoor Advertising A, Caterpillar Tractor, Greyhound corporation, Bethlehem Steel, and a number of others made gains of $2 or more each.

London Action Is Factor.

The example set by the London market yesterday when the local exchange was closed on account of the election and an accumulation of over night buying orders coming from abroad partly as a result of the outburst of speculative enthusiasm on the British capital's market gave trading a good sendoff, tilting prices upward all along the line. Aside from the week's batch of favorable dividends, featured by that of General Motors, and a steady stream of good earnings reports, the market had the benefit of news dispatches confirming rumors of a boost in finished steel prices and reports from the motor show to encourage the flow of money into stocks.

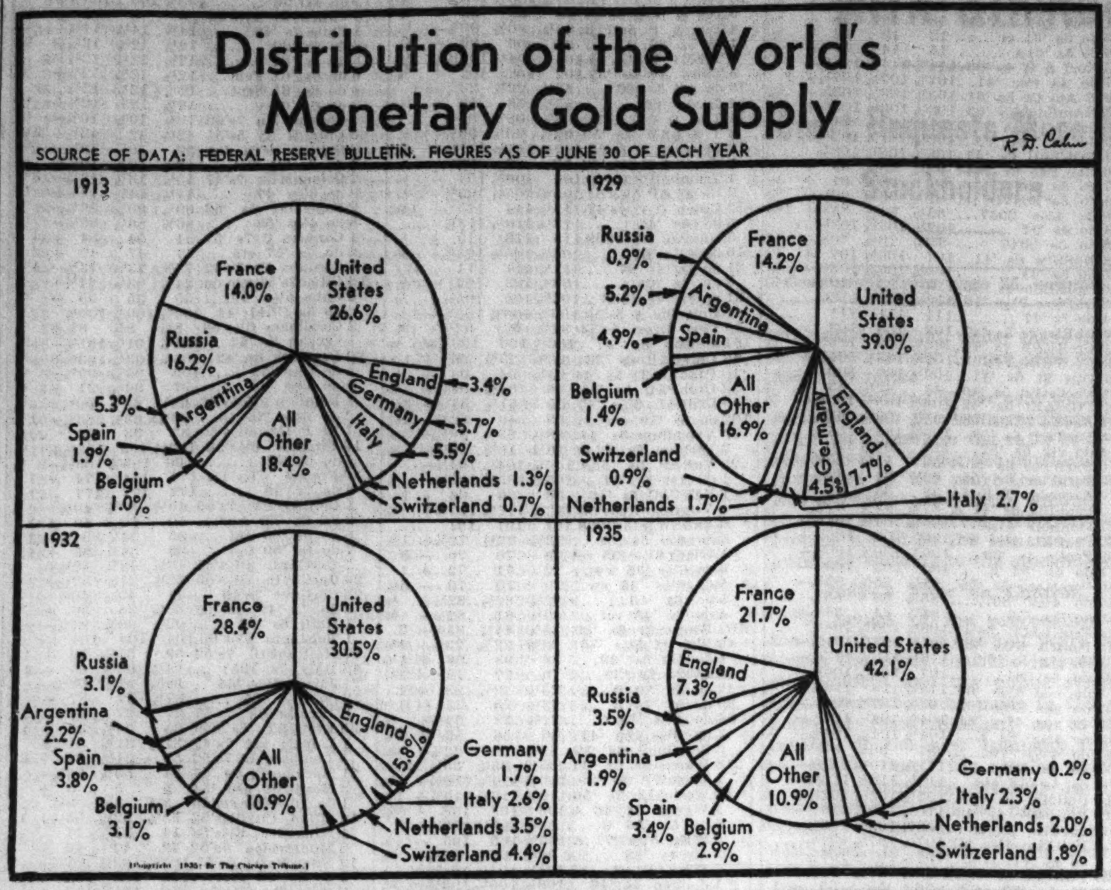
The outstanding influence, however, admittedly was the outcome of the elections evidencing popular revulsion against the New Deal brand of economics and politics. As the street saw it, the majority Republican vote in New York and other eastern states put President Roosevelt to the necessity of convincing his party that he can be reëlected in 1936.

Every Division Gains.

Automobile, steel, building, and miscellaneous shares were features of the day's activity. New 1935 highs were set by representatives of nearly every division on the board. Some of the specialties were not able to get anywhere, but others, recently neglected, came forward with a rush.

Oil shares held their following and added to it. Most strength was shown by Amerada, Barnsdall, Pure Oil and Phillips. Rail equipments continued upward, and the motor accessory group moved along. Railroad issues rose in spots, but most of the trading was confined to Great Northern, New York Central, Northern Pacific, and Atlantic Coast Line. Rubber shares were higher, mail orders climbed, and amusements made new tops.

Utilities met good demand. Metals were irregular. Weak spots included Owens Glass, Crown Cork & Seal, and Schenley Distillers.



Nation's Steel Activity Sags, Chicago Gains

Steel ingot operations in the week ended Tuesday dipped from 53½ to 52½ per cent of capacity for the nation, but the Chicago and Wheeling districts attained gains of ½ and 3 points, respectively, the magazine Iron Age announced yesterday.

Chicago is now operating at 56 per cent of capacity and Wheeling at 81 per cent. Pittsburgh slipped off 1 point to 44 per cent, Buffalo 7 points to 33 per cent, and southern mills 8 points to 46 per cent. The journal says the national recession cannot be considered as significant in view of the increased evidence of expansion in consumer demand.

Immediate Outlook Bright.

More than 300,000 automobile assemblies are claimed to be assured for both November and December. The construction industry is expected to require increased tonnages of iron and steel soon. Recent gains in carloadings have encouraged the railroads to make needed but long deferred expenditures for rolling stock and maintenance of equipment.

More significant is the improvement in consumer buying attitude as shown in an encouraging report issued yesterday by Hardware Age. This journal says that widespread consumer buying is keeping hardware stores busier than usual for November.

Iron Age says that the prospect of price increases in certain finished and semi-finished steel products is likely to stimulate buying between now and Jan. 1.

Composite Price Advanced.

Advances in pig iron prices have raised the Iron Age composite to $18.84 a ton, or $1 a ton above the level of two weeks ago before the initial increases were announced. The scrap composite remains at $12.58 a ton and finished steel at 2.130 cents a pound.

The Inland Steel company yesterday announced price advances on three semi-finished products, effective immediately on new sales. The changes were: Rerolling quality billets, from $27 to $29 per gross ton; sheet bars, from $28 to $30 per gross ton, and skelp, from $1.70 per hundredweight to $1.80. A mark-up of $1 a ton on finished steel is expected to follow.

HIGHER COSTS OFFSET GAIN IN PULLMAN CO. GROSS; PROFIT LOWER

Increased operating costs offset larger gross revenues, with the result that September net income of the Pullman company, sleeping car affiliate of Pullman, Inc., fell below last year. The company reported net after taxes was $178,044, compared with $362,561 in the same month last year. Gross amounted to $4,250,568, compared with $3,891,523 in September, 1934.

For the first nine months of this year the company had a loss of $1,966,524, compared with a net income of $503,358 in the corresponding period of last year. Gross revenue for period totaled $36,326,945, against $33,176,086 last year.

The company explained that its poorer showing was due largely to continuation of its expanded car maintenance program and to increased pay roll costs following full restoration of wages in April to the pre-depression level.

Consolidated income of Pullman, Inc., disclosed a deficit for the third quarter of $772,406, compared with net income of $2,137,867 in the same 1934 period. Earnings from all sources, after operating expenses and federal taxes, stood at $2,771,425 for the 1935 third quarter. Charges and allowances for depreciation totaled $3,543,832.

Current assets of Pullman, Inc., as of Sept. 30 totaled $58,604,961, including cash of $9,436,478 and government securities of $14,907,357. Current liabilities amounted to $11,882,635.

Sales Record Set by Ward and Walgreen

Improved business conditions were pointedly reflected in sales figures for October, released yesterday by Montgomery Ward & Co., which had the largest volume for any month in the company's history, and the Walgreen company, which reported the heaviest October sales on record.

Ward sales for the month amounted to $35,897,447, compared with the previous record high of $35,799,316, established in December, 1929. The increase over October, 1934, when sales totaled $29,703,511, aggregated $6,193,936 or 20.85 per cent. In September of this year volume was $25,172,907, or 9 per cent above a year ago.

Attribute Gain to Trade Upturn.

The sharp increase last month resulted from general improvement in business rather than holiday buying, Ward officials said. While the company has improved selling methods during the year, it has also benefited considerably from improved purchasing power in the rural sections of the country.

Besides serving the farmers through mail order busines, the company has established most of its retail stores in the smaller cities that attract buying from farmers.

Last month's total brought the volume for the first nine months of the company's fiscal year to, $217,207,992, compared with $182,409,843 in the corresponding months of 1934, an increase of $34,798,149 or 19.08 per cent.

Walgreen Sales Up 4.8 Pct.

Walgreen's sales for October were $4,906,431, an increase of $223,883, or 4.8 per cent over the $4,682,548 for October, 1934, which was the previous record high for that month.

September sales amounted to $4,704,691, or 5.3 per cent higher than a year ago. For the first ten months of this year volume aggregated $47,497,805, compared with $44,102,474 in the same period of 1934, a gain of $3,395,331 or 7.7 per cent.

Individual gains ranged from 3.7 per cent for the S. S. Kresge company to an advance of 29.2 per cent reported by Edison Brothers Stores, Inc.

SPITZ, CHICAGO LAWYER, TO BE R-K-O PRESIDENT

First Move in Atlas, Lehman Control.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Leo Spitz, Chicago attorney, will become president of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation, succeeding Merlin B. Aylesworth, who will be chairman of the board, it was announced today. Spitz's selection to head the motion picture company was revealed by Floyd B. Odlum, president of the Atlas corporation, which, with the investment banking firm of Lehman Brothers, purchased control of R-K-O last month from the Radio Corporation of America.

This is the first important change in the management of R-K-O that has been announced since Atlas and Lehman Brothers bought control. At that time it was said that proceedings looking to the reorganization of R-K-O were pending, and that a plan of reorganization for the company would be promulgated shortly.

Undergoing Reorganization.

The company was placed in receivership in January, 1933. The receivership was superseded last year by reorganization proceedings under section 77B of the bankruptcy act. The Irving Trust company is trustee during the reorganization.

The deal through which Atlas corporation and Lehman Brothers purchased control of R-K-O embraced the entire holdings of the Radio Corporation of America of the motion picture company's securities, which were carried on the books of R. C. A. at $14,644,614. One-half of the securities was sold for cash, and the purchasers obtained an option on the other half.

The total amount of securities held by R. C. A. comprised 1,259,463½ shares of the R-K-O common stock and $9,786,655 of the latter company's ten year debentures. The common stock amounted to 48.6 per cent of the 2,593,992 shares of common stock outstanding, while the debentures amounted to 84 per cent of the $11,600,000 outstanding.

PRACTICED HERE.

Leo Spitz, new head of Radio-Keith-Orpheum, who is now in New York, is a member of the law firm of Spitz & Adcock. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has practiced law here since about 1910, associates said last night.

For many years he has specialized in legal work connected with the motion picture industry. He is general counsel for Balaban & Katz. His experience, it was said, has carried him into the film production and distribution field and theater operation.

New Dealers Again to Play Star Roles at Bankers' Meeting

BY HOWARD WOOD.

When the 4,000 bankers who are expected to attend the sixty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' association gather in New Orleans Sunday they will be prepared—for the third successive year—to listen rather than to talk.

Again this year the headliners on the convention's list of speakers are mostly members of the administration in Washington. Again Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation will address the bankers' whose institutions he controls through stock ownership, and the bankers who are free from RFC interest. And once more Chairman Leo T. Crowley of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board, and Controler of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor will do much of the talking.

* *

Despite the presence of this heavy artillery from New Deal headquarters, however, the delegates are expected to be more outspoken than they were last year and in 1933. Their attitude of supine submission was broken a few months ago when the controversy over the new banking bill became bitter. New issues have arisen, and probably will not be easily downed.

The presence of Senator Carter Glass, who will talk on "Banking Legislation," is expected to lend spirit to the convention. It was Senator Glass who battled Eccles during the hearings on the banking bill of 1935 and finally succeeded in practically rewriting all of the most controversial sections of the bill.

* *

Two years ago when the bankers held their convention in Chicago they were just beginning to recover from the terrific shock of the moratorium and were facing they knew not what in the way of political experimentation and radical legislation. They listened submissively to Chairman Jones of the RFC who told them to "be smart for once" and sell stock to the RFC.

Last year at the convention in Washington the management of their association, by shrewd maneuvering, succeeded in restraining criticism of the administration. Leading bankers hurried to the White House to assure President Roosevelt that the A. B. A. would coöperate with the administration to the utmost in bringing about business recovery. The rank and file of the delegates were vaguely informed that the administration was about to "swing to the right."

This year the troublesome question of the inflation of bank deposits resulting from the administration's continued deficits is expected to be the subject of much discussion. As a starter the Association of Reserve City Bankers, an inner circle of big city bankers within the A. B. A., has just brought out a booklet entitled "Do We Want a Managed Currency," attacking the New Deal's "planned money" policy.

* *

Bankers slated to address the convention include Harold V. Amberg, vice president and general counsel of the First National bank of Chicago; Dr. A. H. Giannini, chairman of the executive committee of the Bank of America, Los Angeles; Rudolf S. Hecht, president of the A. B. A., and Wood Netherland, vice president of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust company, St. Louis. Among business men who will talk are Harper Sibley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and Lewis H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville corporation.

Three sections of the bankers annual "Falltonic Special" will leave Chicago over the Illinois Central railroad tomorrow afternoon at six o'clock. A fourth will be made up at Memphis, where the delegates will stop over on Saturday as the guests of the Memphis Clearing House association. Other special trains will converge on New Orleans from the east and west and many delegates have chartered planes or will go by motor.

MIDDLE WEST'S PLAN APPROVED 'WITH STRINGS'

Court Urges More for Stockholders.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday tentatively approved the plans submitted by security holders and creditors for reorganization of the Middle West Utilities company, colossus of the former Insull utility system.

Final approval was made contingent on certain modifications which would give the common and preferred stockholders options to purchase shares in the new company in addition to the stock which they are allotted under the present terms. At the same time Judge Wilkerson gave notice that he would retain a tight rein over the affairs of the company for a "reasonable period" after the reorganization becomes effective.

May End Receivership.

Judge Wilkerson's opinion again lifted hopes that the company may soon end its three and a half year period of receivership and trusteeship. The contemplated reorganization is being carried out under the terms of section 77B of the amended bankruptcy act. The company was originally placed in equity receivership in April, 1932, when the Insull system crashed.

Some uncertainty existed last night over the acceptability to the bank creditors and the noteholders of the stipulations made by Judge Wilkerson in his opinion. Representatives of these creditors had previously declared that they had made the fullest possible concessions to the stockholders. All parties in the case will appear before Judge Wilkerson Saturday for a hearing on the plan.

Judge Wilkerson made public a lengthy memorandum explaining the revisions which he desired in the plan of reorganization.

Chance for Stockholders.

"The stockholders, in my opinion," he said, "should be given some additional opportunity to share in the future prosperity of the new company, if it turns out to be prosperous. . . . The appearances do not justify an outright allotment of additional shares of the new company to the stockholders. It appears equitable, however, that the stockholders should receive, in addition to the shares allotted to them, warants or contracts entitling them to purchase shares in the new company at set prices.

"Giving consideration to the valuation urged upon the court by the proponents of the plan as a basis for its adoption, the issuing of a warant for each two shares of preferred stock and each 50 shares of common stock, entitling the holders to purchase one share of the new company at $5 appears to a reasonable provision."

Under the present terms the common stockholders get one share in the new company for each 100 shares of old stock held. The preferred holders would get 1 new share for each 4 old shares. The combined equity of the common and preferred stockhold-

VARTY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF REALTY BOARD

Leo G. Varty of L. G. Varty & Co. was elected president of the Chicago Real Estate board at its annual election last evening at the board rooms, 32 West Randolph street. He succeeds John C. Bowers. Varty has been active in Chicago realty affairs for several years and has served as a director of the board.

Howard E. Haynie of Wirtz, Haynie & Ehrat, former chairman of the renting and management division and second vice president, was elected first vice president. Louis B. Beardslee of L. B. Beardslee & Co. was made treasurer, and Fred M. Lorish of Swan, Lorish & Caspers was named secretary.

Other vice presidents elected were: Burt R. Kiely, Erwin H. List, Ray McCarthy, Frank J. O'Brien, Seward M. Gunderson, George R. Quin, Clarence O. Rosain, Ferd Kramer and Frank M. Stanley. The installation of new officers will take place at the next monthly meeting, Dec. 6.

BENDIX VOTES FIRST COMMON DIVIDEND SINCE '32

Directors of the Bendix Aviation corporation yesterday declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on capital stock. This is the first payment to be made by the company since 15 cents a share was disbursed in April, 1932.

Dictaphone corporation yesterday declared a dividend of $1.50 a share on the common. The dividend was increased three months ago from 50 to 75 cents, while on March 1 a payment of 25 cents a share was made.

International Shoe company voted an extra of 25 cents a share on common. Homestake Mining company announced its usual extra of $2 a share. Bucyrus Erie company ordered a disbursement of $1 a share on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred. The last payment of 50 cents was made Oct. 1, at which time the balance of past due dividends was $14.50 a share.

Canada Bud Breweries voted a dividend of 20 cents a share on common, compared with 15 cents a share paid April 15.

Dun's Food Price Index Near High Point of Year

Dun & Bradstreet's food index rose 1 cent from $2.73 to $2.74 in the week ended Nov. 5. The current level is 13.7 per cent higher than a year ago and only slightly under the 1935 high of $2.77 established in September.

ATTACK LEGALITY OF LABOR BOARD IN CLOTHING CASE

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Constitutionality of the national labor relations board was challenged today in its first attempt to assume jurisdiction over a labor dispute in the clothing industry in the United States.

Leonard Weinberg, attorney for the Friedman-Harry Marks Clothing company of Richmond which is charged with violations of the Wagner-Connery laws by the local union of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, refused to participate in the scheduled hearing today until "ordered by the court of ultimate jurisdiction."

"Our client is interested only in whether the national labor relations board has any jurisdiction and whether the national labor relations act is constitutional," Weinberg said.

Weinberg's statement, which was made immediately upon the opening of the hearing, was followed by a recess granted at the request of the labor board.

PLAN OBJECTION TO SURFACE LINES REORGANIZATION

Harry F. Hamlin, counsel for a group of junior security holders of the Chicago Railways company, announced yesterday he would file a formal objection to the proposed street car reorganization plan when hearing comes up tomorrow in federal court.

He declared the proposed plan was "unfair and grossly discriminating" to the holders of the consolidated "B" bonds and the adjustment income bond holders whom he represents. Hamlin charged the plan appears primarily to be for the benefit of the first mortgage bond holders and bankers interested in the reorganization.

Federal Court Dismisses Foreman Realty Trust Suit

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday dismissed for want of jurisdiction the 77B reorganization suit filed against the Foreman Realty trust. The trust is an $11,000,000 organization formed to reorganize properties securing bonds sold by George E. Foreman & Co.

WARM WEATHER REDUCES OUTPUT OF POWER HERE

Unseasonably warm weather last week reduced the amount of electricity used in the Chicago area from the preceding week, but a substantial increase was still shown over last year, according to the Commonwealth Edison company.

Production of electricity totaled 108,638,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 109,671,000 in the preceding week and 104,571,000 in the corresponding period of last year. Weekly totals with comparative figures and percentage gains over 1934 follow:

Wk. end.	1935.	1934.	Act.	*
Nov. 2	108,638,000	104,571,000	3.9	5.3

Thomson Receiver Suit Extended for Ten Days

Representatives of Attorney General Kerner yesterday were given ten days by Circuit Judge John Prystalski to answer a petition filed by John M. Thomson asking that he be reinstated as the receiver of the Kenwood State Bank. Thomson was replaced April 1 by William L. O'Connell after a court fight.

REDEEM CARBIDE BUILDING BONDS AT 101 ON JAN. 1

BY AL CHASE.

For the first time in many years bondholders of a loop office building are to be paid off in advance and at a premium. Outstanding bonds totaling $2,965,000 on the Carbide and Carbon building at the southwest corner of North Michigan avenue and East South Water street will be called today for redemption Jan. 1 at 101 and interest, according to John D. Cooke Jr. of Cooke, Sullivan & Ricks, attorneys for the Oxweld Acetylene company, owner of the building and leasehold.

The Oxweld company, a subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, acquired title some time ago from the 230 North Michigan Avenue Building corporation, issuer of the original $3,400,000 issue which was underwritten by Greenbaum Sons Investment company.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ASKS EXTENSION OF $7,778,000 LOAN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—An extension for five years of $7,778,000 of loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, due on Dec. 7, was requested by the Illinois Central railroad today in application to the interstate commerce commission. A similar request by the Southern railway was expected by the commission in connection with RFC loans of $3,271,745 and $7,254,000, maturing on Dec. 20 and March 1, respectively.

Illinois Central owes the RFC $17,755,000, the PWA $10,000,000, and the Railroad Credit corporation $1,183,398. The system as a whole earned $3,000,000 over requirements for fixed charges during the first nine months of this year, the application said.

OCTOBER AUTO OUTPUT RISES 255 PER CENT

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An increase of 255 per cent in the October output of members of the Automobile Manufacturers association compared with September was announced today. The sharp increase in production of cars and trucks, the association reported, was due to the advance in the date for new models this year.

The association's members, which include all except one major producer, turned out 210,392 cars and trucks in October, compared with 59,329 in September, and 94,059 in October, 1934.

In the first ten months of the current year the total was 2,241,289 units, a gain of 21 per cent over the 1,852,657 units in the same period of the previous year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 6.—Constructive operations characterized bond trading today on the New York exchange. Under the leadership of industrial loans, which were bid up sharply on a heavier turnover, the improvement spread over a broad list of domestic corporation bonds. Total transactions expanded to $14,383,000, as compared with $9,424,000 on Monday.

Participating in the strength and activity which ruled in other markets today, virtually all classes of bonds reflected the better sentiment in trading circles. In the industrial issues gains of one to three points were recorded.

Some of Large Gains.

Prominent in the movement were, American Rolling Mill 4¼s, up 2½ points; American Type Founders 6s, up 2⅝; Vanadium corporation 5s, up 3¼, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s, up 1 point. More moderate advances were shown elsewhere throughout the industrial group.

Trading in public utility bonds was marked by a heavy demand for the issues of Utilities Power & Light company as the 5s of 1959 rose 4¼ points and the 5½s of 1947 advanced 3¾ points. Other major groups maintained a firm tone with prices holding within relatively narrow limits. Few movements worthy of note developed among the railroad issues.

Federals Rise Slightly.

The market for United States government obligations, while lacking the buoyancy displayed by industrial loans, worked slightly higher on a fair turnover. Closing prices showed gains of 1-32 to 5-32 point with a few slightly lower. Sales in these bonds totaled about a million dollars.

Italian dollar loans extended their recent advance with gains of 1 to 1½ points on the more favorable interpretation of the latest European advices on the war situation.

Tampa Electric.

Investors' Guide: I would like information on Tampa Electric preferred and common. I am a subscriber to your paper.—G. F.

Answer: Tampa Electric company supplies electricity to Tampa, Fla., and several small communities in the vicinity. In addition it does some street railway, water service, and ice business. About 82 per cent of gross is derived from sales of electricity.

Earnings have held stable over a long period of time. Preferred stock dividend requirements have been covered by wide margins. In the twelve months to Aug. 31, 1935, operating revenues were $3,964,000 and net income was $1,298,000, which was equal to $129.81 per preferred share and $2.17 per common share.

	Gross.	Net income.	Inc. per com. sh.
1934	$3,885,000	$1,283,000	$2.14
1933	3,676,000	1,254,000	2.09
1932	3,779,000	1,308,000	2.18
1931	4,227,000	1,541,000	2.59

On June 30, 1935, current assets were $1,829,000 and current liabilities were $681,000, a strong position, especially in view of the fact that the company has no funded debt. Capitalization consists solely of 10,000 shares of 7 per cent $100 par preferred and 567,730 shares of no par common. The common pays 56 cents a quarter.

The preferred is high grade. It is callable at 105. The common deserves a fairly good rating.

Federal Deposit Insurance.

Investors' Guide: It seems that I read where the last congress passed a banking law making permanent the guarantee of bank deposits up to $5,000 by the government. I have asked a few prominent bankers here about it, but none of them gives me a satisfactory answer; they seem to dodge the issue. Will you kindly advise me?—D. T. S.

Answer: The last congress passed an act making permanent the bank deposit insurance legislation.

Under this act bank deposits are not guaranteed by the United States government. Insured deposits are insured by Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, an instrumentality of the government. The federal government, however, has no outright liability.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

TO THE HOLDERS OF the above mentioned Bonds issued under an Indenture of Mortgage dated April 1, 1926 between Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric Company and State Street Trust Company, Trustee:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has called for redemption and payment, and intends to redeem and pay, on November 30, 1935, all of the outstanding above-mentioned Bonds, at one hundred three per centum (103%) of the principal amount thereof, together with the interest accrued thereon to the date of redemption, in accordance with the terms of said Bonds and said Indenture of Mortgage. Bonds should be presented for redemption and payment, and surrendered, with all unpaid coupons, together, in the case of Bonds registered as to principal otherwise than to bearer, with duly-executed instruments of transfer at the principal office of the Trustee, State Street Trust Company, corner of State and Congress Streets, Boston, Massachusetts. The principal and premium of any Bonds registered as to principal will be paid only to the registered owner thereof. Accrued interest to the date of redemption represented by the coupons maturing April 1, 1936, will be paid only to the respective bearers of such coupons. From and after November 30, 1935 said Bonds will cease to be entitled to the lien, benefits and security of said Indenture of Mortgage and will cease to bear interest.

TRADE IN CHICAGO STOCKS LARGEST IN 21 MONTHS

Prices Surge Forward on Broad Front.

In the most active market since Feb. 5, 1934, stocks on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday surged upward in trading which totaled 152,000 shares. Thirty issues hit new 1935 highs, while total issues traded in numbered 140, the largest for a single session in months.

Radio shares continued to feature activity. Zenith declined ¼ to close at 12¾ on a turnover of 10,300 shares. Utah Radio moved up ⅝ to 5⅛, a new high, and Ken-Rad Tube touched a new top by climbing 1⅛ to 11⅞. National Union Radio rose ¼ on a turnover of 9,100 shares.

Automotive Shares Mixed.

The automotive section was somewhat mixed. Bendix eased ⅝, Borg-Warner declined ½, Houdaille B lost a fraction, and Cord sagged ½. Noblitt-Sparks advanced ¾ to a new top for the year. Waukesha Motors gained ½ to close at 99¼.

Steel shares were strong, Continental rising ¼ to close at 36¾ and Keystone moving up ½ to 59. Gains in this division reflected the constantly improving position of the steel industry as a whole.

Among the utilities, Commonwealth Edison and Public Service each declined 1¼, the former closing at 95 and the latter at 52. Recent earnings reports disclosed that net profits have been declining, owing to the tax load, despite improvement in gross revenues.

Butler Brothers Off Fraction.

There were a number of gains recorded among the specialties, notably National Gypsum, which moved up 2 points to 39. Quaker Oats hit a new high for the year—137⅝.

Chicago Corporation was the most active individual performer, turnover in this stock reaching 17,050 shares. The price remained unchanged.

Indicative of greater speculative interest, the Chicago Stock exchange reports it received applications for six trans-lux projectors yesterday. On July 1 there were only seven in operation. Including yesterday's applications, the total now in operation is 31. Trading during the first five days of November has totaled 511,000 shares, more than in the entire month of November, 1934.

FRENCH FLIGHT OF GOLD TO U. S. MOUNTS SHARPLY

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Evidence of a rising flight of capital from France to this country was provided today by a disclosure that $17,076,000 of gold had been engaged in Paris for shipment here in the last two days. This brought the total engaged since Sept. 9 to $491,500,000, of which $239,800,000 has been taken in France. Imports of gold totaling $7,905,800 were received here today.

The franc closed at 6.59 cents, unchanged. The pound closed at $4.91⅞, down ½ cent.

Court Names New Haven President as Trustee

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Howard S. Palmer was named trustee today in the United States District court for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which recently filed a petition for permission to reorganize under section 77 of the federal bankruptcy law. He is president of the railroad. James Lee Loomis, president of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, also was nominated for a trusteeship but Judge Carroll C. Hincks, reserved his decision as to whether he would designate more than one trustee.

Tire Dealers Want Congress to Probe Rubber Industry

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation of the rubber industry was requested today in a resolution adopted at a meeting of about 150 members of the National Tire Dealers association, at which alleged injustices of the "big companies" against independent retailers were discussed. The convention ratified the action of the platform committee in applying to the federal trade commission for a trade practice conference on the retail industry.

Associated Gas Hearing Postponed to Dec. 4

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A hearing on reorganization of the Associated Gas and Electric company scheduled today in federal court was reset for Dec. 4.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today with spots at 3.50c per lb and no sales reported. Over quota sugars were a little easier with a sale confirmed of 4,300 bags of Puerto Ricos for November shipment at 3.25c, a decline of 3 points from the previous sale, although most holders were still asking 3.30c.

Futures were lower under increased December liquidation and selling by trade and commission houses. The market was influenced by reports from Washington that the AAA had approved the application of two refiners for the release of 49,300 tons of sugar to be processed under bond from customs custody during December. Final prices were 1 to 4 points net lower with December showing the maximum decline. Sales 4,600 tons.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
December	2.45	2.47	2.44	2.47	2.50
January	2.19	2.19	2.17	2.17	2.19

May	2.22	2.22	2.22	2.22	2.22
September	2.31	2.31	2.31	2.31	2.33

Refined was unchanged with refiners listing at 5.30c per lb. and second hands quoted from 5.15c to 5.20c.

MIDDLE WEST'S PLAN APPROVED 'WITH STRINGS'

Court Requests More for Stockholders.

The remaining 90 per cent would be split between the bank creditors and the note holders in the ratio of 53-47, respectively. Under the modifications suggested by the court the creditors would receive the same amount of stock as now provided. The only difference would be the issuance of the purchase warants to the stockholders.

Judge's View on Control.

"A review of the proceedings of the last three and one-half years convinces the court that the interest of stockholders and the public require that reservations be made in the decree [of reorganization] as to the control of the new company for a reasonable time," the opinion stated.

"The controling interest in the new company will be held by the secured creditors, who, obviously, will wish to convert their shares into cash. The members of the committee stand in a fiduciary relationship to those who have entrusted them to the care of their notes and stock. Members of such committees, obviously, may not determine for themselves matters relating to the association with the new company which may involve the element of personal advantage. Questions of this kind should be passed upon by the court in connection with the approval of the plan."

Would Select Officers.

Judge Wilkerson said he believed that the court's jurisdiction should be continued until July 1, 1937, and that the first board of directors, to be named by the court, should hold office until that time. The decree of the court approving the reorganization should also name the president, executive committee, and chairman of the new company, he said.

He further specified the compensation of all officers whose salaries exceed $4,800 annually should also be subject to court approval. Another provision would require court approval for any sale, transfer, or exchange of assets by the company which involved more than $500,000.

BUTTER FUTURES STEADY; EGGS UNCHANGED TO LOWER

Profit taking sales were effective in checking the upward movement in butter futures yesterday, with the close unchanged from Tuesday, and November at 29 cents per pound. Heavy inroads are being made into cold storage stocks of butter.

Scattered liquidation developed in egg futures and the close was unchanged to ¼ cent lower with November at 23⅜ cents per dozen. January Idaho potatoes advanced 15 cents per 100 pounds in sympathy with a strong spot market and expectations that the government report would indicate a smaller prospective yield this season due to frost damage. Sales of butter were 104 cars, eggs 98 cars, potatoes 6 cars, and cheese 1 car. Prices:

Friend of the Coal User

The Friend of the Coal User will supply information on economical use of coal in an attempt to enable users to meet with less loss the added expense which the Guffey coal law is loading on the Chicagoland public. Inquiries should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Items of general interest will be published.

Unburned Coal Escapes.

Evanston, Oct. 25.—We have a hot water heater in which we burn nut hard coal. In shaking it down we always find coal which has not burned. Can you suggest a possible remedy? W. M. P.

Answer—The most likely reasons for unburned coal escaping from your hot water heater are burned or warped grate bars and too vigorous shaking. An inspection of the bars and the removal of ashes when shaking down, should lead to a reduction of the loss of which you complain.

Asks About Mixed Fuel.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—I have a seven room, one story residence, which I heat with a hot water system. I use Indiana fourth vein coal [lump size] that costs me $4 a ton delivered. It is fairly satisfactory but makes considerable ashes and soot. How would it do to put some large lump coke in my coal room and when the real cold winter weather comes to mix the coke and coal, especially at night? Do you think the mixture would hold heat better through the long nights? It will cost me about $9.50 per ton to get good coke. O. M. W.

Answer—We believe a slower burning coal such as Pocahontas mine run would give you a steadier and more durable fire, a greatly reduced soot deposit on your boiler fire pot and flues, and also reduce your ashes and cinders probably 25 per cent. This change would cost less than the mixture you suggest, and would be more reliable because it is less variable.

COTTON PRICES ADVANCE; SHARP RISE IN NEW YORK

Aggressive foreign buying of March and May cotton early yesterday lifted prices in New York nearly $1 per bale as compared with Monday's finish. There was no material pressure on the upturn, but later profit taking developed and the close was somewhat under the best figures. Net gains in Chicago were 4 to 10 points and New Orleans 3 to 10 points, while New York gained 7 to 12 points, the latter as compared with Monday. Trade and commission houses were fairly good buyers.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 10 points higher with New Orleans 11.40 cents, Houston and Galveston, 11.30 cents, and New York, 11.45 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

RAIL PRESIDENTS TO OPEN ANNUAL MEETING TODAY

Will Consider Problems of Operation.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Nearly every railroad president in the United States will be in Chicago today and tomorrow for the annual meeting of the Association of American Railroads which will be opened this morning at the Stevens hotel. The executives will scrutinize every detail of railroad operation and particularly those developments in the changing railroad picture through which the rail carriers expect to meet their competition on highways and airways.

J. J. Pelley, former president of the New Haven railroad and now president of the association, will preside at the two day session. Joseph B. Eastman, federal rail coördinator, will spea kat the opening session.

Directors to Report.

The first business of the executives will be a study of the reports of the board of directors. Among the most interesting reports will be that of the division of equipment research which discloses the vast amount of study now occupying the railroads in an effort to meet competition.

Many inventions have been submitted to the roads during the year, including thirteen vehicles for combination rail and highway use, telephone systems for trains, combination day coach and sleeping car, and new air brake equipment. The attention of the executives will be called to the design of a proposed steam turbine locomotive on which a study is now being made.

Study Diesel Qualifications.

An exhaustive study is being made of Diesel electric locomotives to determine their qualifications from an economic point of view for high speed freight and passenger service. Air resistance and streamline of railway cars in connection with high speed passenger train operation is given attention. Operation of streamlined, semi-streamlined, and regular equipment in the Chicago-Twin Cities run is held up as an opportunity for the railroads to get pointers as to what type of equipment will be best suited to railroad needs in the future.

The subject of transverse fissures in rails, sometimes referred to as rail "cancer," has been studied and suggestions for further efforts to end this threat will be made. In view of the changing conditions in railroad operation, with the introduction of new high speed trains, studies with respect to track design are being pushed.

PARISH CHARGES COMPETITORS WRECKED FIRM

Trade Commission Hears Story of Pipe Line.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Frank P. Parish, president of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company, in receivership since March, 1932, today began his story before the federal trade commission of what he charges was the deliberate wrecking of his concern by competitive interests.

Parish was tried and acquitted of mail fraud in a federal court in Chicago last April. His defense against that indictment will be included in his testimony before the commission and will be embellished with additional details, it was reported.

The witness described the early history of his company which was formed in 1928. He told how mysterious obstacles arose after he invaded the Texas Panhandle natural gas field, already "checker boarded" by Standard Oil and Cities Service interests.

Tells of Order Refusal.

Opposition was so bitter, he told the commission, that James A. Farrell, president of United States Steel corporation, personally ordered the National Tube company not to accept a $25,000,000 order for pipe with which Parish planned to start his natural gas pipe line.

Farrell gave the excuse, Parish testified, that the output of National Tube was already promised to Henry L. Doherty for a contemplated pipe line to Chicago. Doherty had not, however, placed his order at that time, Parish said.

National Tube finally filled a substantial part of the order, Parish said, and most of the companies in America took part in manufacturing the tubes necessary to fill the big order.

Forced Filling of Order.

The delay might have been costly, the witness admitted, but "a considerable amount of pressure" finally resulted in getting the order filled.

Parish acquired 192,000 acres in the Panhandle area at an average cost of about $10 an acre, he said. Most of this was land sandwiched between holdings of the Standard Oil and Cities Service groups and which those companies had not planned to lease because they drain off their gas through their wells on adjoining properties, the witness asserted.

His company at first planned a natural gas pipe line to Minneapolis and St. Paul, he testified, but he ran up against a stone wall in attempting to interest distributing companies in the Twin City area.

A pipe line was finally laid by Parish's company to Indianapolis.

The trade commission's investigation is to be made the basis for legislation to be proposed at the next session of congress regulating the natural gas industry.

BUILDING WITH CHICAGO BUSINESS SINCE 1863

WHEAT FUTURES ADVANCE HERE IN QUIET SESSION

Lethargy Also Dominates Other World Markets.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

After a day of quiet trading Chicago wheat futures closed yesterday with gains ranging up to a cent a bushel over Tuesday's final prices. The pattern of the market differed little from that of the last ten days. The absence of aggressive demand for wheat was apparent but at the same time the market met little selling.

Routine business transacted brought about an advance which practically cancelled the preceding day's losses. In the last week there has been only a trifling change in the price level. May wheat futures are selling within an eighth of a cent a bushel of the price quoted 10 days ago.

Other Markets Quiet.

Dullness in trading here was matched in other markets. Liverpool prices closed with slight changes while Winnipeg recovered part of the ground lost Tuesday. With yesterday's advance, however, the November future in Winnipeg is still 2½ cents a bushel below the government's guaranteed price of 87½ cents a bushel. Cables from England said commercial demand for wheat was slow.

The Canadian situation continues an important price factor in this country. Meanwhile stocks of Canadian wheat stored in bond in the United States are swelling and now total 15 million bushels more than a year ago. Whether this grain will be released for domestic consumption or reëxported without paying duty has a direct bearing on the price structure here.

Decision on AAA Awaited.

To add to this uncertainty is the forthcoming decision of the United States Supreme court on the processing tax and the entire AAA program. Opinions vary sharply as to the probable effect on the market of an adverse decision by the court and it is this uncertainty that breeds wariness on the part of traders, speculators, and commercial buyers.

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Week Ago.
Wheat	$ .97⅝	$ .97⅜	$ .97⅛
Corn	.59⅝	.58¾	.58⅜
Oats	.26⅝	.26½	.26½
Rye	.49⅛	.48⅞	.49¼

The net advance in December wheat amounted to only ⅜ cent. May and July wheat futures, however, closed ⅞ cent higher. The corn market was again comparatively strong.

LARD UP 15 TO 37½ CENTS ON ACTIVE SHORT COVERING

Short covering developed in May lard yesterday, induced by strength in the fresh pork market, the enlarged demand for hogs, and firmness in corn. Offerings were relatively light on the advance with the close at net gains of 15 to 37½ cents.

Cash lard dropped sharply and closed at $13.37; loose, $12.45; leaf, $12.50, and clear bellies at $17.87 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

Lard.

HAY MARKET

Less hay is reported enroute and the market is cleaning up following heavy arrivals. Prices are steady. Timothy received by rail on the Soo line is selling up to $16. Receipts yesterday were 3 cars and 4 trucks of timothy; 3 cars of alfalfa, and 2 cars and 1 truck of straw. Prices per ton follow:

U. S. grades—	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
Timothy, rail	$14 @15	$13@14	$7@9
Do track	11 @12	10@11	6@8

Clover, rail	 14	.....	.....
Alfalfa, choice	14 @16	.....	.....

Marsh hay, $6@$8. STRAW—Rye, rail, $10; wheat and oat, $5@6.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—FLOUR—Prices were unchanged today. Shipments were 31,787 brls. Pure bran was quoted at $15.50@16.00, and standard middlings at $15.50@16.00 per ton.

A CORRECTION

On September 21st we advertised a fur style show, sponsored by a Loop furrier, with Hollywood mannequins parading $350,000 worth of furs.

We have now learned that many of the mannequins were not from Hollywood, and that the value of the furs was considerably below $350,000.

HOGS ADVANCE AS PORK GAINS, LARD SLUMPS

Further sharp advances in fresh pork prices were partially counterbalanced by a severe slump in lard prices yesterday, resulting in only mild changes in the live hog market. Opening strong, trade slowed down later, although the day's top and the average prices were 5 cents above Tuesday at $11.70 and $11.35, respectively, processing tax included.

The trend of cattle prices yesterday was the reverse of Tuesday. Well finished long fed steers were strong to 25 cents higher. Plainer classes of beef cows maintained a steady basis, and some of the best kinds ruled stronger. The top was $13.25, and a few carloads sold at $13.00 to $13.15.

Lambs gained 15 cents despite an uneven trend in fresh lamb. Prices were $1 lower to 50 cents higher for wholesale lamb meat. Top natives to city butchers soared to $10.15, while most fat natives and fed westerns sold to big packers at $9.75 to $10. Packers are demanding a penalty of $2 on lambs shorn of their fleece this season because of the strong position of the wool market.

FIELD SEEDS

Timothy seed quoted around $3.10@3.15 per 100 lbs. for country run and $3.20@3.30 for fancy recleaned.

Prices quoted are for irregular country run lots unless otherwise specified, per 100 lbs. Jobbers' prices to retail trade are higher.

Red clover, country run, $11.00@15.00; fancy recleaned, $16.00. Alsike, $15.85@19.35. Alfalfa, Kansas, $13.25; Oklahoma, $11.50; Idaho, $14.00; Utah, $13.50. Sweet clover, country run, $3.50@4.00. Red top, 90@95 per cent purity, $5.75@7.00.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—COTTON—Gray goods sold in moderate amounts at steady prices today, chiefly for near-by delivery. Finished cottons were in good demand. Raw silks were unchanged. Silk fabrics were moving well in higher priced ranges. Wool goods mills were shipping actively on existing contracts, but new business has been slowed by unseasonably warm weather. Burlaps were quiet.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES, SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS, SOUTHERN DIVISION.

NOTICE

To all creditors and stockholders of

ST. LOUIS GAS & COKE CORPORATION:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that on November 1, 1935, Utilities Power & Light Corporation filed its proposals for changes and modifications in the Amended Plan of Reorganization dated June 1, 1935, of the above Debtor, and that an order was entered by his honor, Judge J. Earl Major, on November 2, 1935, providing for a hearing on November 18, 1935, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., at Springfield, Illinois, at which hearing all creditors and stockholders of Debtor are required to show cause why said Amended Plan shall not be changed and modified as proposed, and why said changes and modifications shall not be adjudged to be not materially adverse to the interests of any creditor or stockholder of Debtor Corporation. Any returns to the above order to show cause shall be in writing and filed with the Clerk of the Court and with the Debtor not later than five days prior to November 18, 1935.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that all creditors and stockholders of the Debtor are further required to show cause at said hearing why the Court should not find the Amended Plan with its changes and modifications as proposed by Utilities Power & Light Corporation, to be fair and equitable and in compliance with Section 77B, and confirm said Amended Plan as so changed and modified upon filing of the acceptance required by Section 77B. All objections heretofore filed to said Amended Plan will stand (so far as applicable and insofar as they may be amended) as objections to said Amended Plan as so changed and modified, and all creditors and stockholders having objections to said Amended Plan as so changed and modified shall file said objections in writing with the Clerk of the Court and the Debtor not later than five days after the date fixed for the aforesaid hearing.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that by order entered November 6, 1935, the following was provided for:

For the purposes of these proceedings and of any plan of reorganization that may in these proceedings be proposed and the acceptance thereof, creditors and stockholders of the Debtor were divided into classes according to the nature of their respective claims and interests, (no priority being indicated by the order of listing), as follows:

A—CLASSIFICATION OF CREDITORS

CLASS I. Prior claims:

(a) Expenses of administration incurred in the receivership proceedings in the United States District Court, expenses of administration and reorganization in the above entitled proceeding in bankruptcy (including reasonable compensation for services rendered and reimbursement for the actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection with this proceeding and the Plan, by officers, parties in interest, depositaries, reorganization managers, and committees or other representatives of creditors or stockholders, and the attorneys or agents of any of the foregoing and of the Debtor; the cost of printing, mailing, and securing deposits under any plan which shall be confirmed, the cost of organizing the Generating Company and Iron Company as specified in said Plan, issuing securities thereof and paying taxes thereon, etc.; and Receiver's Certificate and other obligations incurred by the Receiver and the Trustee of Debtor), when and as said expenses and obligations are finally established and allowed by the Court:

(b) Claims for taxes due the United States, the State of Illinois, and local taxing bodies.

CLASS II. Claims of secured creditors, including holders of First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, 6% Series, due 1947.

B—CLASSIFICATION OF STOCKHOLDERS

CLASS II. Common stockholders.

The order of Court requires that all creditors and stockholders having objections to the foregoing classification of creditors and stockholders shall file their objections in writing with the Clerk of the Court and the Debtor not later than five days prior to the date of the aforesaid hearing on November 18, 1935, at which hearing such objections will be considered.

Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time without further notice by publication, mailing, or otherwise, unless the Court shall otherwise order.

Dated November 7, 1935.

ST. LOUIS GAS & COKE CORPORATION, Granite City, Illinois.

EX-SERVICE MEN

Are the ones entitled to this position and they are going to have preference. Others are making really exceptional money on our special percentage and bonus plan. But we are particularly careful about the type of men we employ to sell our electric unit. We have found that some of our most successful men are those who served Uncle Sam in the late war. Therefore we want more men of that fine calibre. Apply 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

R. 430, 308 N. Michigan

THIS OPPORTUNITY.

Because of the phenomenal acceptance of new electrical unit in Chicago we have just opened a west side branch and will interview men Thursday for the following positions:

LEGAL NOTICES.

ALL 230 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE BUILDING CORPORATION SIX PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE BUILDING AND LEASEHOLD GOLD BONDS [COMMONLY KNOWN AS CARBIDE AND CARBON BUILDING BONDS].

NOTICE has been duly given that, in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 of Article V of the Indenture of mortgage or trust deed made as of the fifteenth day of May, 1928, by 230 North Michigan Avenue Building Corporation to The Bank of America [now Central Republic Trust Company], as Trustee, securing the payment of the principal of and interest on the Six Per Cent First Mortgage Building and Leasehold Gold Bonds issued by said 230 North Michigan Avenue Building Corporation under date of the fifteenth day of May, 1928, the assign of said 230 North Michigan Avenue Building Corporation and owner of the leasehold estate and all other interests and property conveyed and mortgaged by said Indenture to said Trustee to secure the payment of the principal of and interest on said Bonds, has duly elected to prepay and redeem on January 1, 1936, all of the unmatured said Bonds then outstanding, aggregating in principal amount $2,965,000, and being Bonds Nos. 1395 to 5410, both numbers inclusive, by paying in cash the principal thereof at par and all accrued interest thereon due at the date of such payment, together with a premium of one per cent upon the principal of said Bonds so prepaid and redeemed, all of said Bonds to cease to bear interest January 1, 1936.

Said Bonds may be presented for payment on or after January 1, 1936, to Greenebaum Sons Investment Company at No. 11 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, as provided in the said Indenture of mortgage or trust deed, or, at the option of the holder of any of said Bonds, to City National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago at No. 208 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, and must be accompanied by the interest coupons maturing July 1, 1936, and all subsequent interest coupons. The interest coupons maturing January 1, 1936, should be detached and presented in the usual manner, accompanied by all necessary ownership certificates required by the Federal Income Tax Law and Regulations. Registered Bonds must be accompanied by proper instruments of transfer.

Dated November 1, 1935.
